Economy Fantu Cheru, Christopher Cramer, Arkebe Oqubay, 2019-01-10 From a war torn and famine plagued country at the beginning of the 1990s Ethiopia is today emerging as one of the fastest growing economies in Africa Growth in Ethiopia has surpassed that of every other sub Saharan country over the past decade and is forecast by the International Monetary Fund to exceed 8 percent over the next two years The government has set its eyes on transforming the country into a middle income country by 2025 and into a leading manufacturing hub in Africa The Oxford Handbook of the Ethiopian Economy studies this country s unique model of development where the state plays a central role and where a successful industrialization drive has challenged the long held erroneous assumption that industrial policy will never work in poor African countries While much of the volume is focused on post 1991 economic development policy and strategy the analysis is set against the background of the long history of Ethiopia and more specifically on the Imperial period that ended in 1974 the socialist development experiment of the Derg regime between 1974 and 1991 and the policies and strategies of the current EPRDF government that assumed power in 1991 Including a range of contributions from both academic and professional standpoints this volume is a key reference work on the economy of Ethiopia      Socially Responsible Outsourcing Brian Nicholson,Ron Babin,Mary C. Lacity,2017-07-15 Socially Responsible Outsourcing is an edited collection that focus on the topic of socially responsible outsourcing SRO including research frameworks rich case studies and an SRO agenda for the future      Enabling legal frameworks for sustainable land-use investments in Tanzania: Legal assessment report Robert Kibugi,D. Andrew Wardell,Marie-Claire Cordonier Segger,Caroline Haywood,Renée Gift,2015-10-08 The International Development Law Organization IDLO and the Center for International Forestry Research CIFOR assessed the legal frameworks that govern land use activities and investments in Tanzania The policy institutional and legal frameworks are well developed although implementation and enforcement remains weak due to ambiguities in the law and a general lack of supportive incentives This Legal Assessment report for Tanzania examines four key challenges to the attainment of sustainable land use investments These comprise Enforcement of environmental and social safeguards Tanzania has made progress in implementing the Environmental Management Act by ensuring greater compliance with the Environmental Impact Assessment regulations although exceptions exist in the construction sector and mining legislation that often enables the government to circumvent important land tenure safeguards Incentives for sustainable investments in the legal framework A lack of incentives exists despite the creation of the Tanzania Investment Centre the adoption of an Investment Guide in 2013 and the incorporation of sustainability considerations into laws and policies governing investments in the agriculture energy and forestry and mining sectors Land tenure security Tanzania s land law framework now includes formal recognition of customary title and the reservation of land under the category of village land exclusively for Tanzanians although improvements are still needed in terms of processes of consultation and compensation Public awareness and lack of access to information Awareness of natural resources and investment policies legislation and regulations is generally low amongst rural communities as well as Ward executive officers village leaders and village land committee members Rural radio represents their most important source of information      SADC Gender Protocol 2014 Barometer Morna, Colleen Lowe,Dube, Sifiso,2014-10-25 In August 2008 Heads of State of the Southern African Development Community adopted the ground breaking SADC Protocol on Gender and Development This followed a concerted campaign by NGOs under the umbrella of the Southern Africa Gender Protocol Alliance By the 2013 Heads of State summit 13 countries had signed and 12 countries had ratified the SADC Gender Protocol The Protocol is now in force With one year to go time is ticking to 2015 when governments need to have achieved 28 targets for the attainment of gender equality In keeping with the Alliance slogan Yes we must this 2014 Barometer provides a wealth of updated data against which progress will be measure by all those who cherish democracy in the region The world and SADC is also looking to the future with the post 2015 agenda Now is the time to strengthen resolve reconsider reposition and re strategise for 2030      Hypocrisy and Human Rights Kate Cronin-Furman,2022-11-15 Hypocrisy and Human Rights examines what human rights pressure does when it does not work Repressive states with absolutely no intention of complying with their human rights obligations often change course dramatically in response to international pressure They create toothless commissions permit but then obstruct international observers visits and pass showpiece legislation while simultaneously bolstering their repressive capacity Covering debates over transitional justice in Sri Lanka Myanmar Cambodia Democratic Republic of the Congo and other countries Kate Cronin Furman investigates the diverse ways in which repressive states respond to calls for justice from human rights advocates UN officials and Western governments who add their voices to the victims of mass atrocities to demand accountability She argues that although international pressure cannot elicit compliance in the absence of domestic motivations to comply the complexity of the international system means that there are multiple audiences for both human rights behavior and advocacy and that pressure can produce valuable results through indirect paths      Annual Budget Monitoring Report Uganda. OECD Investment Policy Reviews ,2014 This publication presents the OECD s comprehensive review of investment policy in Botswana After an overview of the country the review examines investment policy investment promotion and facilitation as well as infrastructure The OECD Investment Policy Review of Botswana is one of five reviews carried out in member states of the Southern African Development Community SADC on the basis of the OECD Policy Framework for Investment PFI The Review is the result of a self assessment undertaken by a national task force composed of government agencies the private sector and civil society established by the government of Botswana and headed by the Ministry of Trade and Industry MTI Starting in the late 1990s Botswana has made concerted efforts to attract FDI into export oriented manufacturing and services The government has been closely engaged in improving the business climate for both foreign and domestic investors Channels for public private dialogue on investment policy could be rendered more efficient A labour force with specific and specialised skills will also be crucial in order to diversify the economy away from mining and attract investment into the services sectors

Ministry of Defence Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Committee of Public Accounts, 2012-05-25 The Ministry of Defence announced in the summer of 2010 that it had a funding gap of 38 billion over the next ten years As part of the Government s efforts to reduce the deficit the Department also needs to reduce its annual spending by 7.5% in real terms by 2015 It intends to achieve a significant proportion of its required savings by reducing its civilian personnel by 29 000 and its military personnel by 25 000 which it estimates will save 4.1 billion between 2011 and 2015 The Department is currently enacting a transformation programme to change its way of working in order to deliver on the Strategic Defence and Security Review priorities with fewer staff However the Department has put plans in place to implement reductions in its workforce before it has finalised its new operating model The operating model will set out how the Department will meet its objectives in the future but its reductions in workforce will be well advanced before the model is agreed There is concern that plans to reduce the workforce have been determined more by the need to cut costs than by considering how to deliver its strategic objectives and that there is a risk of further skills gaps developing This could make the Department increasingly reliant on external expertise with consultancy expenditure having already grown from 6 million in 2006 07 to 270 million in 2010 11

Gender Responsive Budgeting in Fragile States Monica Costa, 2017-08-16 A growing number of governments have made commitments to achieving gender equality and women's rights with many using gender responsive budgeting GRB to allocate resources for the delivery of economic policy and governance that benefit men and women equally At a time when GRB is growing in global traction this book investigates what it can deliver for gender equality and state resilience in contexts where the state is weak or prone to violence such as in Timor Leste Gender Responsive Budgeting in Fragile States The Case of Timor Leste uses the Timor Leste case to investigate whether gender equality reform can be adopted at the same time as establishing economic and institutional fundamentals While some may have thought that the adoption of GRB strategy in 2008 was premature Monica Costa argues that GRB initiatives have contributed to budget accountability and transparency and ultimately improved policy and budget processes and decisions This multi disciplinary analysis of a decade of GRB demonstrates why GRB is important to inform the debate on state fragility resilience and argues that fragile states cannot defer gender equality in the name of getting the economic and institutional basics right While a growing number of fragile states have taken steps to make their budget more gender responsive questions remain for economists and policy makers about what can be achieved and how Gender Responsive Budgeting in Fragile States is the first international publication on GRB in fragile state contexts and will be of interest to researchers upper level students policy makers and NGOs with an interest in policy economics gender and development

Cost reduction in central government Great Britain: National Audit Office, 2012-02-02 This report by the National Audit Office on progress by central government departments in reducing costs concludes that departments took effective action in 2010 11 cutting spending in real terms by 2 3 per cent or 7 9 billion compared with 2009 10 The analysis of departments accounts supports the Efficiency and Reform Group's estimate that Government spending moratoria and efficiency initiatives including cuts to back office and avoidable costs contributed around half of the figure some 3 75 billion However the report warns that departments are less well placed to make the long term changes needed to achieve the further 19 per cent over the four years to 2014 15 as required by the spending review This is partly because of gaps in their understanding of costs and risks making it more difficult to identify how to deliver activities and services at a permanently lower cost Fundamental changes will be needed to achieve sustainable reductions on the scale required It is unclear how far spending reductions represent year on year changes in efficiency or whether front line services are affected and the departments forward plans examined by the NAO are not based on a strategic view Departments financial data on basic spending patterns is sufficient to manage budgets in year but information about the consequences of changes in spending is less good Longer term reform is a Cabinet Office priority and departments will need to look beyond short term cost cutting measures and make major operational change Cost reduction plans also need to build in contingency measures to cover unexpected risks

Industrial Policy and the Transformation of the Colonial Economy in Africa Horman Chitonge,2021-02-15 Industrial Policy and the Transformation of the Colonial Economy in Africa offers an in depth analysis of the role industrial policy can play in the transformation of African economies Using examples from Zambia s industrial development experience this book illustrates that core features of the colonial economy have not just survived six decades of independence in most African countries but they have continued to shape the nature scope and pace of economic activities on the continent The book argues that since the colonial economy in Africa was not intended to serve the interests of Africans it is imperative that the structures and the underlying rationale of the colonial economy are radically reoriented if economic activities in Africa are to benefit the majority of Africans Drawing from the Zambian experience the book shows that the transformation of the colonial economy in Africa is urgently needed Whilst this has proved to be difficult over the past six decades it can be done The book outlines a specific type of industrial policy Frontier Industrial Policy as a key instrument for transforming the structure of African economies At a time when economic growth across Africa is under considerable pressure due to COVID 19 the insights in this book will be of interest to researchers across Economics Development

Postcolonial Studies and African Studies Class Dynamics of Development Jonathan Pattenden,Liam Campling,Satoshi Miyamura,Benjamin Selwyn,2018-12-07 This book argues that class relations are constitutive of development processes and central to understanding inequality within and between countries It does so via a transdisciplinary approach that draws on case studies from Asia Latin America and sub Saharan Africa Contributors illustrate and explain the diversity of forms of class relations and the ways in which they interplay with other social relations of dominance and subordination such as gender and ethnicity as part of a wider project to revitalise class analysis in the study of development problems and experiences Class is conceived as arising out of exploitative social relations of production but is formulated through and expressed by multiple determinations By illuminating the diversity of social formations this book illustrates the depth and complexity present in Marx s method This book was originally published as a special issue of Third World Quarterly
