W. B. Brockliss, 2016-04-15 This fresh and readable account gives a complete history of the University of Oxford from its beginnings in the eleventh century to the present day Written by one of the leading authorities on the history of universities internationally it traces Oxford s improbable rise from provincial backwater to one of the world s leading centres of research and teaching Laurence Brockliss sees Oxford's history as one of discontinuity as much as continuity describing it in four distinct parts First he explores Oxford as The Catholic University in the centuries before the Reformation when it was principally a clerical studium serving the needs of the Western church Then as The Anglican University in the years from 1534 to 1845 when Oxford was confessionally closed to other religions it trained the next generation of ministers of the Church of England and acted as a finishing school for the sons of the gentry and the well to do After 1845 The Imperial University saw the emergence over the following century of a new Oxford a university which was still elitist but now non-confessional became open to women as well as men took students from all round the Empire and was held together at least until 1914 by a novel concept of Christian service The final part The World University takes the story forward from 1945 to the present day and describes Oxford's development as a modern meritocratic and secular university with an ever growing commitment to high quality academic research Throughout the book Oxford's history is placed in the wider context of the history of higher education in the UK Europe and the world This helps to show how singular Oxford's evolution has been a story not of entitlement but of hard work difficult decisions and a creative use of limited resources and advantages to keep its destiny in its own hands

New Practices of Comparison, Quantification and Expertise in Education Christina Elde Mølstad, Daniel Pettersson, 2019-03-29 New Practices of Comparison Quantification and Expertise in Education discusses contemporary trends and activities related to comparisons and quantifications It aims to help scholars to conduct empirically based research on how comparisons and quantifications are instituted in practice at different levels in the educational system The book furthers discussions on policy by looking at the kinds of activities that comparisons and quantifications lead to at an international regional and national level Most of the book's chapters are based on empirical research conducted in different research projects The book thus brings all these projects together and discusses them as activities promoted by the reasoning of comparisons and quantifications New Practices of Comparison Quantification and Expertise in Education will be of great interest to academics researchers and post graduate students in the fields of comparative education curriculum research and policy studies It will also appeal to those in the fields of teacher education including student teachers

The 2003 UNESCO Intangible Heritage Convention Janet Blake, Lucas Lixinski, 2020-01-22 This book critically analyses the 2003 Convention for the Safeguarding of the Intangible Cultural Heritage UNESCO's latest and ground breaking treaty in the area of cultural heritage protection Intangible cultural heritage is broadly understood as the social processes that inform our living cultures and our social cohesion and identity as communities and peoples On the basis of this conception the Treaty proposes to turn our understanding of how for whom and why heritage is safeguarded on its head by putting communities groups and individuals at the centre of the safeguarding process The commentary written by leading experts in the field from all continents and multiple disciplines provides an authoritative guide to interpreting and implementing not only this Treaty but also its ripple effects on how we think about cultural heritage and our experience with it as a part of our living cultures

This book is of interest to lawyers policy makers anthropologists cultural diplomacy specialists archaeologists cultural heritage studies experts and foremost the people who practice and enact this heritage
