Essential Image Processing and GIS for Remote Sensing Jian Guo Liu, Philippa J. Mason, 2013-04-10 Essential Image Processing and GIS for Remote Sensing is an accessible overview of the subject and successfully draws together these three key areas in a balanced and comprehensive manner The book provides an overview of essential techniques and a selection of key case studies in a variety of application areas Key concepts and ideas are introduced in a clear and logical manner and described through the provision of numerous relevant conceptual illustrations Mathematical detail is kept to a minimum and only referred to where necessary for ease of understanding Such concepts are explained through common sense terms rather than in rigorous mathematical detail when explaining image processing and GIS techniques to enable students to grasp the essentials of a notoriously challenging subject area The book is clearly divided into three parts with the first part introducing essential image processing techniques for remote sensing The second part looks at GIS and begins with an overview of the concepts structures and mechanisms by which GIS operates Finally the third part introduces Remote Sensing Applications Throughout the book the relationships between GIS Image Processing and Remote Sensing are clearly identified to ensure that students are able to apply the various techniques that have been covered appropriately The latter chapters use numerous relevant case studies to illustrate various remote sensing image processing and GIS applications in practice

Eco-hydraulic Modelling of Eutrophication for Reservoir Management Nahm-chung Jung, 2010-05-11 This study presents a systematic approach to water quality assessment hybrid modelling and decision support for eutrophication management in deep reservoirs It is found that during the summer monsoon the catchment runoff into the Yongdam reservoir induces a transfer of pollutants from a middle stratified layer to
