Thief-Taker General Gerald Howson, 1985-01-01 The historical literature of political deviance is sparse This unusual work chronicling the history of Jonathan Wild represents an effort to come to terms with one of the more amazing characters of English social history Wild was both part of the policy system in eighteenth century England and also one of the most adroit criminals of the age In the 1720s London suffered the worst crime waves in its history Civic corruption took place on a staggering scale The government's answer was to pay a bounty for the capture of robbers thus creating a class of professional informers Wild was applauded as the most efficient thief hunter and gang breaker in British society but his own posse of thief catchers was basically a front behind which he was able to control the underground world through a complex system of blackmail perjury and terror which the book details All who opposed him were betrayed to the law and in the struggle for power Wild sacrificed several hundred of his own people to the hangman No one since his time with the exception of Lavrenti Beria of the late Stalin era GPU so nearly succeeded in bringing the underworld under the control of one system of power At one level this is a biography of the world's first supercriminal At another it is a sociology of criminal behavior and its political consequences Howson sheds fresh light not only on a figure who has become famous in literature but more important on the entire structure of gang life The book is written as a terrifying and fascinating study of a historical epoch it also offers a completely fresh picture of the birth of modern organized crime families as part of modern organized political systems

The Thief Taker Janet Gleeson, 2006-09-01 In the cellar there was no sound at all except her own breathing and the soft rustle of her skirts After her eyes had grown accustomed to the dark she noticed a niche in the wall a yard from where she stood She saw something there about the size of her fist Agnes quietly picked it up It was wrapped in a cloth and surprisingly heavy a pistol the hilt filthy with mud and dirt Suddenly she heard the chinking sound of glasses nearby There was no mistaking the voices now Before she had time to call out another door creaked open and the pair emerged from the darkness Agnes Meadows is cook to the Blanchards of Foster Lane the renowned London silversmiths Preparing jugged hare oyster loaves almond soup and other delicacies for the family has given her a dependable life for herself and her son But when the Blanchards most prestigious commission a giant silver wine cooler is stolen and a young apprentice murdered Theodore Blanchard calls on Agnes to investigate below stairs Soon she is inside the sordid underworld of London crime where learning the truth comes at a high price
