VEGETARIAN

Novel Pemenang Man Booker International Prize

"Salah satu novel terbaik yang saya baca.
Novel ini sebenarnya tidak bicara banyak mengenai vegetarianisme.
Lebih serupa novel yang mengejutkan, tapi menyikkan."

Vegetarian ,2002 Consuming Culture in the Long Nineteenth Century Tamara S. Wagner,Narin Hassan,2010-01-01

Consuming Culture in the Long Nineteenth Century brings together detailed analyses of the cultural myths or fictions of consumption that have shaped discourse on consumer practices from the eighteenth century onward The chapters provide an excitingly diverse range of perspectives including musicology philosophy history art history and cultural and post colonial studies as well as the study of literature in English French and German The broad scope of this collection will engage audiences both inside and outside academia interested in the politics of food and consumption in eighteenth and nineteenth century culture Book jacket Table Lands Kara K. Keeling,Scott T. Pollard,2020-06-04 Food is a signifier of power for both adults and children a sign of both inclusion and exclusion and of conformity and resistance Many academic disciplines from sociology to literary studies have studied food and its function as a complex social discourse and the wide variety of approaches to the topic provides multidisciplinary frames for understanding the construction and uses of food in all types of media including children s literature Table Lands Food in Children s Literature is a survey of food s function in children s texts showing how the sociocultural contexts of food reveal children s agency Authors Kara K Keeling and Scott T Pollard examine texts that vary from historical to contemporary noncanonical to classics and Anglo American to multicultural traditions including a variety of genres formats and audiences realism fantasy cookbooks picture books chapter books YA novels and film Table Lands offers a unified approach to studying food in a wide variety of texts for children Spanning nearly 150 years of children s literature Keeling and Pollard s analysis covers a selection of texts that show the omnipresence of food in children s literature and culture and how they vary in representations of race region and class due to the impact of these issues on food Furthermore they include not only classic children s books such as Winnie the Pooh but recent award winning multicultural novels as well as cookbooks and even one film Pixar s Ratatouille

The Food Plot in the Nineteenth-Century British Novel Michael Parrish Lee,2016-12-21 This book is about food eating and appetite in the nineteenth century British novel While much novel criticism has focused on the marriage plot this book revises the history and theory of the novel uncovering the food plot against which the marriage plot and modern subjectivity take shape With the emergence of Malthusian population theory and its unsettling links between sexuality and the food supply the British novel became animated by the tension between the marriage plot and the food plot Charting the shifting relationship between these plots from Jane Austen s polite meals to Bram Stoker s bloodthirsty vampires this book sheds new light on some of the best know works of nineteenth century literature and pushes forward understandings of narrative literary character biopolitics and the novel as a form From Austen to Zombies Michael Parrish Lee explores how the food plot conflicts with the marriage plot in nineteenth century literature and beyond and how appetite keeps rising up against taste and intellect Lee s book will be of interest to Victorianists genre theorists Food Studies and theorists of bare life and biopolitics Regenia Gagnier Professor of English University of Exeter In The Food Plot Michael Lee engages recent and classic scholarship and brings fresh and provocative readings to well worked literary critical ground Drawing upon narrative theory character study theories of sexuality and political economy Professor Lee develops a refreshing and satisfyingly deep new reading of canonical novels as he develops the concept of the food plot The Food Plot should be of interest to specialists in the novel and food studies as well as students and general readers Professor April Bullock California State University Fullerton USA

Rethinking the Age of Reform Arthur Burns,Joanna Innes,2003-11-13 This book takes a look at the age of reform from 1780 when reform became a common object of aspiration to the 1830s the era of the Reform Ministry and of the Great Reform Act of 1832 and beyond when such aspirations were realized more frequently It pays close attention to what contemporaries termed reform identifying two strands institutional and moral which interacted in complex ways Particular reforming initiatives singled out for attention include those targeting parliament government the law the Church medicine slavery regimens of self care opera theatre and art institutions while later chapters situate British reform in its imperial and European contexts An extended introduction provides a point of entry to the history and historiography of the period The book will therefore stimulate fresh thinking about this formative period of British history

The birds, wild flowers, ferns, mosses & grasses of North Wales Darlington and co,1895 Body and Text: Cultural Transformations in New

Media Environments David Callahan, Anthony Barker, 2019-08-10 This book presents a collection of academic essays that take a fresh look at content and body transformation in the new media highlighting how old hierarchies and canons of analysis must be revised The movement of narratives and characterisations across forms conventionally understood as adaptation has commonly involved high status classical forms drama epic novel being transformed into recorded and broadcast media film radio and television or from the older recorded media to the newer ones The advent of convergent digital platforms has further transformed hierarchies and the formation of global conglomerates has created the commercial conditions for ever more lucrative exchanges between different media Now source texts can move in any direction and take up any configuration as emerging interacting fan bases drive innovation and new creative and commercial possibilities are deployed Moreover transformation may be not just a technology driven creative practice and response but at the very centre of the thematic worlds developed in those forms of story telling which are currently popular television series video games films and novels The magic transformation of your money into their money is paralleled in contemporary media and culture by the centrality of transformation of one product to another as a media industry practice as well as the transformation of bodies as a major theme both in the ensuing media products and in people's identity practices in daily life The Vegan Studies Project Laura Wright, 2015 Ranging widely across contemporary American society and culture Wright unpacks the loaded category of vegan identity Her specific focus is on the construction and depiction of the vegan body both male and female as a contested site manifest in contemporary works of literature popular cultural representations advertising and new media Radical Botany Natania Meeker, Antónia Szabari, 2019-12-03 Succeeds beautifully in discovering and entwining an entire tradition of speculative botany that will reshape plant studies and posthumanist theory Stacy Alaimo author of Exposed Environmental Politics and Pleasures in Posthuman Times Science Fiction Technoculture Studies Book Prize Winner Radical Botany excavates a tradition in which plants participate in the effort to imagine new worlds and envision new futures Modernity the book claims is defined by the idea of all life as vegetal Meeker and Szabari argue that the recognition of plants liveliness and animation as a result of scientific discoveries from the seventeenth century to today has mobilized speculative creation in fiction cinema and art Plants complement and challenge notions of human life Radical Botany traces the implications of the speculative mobilization of plants for feminism queer studies and posthumanist thought If as Michael Foucault has argued the notion of the human was born at a particular historical moment and is now nearing its end Radical Botany reveals that this origin and endpoint are deeply informed by vegetality as a form of pre and posthuman subjectivity The trajectory of speculative fiction which this book traces offers insights into the human relationship to animate matter and the technological mediations through which we enter into contact with the material world Plants profoundly shape human experience from early modern absolutist societies to late capitalism's manipulations of life and the onset of climate change and attendant mass extinction A major intervention in critical plant studies Radical Botany reveals the centuries long history by which science and the arts have combined to posit plants as the model for all animate life and thereby envision a different future for the cosmos      Plants in Science Fiction Katherine E. Bishop, David Higgins, Jerry Määttä, 2020-05-01 This is the first volume of its kind Plants in Science Fiction shows how considerations of plant life in SF can transform our understanding of institutions and boundaries erecting and dismantling new visions of utopian and dystopian futures Its original essays argue that plant life in SF is transforming our attitudes toward morality politics economics and cultural life

Environmental Postcolonialism Shubhanku Kochar, Anjum Khan, 2021-02-08 A 2022 Choice Reviews Outstanding Academic Title Environmental Postcolonialism A Literary Response is an academic investigation of the environmental repercussions of colonial destruction This volume addresses the complex interplay between postcolonialism and environmental discourse through literature produced in the ex colonies This literature is read from the standpoint of ex colonies within their human and non human context The primary objective of this volume is to scrutinize environmental concerns in the light of postcolonial theory and so it examines works of art from the twin perspective of eco criticism and postcolonialism which illuminates and underscores how colonizers destroyed and interfered with both nature and culture Through discussing the intersecting layers of ecocriticism and postcolonial criticism the volume gestures to new directions and generates a hopeful vision of a decolonized world
