Beyond Safety Emily Johansen, 2021-09-09 Beyond Safety argues that concerns about the ethical impossibility of individual safety in the face of risks with increasingly obvious global consequences alters representations of neoliberal contemporary life As the climate crises in the Caribbean and Australia ongoing European refugee and American border crises and most recently anxieties about Coronavirus illustrate contemporary life is characterized by global connections that produce and reflect precarious outcomes and dangers The ability to ignore risk or shift it to others underscores the fact that it is mitigable for particular segments of society while inescapable for others Emily Johansen investigates depictions of global danger and safety in contemporary transnational fictional and popular texts those characterized by a narrative or representational emphasis on border crossing and global interdependences She demonstrates how these texts use risk to question and re imagine the norms and practices of contemporary global citizenship Beyond Safety thus brings together three of the central keywords of contemporary literary criticism of the last ten years cosmopolitanism precarity neoliberalism and shows how their intersection allows for a fuller conception of contemporary life and imagines a new global future

Futuristic Cars and Space Bicycles Jeremy Withers, 2020 Examining representations of cars and bicycles in American science fiction from the late nineteenth century to the present day Futuristic Cars and Space Bicycles argues that science fiction by and large perceives the car as anything but a marvelous invention of modernity Rather the genre often scorns and ridicules the automobile and instead promotes more sustainable more benign more restrained technologies of movement such as the bicycle      Climate Change in Popular Culture James Craig Holte, 2022-06-17 An invaluable resource for general readers investigating climate change this book examines the impact of climate change on popular culture and analyzes how writers and directors treat the disasters caused by climate change in their novels and films Climate Change in Popular Culture A Warming World in the American Imagination is the first study that includes analyses of both fiction and popular nonfiction works devoted to climate change In addition the book examines a number of classic works from the perspective of the growing field of climate change literature and includes a brief history of climate change science as well basic scientific definitions all intended for general readers The text provides an introduction to the science politics and economics of climate change It also includes both historical overviews and potential probable futures projected by leading climate scientists and environmental writers In addition the text looks at how such creative writers and directors as Margaret Atwood John Steinbeck Paulo Bacigalupi Kim Stanley Robinson T C Boyle Michael Crichton and Octavia Butler among others have used the disasters caused by climate change in their work      Posthuman Southeast Asia Ignasi Ribó, 2024-12-15 Posthuman Southeast Asia Ecocritical Entanglements Across Species Boundaries explores the posthuman in Southeast Asia from various ecocritical perspectives and encourages further and deeper entanglements between ecocritics and the bountiful but also threatened multispecies ecologies of this region Southeast Asia is an area where humans and nonhumans have always been deeply entangled from the indigenous and ancient traditions of animism to the variegated and blooming creativity of contemporary literature art music drama film and other media This book expands and enriches Southeast Asian ecocritical scholarship by incorporating posthumanist and new materialist perspectives Across twelve chapters this volume explicitly engages with Southeast Asian texts cultural practices and environmental issues from the broadly conceived theoretical framework of posthuman ecocriticism They provide a uniquely inflected perspective on the literary multimedia and artistic dimensions of contemporary nature cultures in Southeast Asia as part of a concerted effort to disclose the complex entanglements of humans and nonhumans across the region      Understanding Public Debates Jens Martin Gurr, 2024-06-20 By historicizing and contextualizing them through readings of carefully selected literary texts literary studies can contribute to understanding and rationalizing key debates waged in many pluralist societies today whether on different conceptions of liberty identity politics historical commemoration challenges of globalization or responses to climate change Understanding Public Debates presents case studies including Milton's Paradise Lost P B Shelley's 1820 Reform essay Philip Roth's The Human Stain the songwriting of Neil Young and Edward Young's 1720s Sea Odes recent climate fiction as well as non literary conflict narratives Rather than mining texts for arguments for or against certain positions this book is interested in how texts stage these debates by means of multiple perspectives narrative situations or ambiguities By suggesting how educators might use literary texts as conversation starters for more rational debates the volume also contributes to Public Literary Studies Three important fields are here brought together 1 the study of societal debates and conflicts and the ways in which they challenge pluralist societies 2 explorations of the societal functions of literature and of non literary narratives and 3 discussions of the role and functions of literary studies The book ends with ten crisp theses on how literary studies can contribute to understanding and rationalizing such conflictive debates

Climate Change Fiction and Ecocultural Crisis Tatiana Konrad,2024-09-24 Concentrating on a powerful emerging genre Tatiana Konrad s Climate Change Fiction and Ecocultural Crisis provides a survey of popular narratives that further our understanding of climate change in contemporary fiction Konrad advocates for the expansion and redefinition of the cli fi genre and argues that industrial fiction from the nineteenth century is the first example of climate change fiction Tracing the ways through which cli fi outlines a history of our modern ecocultural crisis this book demonstrates how the genre employs four major thematic clusters to achieve this narrative weather science religion and place Focusing on a diverse range of issues including fossil fuels cheap energy the intricacies of human more than human relationships and postcolonial geographies Konrad illustrates how cli fi transcends mere storytelling The genre ultimately emerges as an important means to forecast imagine and contemplate climatic events The book invites a broadening of the environmental humanities discourse asking readers not only to deepen their understanding of the current climate crisis but also to consider how cli fi culture can be viewed as an effective method to address climate change

Anthropocene Ecologies of Food Simon C. Estok,S. Susan Deborah,Rayson K. Alex,2022-06-22 Anthropocene Ecologies of Food provides a detailed exploration of cross cultural aspects of food production culinary practices and their ecological underpinning in culture The authors draw connections between humans and the entire process of global food production focusing on the broad implications these processes have within the geographical and cultural context of India Each chapter analyzes and critiques existing agricultural food practices and representations of aspects of food through various media such as film literature and new media as they relate to global issues generally and Indian contexts specifically correcting the omission of analyses focused on the Global South in virtually all of the work that has been done on Anthropocene ecologies of food This unique volume employs an ecocritical framework that connects food with the land in physical and virtual communities and the book as a whole interrogates the meanings and implications of the Anthropocene itself

Teaching Climate Change in the Humanities Stephen Siperstein,Shane Hall,Stephanie LeMenager,2016-10-04 Climate change is an enormous and increasingly urgent issue This important book highlights how humanities disciplines can mobilize the creative and critical power of students teachers and communities to confront climate change The book is divided into four clear sections to help readers integrate climate change into the classes and topics they are already teaching as well as engage with interdisciplinary methods and techniques Teaching Climate Change in the Humanities constitutes a map and toolkit for anyone who wishes to draw upon the strengths of literary and cultural studies to teach valuable lessons that engage with climate change

Estok, Iping Liang, Shinji Iwamasa, 2021-03-28 Mushroom Clouds Ecocritical Approaches to Militarization and the Environment in East Asia examines the growing significance of the eco implications of the increasing militarism of East Asia As a transcultural image and metaphor mushroom clouds signify anthropogenic violence and destruction as exemplified by wars and nuclear bombings Immediately evoking memories of Hiroshima and Nagasaki the mushroom clouds metaphor has deep roots and implications in East Asia and this volume explores these roots and implications from the perspectives of a variety of scholars and artists from different parts of East Asia The chapters that comprise Mushroom Clouds respond to the increasingly dangerous developments in the world that led up to and have occurred since the 2016 presidential election of Donald Trump developments that threaten the stability of the region and the world In the wake of the 70th anniversary of the division of Korea increasing attention has been focused on the legacy of the Cold War on the one hand and on the continuing militarization of East Asia on the other After the nuclear bombings in Hiroshima and Nagasaki after the truce across the 38th parallel after the shelling of Kinmen and Matsu East Asia became and remains one of the most densely militarized regions in the world Under the shadow of war however the concern about environmental impacts has been growing not only in social discourse but also in literature and the visual arts The first of its kind Mushroom Clouds gathers ecocritics from East Asia to examine issues such as militarization militarized islands military tourism military villages post war environments nuclear accidents and the demilitarized zone DMZ wildlife among others in East Asia

(Eco)Anxiety in Nuclear Holocaust Fiction and Climate

Fiction Dominika Oramus, 2023-07-07 Eco Anxiety in Nuclear Holocaust Fiction and Climate Fiction Doomsday Clock Narratives demonstrates that disaster fiction nuclear holocaust and climate change alike allows us to unearth and anatomise contemporary psychodynamics and enables us to identify pretraumatic stress as the common denominator of seemingly unrelated types of texts These Doomsday Clock Narratives argue that earth's demise is soon and certain They are set after some catastrophe and depict people waiting for an even worse catastrophe to come References to geology are particularly important in descriptions of the landscape the emphasis falls on waste and industrial bric a brac which is seen through the eyes of a future posthuman archaeologist Their protagonists have the uncanny feeling that the countdown has already started and they are coping with both traumatic memories and pretraumatic stress Readings of novels by Walter M Miller Nevil Shute John Christopher J G Ballard George Turner Maggie Gee Paolo Bacigalupi Ruth Ozeki and Yoko Tawada demonstrate that the authors are both indebted to a century old tradition and inventively looking for new ways of expressing the pretraumatic stress syndrome common in contemporary society This book is written for an academic audience postgraduates researchers and academics specialising in British Literature American Literature and Science Fiction Studies

Wild Anthropocene Louise Economides, 2025-04-17 Wild Anthropocene examines four key areas the politics of deep time neoliberalism's socio ecological impacts global population growth and inter species entanglement to demonstrate how literature illuminates progressive solutions to Anthropocene challenges The book argues that technological mitigation of contemporary environmental crises must be complimented by a politics committed to multispecies justice Central to this new politics is the project of reimagining our relationship with time as something other than its status within capitalist praxis The book brings together poetry and fiction written by a diverse range of writers to demonstrate how contemporary literature addresses important connections between social oppression and environmental issues It also critiques techno managerial visions of the future that celebrate humanity's ever growing control over ecosystems by examining multiple sources of wildness temporal environmental and technological that expose the problematic ideology underwriting such aspirations

Readers will be introduced to a way of understanding the Anthropocene that while being informed by recent discoveries in earth science and evolutionary biology also makes a strong case for humanities based understanding of environmental politics This interdisciplinary text will be a useful addition to theoretical discussions on the Anthropocene for scholars researchers and students in the environmental humanities literary studies ecocriticism and environmental philosophy
