Cassidy, 1997 One of the principal characteristics of contemporary inquiry is the rediscovery of human consciousness This book attempts to develop that experience and continue the insight of the legendary Hermes Trismegistos that thought is God the Father The author invites the reader to attend to his own act of thinking This exercise in thinking passes beyond itself into a form of mysticism but the effort remains to present this as strictly philosophical and thus to anticipate treat fairly and respond adequately to some of the more obvious difficulties which such a position entails The intention is to dialogue to reason together to bring some light to bear and to help restore our human confidence in the most precious power that we possess our own minds Thinking with Feeling Douglas P.

Newton, 2014-03-05 Are emotions good or bad for thinking and learning Have you ever wondered why a good lesson of one year falls flat in another Why do students behave the way they do Teachers are expected to foster productive thought yet the neglect of emotion in the classroom in favour of intellect means teaching and learning is often not as effective as it might be Thinking with Feeling explores what we mean by productive thought its interrelationship with mood and emotions how teachers can manage that interaction to improve teaching and learning and what teacher trainers could do about it Synthesising the most important international research in the field it offers a framework for productive purposeful thought deduction understanding creative thinking wise thinking and critical thinking and explains how mood and emotion can support and also impede learning It considers the effect of the interplay of emotion and intellect on classroom behaviour on students public performance and performance in tests and how emotional labour can affect the teacher Illustrated with examples from practice this challenging thoughtful study offers education professionals a basis for understanding the interaction of emotions and cognition and making it a successful partnership in order to improve teaching and learning
