Novels of Everyday Life Laurie Langbauer, 2019-05-15 Laurie Langbauer argues that our worldview is shaped not just by great public events but also by the most overlooked and familiar aspects of common life the everyday This sphere of the everyday has always been a crucial component of the novel but has been ignored by many writers and critics and long associated with the writing of women Focusing on the linked series of novels characteristic of later Victorian and early modern fiction such as Margaret Oliphant's Carlingford Chronicles or the Sherlock Holmes stories she investigates how authors make use of the everyday as a foundation to support their versions of realism What happens when in the series novel or in contemporary theory the everyday becomes a site of contestation and debate Langbauer pursues this question through the novels of Margaret Oliphant Charlotte Yonge Anthony Trollope and Arthur Conan Doyle and in the writings of Dorothy Richardson Virginia Woolf and John Galsworthy as they reflect on their Victorian predecessors She also explores accounts of the everyday in the works of such theorists as Henri Lefebvre Michel de Certeau and Sigmund Freud as well as materialist critics including George Lukacs Max Horkheimer and Theodor Adorno Her work shows how these writers link the series and the everyday in ways that reveal different approaches to comprehending the obscurity that makes up daily life

theory: From transformational grammar to constraint-based approaches (Fifth revised edition) Stefan Müller, 2023-01-23 This book introduces formal grammar theories that play a role in current linguistic theorizing Phrase Structure Grammar Transformational Grammar Government Binding Generalized Phrase Structure Grammar Lexical Functional Grammar Categorical Grammar Head Driven Phrase Structure Grammar Construction Grammar Tree Adjoining Grammar The key assumptions are explained and it is shown how the respective theory treats arguments and adjuncts the active passive alternation local reorderings verb placement and fronting of constituents over long distances The analyses are explained with German as the object language The second part of the book compares these approaches with respect to their predictions regarding language acquisition and psycholinguistic plausibility The nativism hypothesis which assumes that humans possess genetically determined innate language specific knowledge is critically examined and alternative models of language acquisition are discussed The second part then addresses controversial issues of current theory building such as the question of flat or binary branching structures being more appropriate the question whether constructions should be treated on the phrasal or the lexical level and the question whether abstract non visible entities should play a role in syntactic analyses It is shown that the analyses suggested in the respective frameworks are often translatable into each other The book closes with a chapter showing how properties common to all languages or to certain classes of languages can be captured The Art of Finding Springs, 2nd Edition Abbé Paramelle, 2019-05-16 Abb Paramelle 1790 1875 published The Art of Finding Springs in 1856 as a how to manual for finding groundwater Paramelle began his field research into springs on a karst plateau in southwestern France Between 1833 and 1854 upon request Paramelle explored 40 of France's departments and found groundwater in 10 000 places based on his observational method which used geology and

The Critic, 1894 Natural Boundary Integral Method and Its Applications De-hao Yu, 2002-09-30 Boundary element methods are very important for solving boundary value problems in PDEs Many boundary value problems of partial differential equations can be reduced into boundary integral equations by the natural boundary reduction In this book the natural boundary integral method suggested and developed by Feng and Yu is introduced systematically It is quite different from popular boundary element methods and has many distinctive advantages The variational principle is conserved after the natural boundary reduction and some useful properties are also preserved faithfully Moreover it can be applied directly and naturally in the coupling method and the domain decomposition method of finite and boundary elements Most of the material in this book has only appeared in the author s previous papers Compared with its Chinese edition Science Press Beijing 1993 many new research results such as the domain decomposition methods based on the natural boundary reduction are added The Theory of Political

O'Leary,1928 In Theory Aijaz Ahmad,2020-05-05 After the Second World War nationalism emerged as the principle expression of resistance to Western imperialism in a variety of regions from the Indian subcontinent to Africa to parts of Latin America and the Pacific Rim With the Bandung Conference and the formation of the Non Aligned Movement many of Europe s former colonies banded together to form a common bloc aligned with neither the advanced capitalist First World nor with the socialist Second World In this historical context the category of Third World literature emerged a category that has itself spawned a whole industry of scholarly and critical studies particularly in the metropolitan West but increasingly in the homelands of the Third World itself Setting himself against the growing tendency to homogenize Third World literature and cultures Aijaz Ahmad has produced a spirited critique of the major theoretical statements on colonial discourse and post colonialism dismantling many of the commonplaces and conceits that dominate contemporary cultural criticism With lengthy considerations of among others Fredric Jameson Edward Said and the Subaltern Studies group In Theory also contains brilliant analyses of the concept of Indian literature of the genealogy of the term Third World and of the conditions under which so called colonial discourse theory emerged in metropolitan intellectual circles Erudite and lucid Ahmad s remapping of the terrain of cultural theory is certain to provoke passionate response The Literary World ,1873 The Crafting of Chaos Hildegard Kuester,2022-06-08 In this study of the Canadian novelist Margaret Laurence recent narratological models provide the theoretical framework for a textual analysis that aims at complementing previous thematic critiques The chief focus is on The Stone Angel and The Diviners which the conclusion then presents in the context of the other novels in Laurence s Manawaka cycle Consideration of the published works is rounded off with genetic comparison of the novelist s typescript drafts and an evaluation of the manuscript notes kept in the archives of McMaster and York Universities The central structural principle of The Stone Angel is its dovetailing of past and present scenes Temporal arrangement reflecting the frequency and duration of Hagar s memories reveals the hold of memory over the central character and her attempts to suppress her fear of mortality Hagar as narrator manipulates character presentation and description to her own advantage In a basically oppositional structure her need for control is reflected in the neat ordering of the narrative The verbal texture of the novel serves to establish a value system that insists on the superiority of imported culture over Western Canadian forms

The Diviners shares a number of narrative similarities with The Stone Angel but the latter's formal rigidity has yielded by the time Laurence writes her last novel to the concept of multiplicity characters time planes perspectives and narrative voices including metafictional commentaries Textual coherence is secured via narrative strategies including typography generational paradigms repetition parallelism intertextuality and tropological patterning that render the novel readable and present experience as ordered in a time of cultural flux and personal crisis Academy, with which are Incorporated Literature and the English Review ,1883 The Spectator ,1846 Theory of the Novel Michael McKeon,2000-12 McKeon and others delve into the significance of the novel as a genre form issues in novel techniques such as displacement the grand theory narrative modes such as subjectivity character and development critical interpretation of the structure of the novel and the novel in historical context
