

A romantic close-up of a man and a woman about to kiss. The man is on the left, with dark hair and a light beard, wearing a white t-shirt. The woman is on the right, with long, wavy blonde hair, wearing a white top and a patterned skirt. They are both smiling and looking at each other. The background is bright and out of focus, suggesting an outdoor setting with trees.

Translation Changes Everything Lawrence Venuti, 2012-12-12 In Translation Changes Everything leading theorist Lawrence Venuti gathers fourteen of his incisive essays since 2000. The selection sketches the trajectory of his thinking about translation while engaging with the main trends in research and commentary. The issues covered include basic concepts like equivalence, retranslation, and reader reception; sociological topics like the impact of translations in the academy and the global cultural economy; and philosophical problems such as the translator's unconscious and translation ethics. Every essay presents case studies that include Venuti's own translation projects, illuminating the connections between theoretical concepts and verbal choices. The texts, drawn from a broad variety of languages, are both humanistic and pragmatic, encompassing such forms as poems and novels, religious and philosophical works, travel guidebooks, and advertisements. The discussions all explore practical applications, whether writing, publishing, reviewing, teaching, or studying translations. Venuti's aim is to conceive of translation as an interpretive act with far-reaching social effects, at once enabled and constrained by specific cultural situations. This latest chapter in his developing work is essential reading for translators and students of translation alike.

Fantastic histories Victoria Flood, 2024-05-28 Fantastic Histories explores the political and cultural contexts of the entry of fairies to the historical record in twelfth-century England and the subsequent uses of fairy narratives in both insular and continental history and romance. It traces the uses of the fairy as a contested marker of historicity and fictionality in the histories of Gerald of Wales and Walter Map, the continental mirabilia of Gervase of Tilbury, and the fourteenth and fifteenth-century French M lusine romances and their early English reception. Working across insular and continental source material, Fantastic Histories explores the practices of history writing, fiction making, and the culturally determined boundaries of wonder that defined the limits of medieval history.

Virgil Made English T. Caldwell, 2008-12-08 This study traces the steady decline of classical authority in English literature from the mid-seventeenth century and the role of translation in shifting the emphasis away from the classical learning. The author focuses on Virgil, once the most revered of poets, but also explores the fate of some of his fellow Ancients.
