The Unknown Craftsman:

The Unknown Craftsman Muneyoshi Yanagi, Bernard Leach, 1989 Mr Yanagi sees folk art as a manifestation of the essential world from which art philosophy and religion arise and in which the barriers between them disappear The implications of the author's ideas are both far reaching and practical The Unknown Craftsman Soetsu Yanagi, Bernard Leach, 1972 The Unknown Craftsman Muneyoshi Yanagi, 1978 The Unknown Craftsman Soetsu Yanagi, 1978-12

Surf Craft Richard Kenvin, 2014-07-18 The evolution of the surfboard from traditional Hawaiian folk designs to masterpieces of mathematical engineering to mass produced fiberglass Surfboards were once made of wood and shaped by hand objects of both cultural and recreational significance Today most surfboards are mass produced with fiberglass and a stew of petrochemicals moving or floating billboards for athletes and their brands emphasizing the commercial rather than the cultural Surf Craft maps this evolution examining surfboard design and craft with 150 color images and an insightful text From the ancient Hawaiian alaia the traditional board of the common people to the unadorned boards designed with mathematical precision but built by hand by Bob Simmons to the store bought longboards popularized by the 1959 surf exploitation movie Gidget board design reflects both aesthetics and history The decline of traditional alaia board riding is not only an example of a lost art but also a metaphor for the disintegration of traditional culture after the Republic of Hawaii was overthrown and annexed in the 1890s In his text Richard Kenvin looks at the craft and design of surfboards from a historical and cultural perspective He views board design as an exemplary model of mingei or art of the people and the craft philosophy of Soetsu Yanagi Yanagi believed that a design s true beauty and purpose are revealed when it is put to its intended use In its purest form the craft of board building along with the act of surfing itself exemplifies mingei Surf Craft pays particular attention to Bob Simmons s boards which are striking examples of this kind of functional design mirroring the work of postwar modern California designers Surf Craft is published in conjunction with an exhibition at San Diego s Mingei International Museum

Doing Museology Differently Duncan Grewcock, 2013-09-05 One might believe that museum studies is a stable field of academic inquiry based on a set of familiar institutional forms and functions But as institutions museums have never been stable or singular and neither has the discipline of museum studies Museum studies as a field of academic inquiry has received little critical attention One result of this neglect has arguably been a lack of invention in museum studies another is the distancing of academic museum studies from museum practice Doing Museology Differently charts a different course A critical creative reflection on academic practice the book takes the form of a narrative account of museological fieldwork A research story unfolds challenging academic conventions at the level of its own presentation the book combines critical museum visiting with an autobiographical voice The identification of a previously underexplored interdisciplinary space leads the author to experiment with museum studies using contemporary developments in the theory and practice of human geography The new approaches to museological research and representation that emerge from this unique inquiry challenge assumed institutional and intellectual boundaries and act as a call to further creative experimentation

About That Life Matthew Cheney, 2023 Why write Why ask a reader to give their time and attention to your words How can writing be more than narcissism and self aggrandizement These questions were ones that the writer and naturalist Barry Lopez asked at the Bread Loaf Writers Conference in the summer of 2000 and they are questions at the heart of About That Life a meditation on matters of living making and seeking While Lopez is best known for such works of nonfiction as the National Book Award winning Arctic Dreams Matthew Cheney brings our attention to the many works of short fiction that Lopez published throughout his life demonstrating how they fit within Lopez s sense of ethical aesthetics That sense is then set alongside the work of San Francisco s New Narrative writers insights from David Hinton s translations of Tu Fu the story of community arising around a pottery kiln in western Oregon the beauties and contradictions of S etsu Yanagi s The Unknown Craftsman and the implications of the right wing mob attack on the U S Capitol an event that occurred on what would have been Barry Lopez s 76th birthday Through a collage of memoir history literary criticism philosophy aesthetic theory and creative writing exercises About That Life wonders how we might live and dream in a world that seems ever more cruel and destructive
