Heel of Bernadette to The Whole Rain domed Universe winner of the Ewart Biggs Award and is a marvellous introduction to the range and sweep of Bryce s work The Whole and Rain-domed Universe Colette Bryce,2014-09-01 The Whole Bryce turns her clear singing line to darker ends than she has before describing not just the warmth and eccentricity of family and the claustrophobia of home life but also the atmosphere of suspicion and the real and present threat of terrible violence Bryce is one of the most widely acclaimed poets of the post Heaney generation and this is her most directly personal and compelling work to date A History of Irish Women's Poetry Ailbhe Darcy,David Wheatley,2021-07-01 A History of Irish Women s Poetry is a ground breaking and comprehensive account of Irish women s poetry from earliest times to the present day It reads Irish women s poetry through many prisms mythology gender history the nation and most importantly close readings of the poetry itself It covers major figures such as M ire Mhac an tSaoi Eavan Boland Eil an N Chuillean in as well as neglected figures from the past Writing in both English and Irish is considered and close attention paid to the many different contexts in which Irish women s poetry has been produced and received from the anonymous work of the early medieval period through the bardic age the coterie poets of Anglo Ireland the nationalist balladeers of Young Ireland the Irish Literary Revival and the advent of modernity As capacious as it is diverse this book is an essential contribution to scholarship in the field Contemporary Irish Women Poets Lucy Collins,2015-09-14 An Open Access edition of this book is available on the Liverpool University Press website and the OAPEN library This study examines the intersection of private and public spheres through the representation of memory in contemporary poetry by Irish women Collins explores how memory shapes creativity in the work of well known poets such as Eavan Boland Eil an N Chuillean in and Medbh McGuckian as well as in that of an exciting group of younger poets This book analyses for the first time the complex responses to the past recorded by contemporary women poets in Ireland and the implications these have for the concept of a national tradition

The M Pages Colette Bryce,2020-03-19 A brilliant moving book Reminiscent of one of this century s great elegies Denise Riley s A Part Song The M Pages is similarly probing hurt skeptical and smarting in a book packed with good poems Irish Times The reader might be justified in thinking that the M in the title of Colette Bryce s new collection could stand for mortality mourning or the spontaneous and cathartic practice of the writer s morning pages until they reach the book s arresting central sequence Addressed to a named M who has suddenly died this fourteen part poem depicts the experience of unexpected bereavement and the altering effect such events have on the living It does so unflinchingly gracefully and honestly as Bryce harnesses her characteristic insight forensic eye and tightly woven music to deeply moving ends while demonstrating again why she is regarded as one of the leading Irish poets of the age As the book unfolds it becomes clear that her other subjects of family travel history and ageing all orbit the gravitational centre of The M Pages What emerges is an important book about love fear self censorship and the limits of our knowledge and what we can and cannot say about some of the most profound events we face Community Boundaries and Border Crossings Kristen Lillvis,Robert Miltner, Molly Fuller, 2016-12-21 Globalization and transnationalism have reshaped our communities and their borderlines. Communities exceed fixed boundaries existing instead in the liminal spaces where narratives intersect, clash or cooperate. These liminal spaces, physical and virtual, local and global, provide opportunities for diversifying discussions on diaspora, cultural hybridity and ethnic identity. Ethnic women writers make significant contributions to this dialogue regarding the reconfiguration of people and their perimeters. A multigenre and multicultural text, Community Boundaries and Border Crossings explores the novels, short stories, essays, autobiographies, testimonios, plays, poems and hybrid poetics of established and emerging ethnic women writers. This collection of critical essays highlights the new zones of cultural contact and exchange that are defining the twenty-first century. Each chapter reflects an awareness of cultural changes and challenges, engaging readers in a richly productive conversation concerning the interconnectedness of border crossings and community boundaries.

Translation and Stylistic Variation Helen Gibson, 2023-09-01 Translation and Stylistic Variation: Dialect and Heteroglossia in Northern Irish Poetic Translation considers the ways in which translators use stylistic variation, analysing the works of three Northern Irish poet-translators to look at how in this variety the translation process becomes a creative act by which translators can explore their own linguistic and cultural heritage. The volume offers a holistic portrait of the use of linguistic variety, dialect and heteroglossia in the literary translations of Seamus Heaney, Ciaran Carson and Tom Paulin, shedding light on the translators' choices but also readers' experiences of them. Drawing on work from cognitive stylistics, Gibson reflects on how and why translators choose to add linguistic variety and how these choices can often be traced back to their socio-cultural context. The book not only extends existing scholarship on Irish English literary translation to examine issues unique to Northern Ireland but also raises broader questions about translation in locations where language choice is fraught and political. The volume makes the case for giving increased consideration to the role of the individual translator both for insights into personal choices and a more nuanced understanding of contemporary literary translation practices in Ireland and beyond. This book will be of interest to scholars working in translation studies, literary studies and Irish studies.
