Fanie Fourie's Lobola Nape 'a Motana, 2014-08-01 Fanie Fourie is a true blue boere seun with an unrepentantly macho approach to love and life in general But his world view undergoes an abrupt reinvention when he is bitten by the louse and bedbug of love and falls head over heels for Dimakatjo Machabaphala a beautiful black nurse In pursuit of true love these lovers must steer a path through the challenging intricacies of inter cultural negotiation and leap the hurdles of racial bigotry tenacious former lovers and the like finally to emerge triumphant as traditionally united man and wife This delightful novel is filled with naughty humor and ironic reversals of stereotype With a deft and humorous pen the author evokes the colliding worlds of traditional and contemporary culture in a South Africa still struggling to renegotiate roles and relationships and shake off the complexes and prejudices of the past

Languages of Instruction for African Emancipation Birgit Brock-Utne, Rodney Kofi Hopson, 2005 Languages of Instruction for African Emancipation is a collection of case studies from seven African countries poses questions such as What alternatives are there for educational language policies towards African emancipation What efforts have governments made to change the language policy in favour of African languages and how far have they succeeded What challenges do African learners face when it comes to current language of instruction policies The authors reject a language education policy that neglects the multilingualism existing in Africa that reinforces patterns of privilege that existed in the colonial era further entrenching the schism between the elite and the masses They give short shrift to the new justification of the unjustifiable status accorded to English in Africa as the language of globalisation suggesting that it is not relevant to the vast majority of African lives and their human development The sum of thoughts presented suggests that the answer to the language question provides the key to development challenges and further emancipation of the African peoples which it is argued is at the same time a question that will determine whether Africa will remain a recognisable and distinctive cultural component of humanity or whether Africans will cease to exist culturally as Africans reveal one's undying adoration to a loved one Nordic Journal of African Studies, 2002 South Africa Alexander Johnston, 2014-07-31 At the heart of South Africa's miracle transition from intractable ethno-racial conflict to democracy was an improvised nation born out of war-weariness, hope, idealism and calculated pragmatism on the part of the elites who negotiated the compromise settlement. In the absence of any of the conventional bonds of national consciousness, the improvised nation was fixed on the civic identity and national citizenship envisaged in the new constitution. In the twentieth anniversary year of the country's democracy, South Africa reviews the progress of nation building in post-apartheid South Africa, assesses how well the improvised nation has been embedded in a shared life for South Africans and offers a prognosis for its future. It draws up a socio-economic profile of the population which is the raw material of nation building. It measures the contributions of the polity and the constitution, religion and values as well as sport and the media to building a sense of national citizenship. The book explains the abrupt discontinuity between the contributions of Nelson Mandela and Thabo Mbeki to nation building and goes on to note the changing focus from reconciliation between black and white to include a concern for social cohesion in a society beset by violent crime, corruption and citizen deviance and dissidence. South Africa reconsiders the short, intense life cycle of Afrikaner nationalism and portrays the ambiguous relationships between African nationalism, non-racialism, civic nationalism and African tradition in the ideology and practice of the African National Congress. In doing so, it provides a comprehensive analysis of a crucial aspect of South Africa's first twenty years of democracy as well as exploring intriguing questions for the student of nationalism. Shuters New Sepedi Dictionary D. J. Prinsloo, B. P. Sathekge, 1996 A World of Indigenous Languages Teresa L. McCarty, Sheila E. Nicholas, Gillian Wigglesworth, 2019-03-13 Spanning Indigenous settings in Africa, the Americas, Aotearoa, New Zealand, Australia, Central Asia and the Nordic countries, this book examines the multifaceted language reclamation work underway by Indigenous peoples throughout the world. Exploring political, historical, ideological and pedagogical issues, the book foregrounds the decolonizing aims of contemporary Indigenous language movements inside and outside of schools. Many authors explore language reclamation in their own communities. Together, the authors call for expanded discourses on language planning and policy that embrace Indigenous ways of knowing and forefront grassroots language reclamation efforts as a force for Indigenous sovereignty, social justice and self-determination. This volume will be of interest to scholars, educators and students in applied linguistics, Ethnic Indigenous Studies, education, second language acquisition and comparative international education and to a broader audience of language educators, revitalizers and policymakers. Women, Economic Development, and Higher Education Diane E. Eynon, 2017-06-19 This book is a multi-disciplinary exploration of the intersection, relationship and connection between higher education, economic development and gender in post-Apartheid South Africa. In just twenty years, South Africa has rewritten its constitution, restructured its macroeconomic growth and development policies, restructured its higher education system and made a commitment to provide opportunity for all its citizens, specifically those who have historically been marginalized women and blacks Eynon weaves together these unique perspectives to illustrate how these multiple domains map onto women and the critical role they play in the present and future of the country Gender equality and women s empowerment and education were considered key drivers to South Africa s transformation International Human Rights Law in Africa Christof Heyns, Morne van der Linde, 2022-11-07 Contrary to popular belief there is a vast body of law dealing with human rights in Africa in existence today The first priority at the moment is consequently not the adoption of new norms or the creation of even more structures the most immediate challenge lies in making the existing structures work and ensuring compliance with the norms already accepted by African societies Access to the relevant material constitutes a necessary precondition for any other gains in this field The aim of this reference work is therefore to make African human rights law accessible to all those involved in or interested in human rights law on the continent in order to strengthen its impact Primary documents are introduced and reproduced and presented in a coherent framework The main institutions public and private dealing with human rights in Africa are identified and discussed Comprehensive overviews of the international human rights legal regimes applicable to Africa as well as country reports are provided Access to this body of law will enable judges practicing lawyers academics and other researchers as well as law reformers NGOs activists and students to both ascertain and assert these rights It will also serve to ensure the development of a stronger indigenous African human rights jurisprudence rooted in local experience history culture and practices This book consequently tries to contribute towards documenting systemising and anchoring the African human rights system This publication replaces and updates the earlier Human Rights Law in Africa Series which appeared on an annual basis from 1996 to 1999 In order to make the publication accessible in Africa the Centre for Human Rights and the Raoul Wallenberg Institute in Sweden have undertaken a targeted distribution campaign on the continent The print edition is available as a set of two volumes 9789004138810 Human Rights Law in Africa, 1997 Christof Heyns, 1998-11-01 The Human Rights Law in Africa Series captures the legal protection of human rights in Africa as it develops every year Each annual volume covers the legal position in respect of human rights in Africa on the level of the United Nations the Organisation of African Unity the national legal systems of all the countries in Africa as it was on the first day of that year The first volume covered the situation on 1 January 1996 It included charts of ratification reprints of the most important international instruments as well as the human rights provisions of the constitutions of the different countries It did not include any commentary This book the second volume in the Series covers the situation as it was on 1 January 1997 It contains documents not included before updated charts of ratification constitutional provisions enacted during the last year and for the first time extensive commentary on the African Charter system as well as the national legal systems of 12 African countries This second volume consequently does not replace the first one but supplements it in the same way that future volumes will supplement this one All the material included is new The Series should be of immense value to judges legal practitioners academics NGOs members of legislatures treaty monitoring bodies dealing with human rights on the African continent The main objective is to contribute towards the development of an indigenous African human rights jurisprudence an essential precondition for the greater realisation of human rights norms in Africa
