Benkin, 2017-04-12 Radical Islam is a major affliction of the contemporary world Each year radical Islamists carry out terrorist attacks that result in a massive death toll almost all involving noncombatants and innocents Estimates of how many Muslims could be considered followers of radical Islam vary widely and there are few guides to help determine moderates versus radicals Observers often sit at the extremes either seeing all Muslims as open or closeted jihadis or recoiling from any attempt to link Islam with international terror Both positions are overly simplistic and the lack of rational principles to absolve the innocent and identify the accomplices of terror has led to governments and individuals mistakenly accepting jihadis as moderate What is Moderate Islam brings together an array of scholars Muslims and non Muslims to provide this missing insight This wide ranging collection examines the relationship among Islam civil society and the state The contributors including both Muslims and non Muslims investigate how radical Islamists can be distinguished from moderate Muslims analyze the potential for moderate Islamic governance and challenge monolithic conceptions of Islam

Muslims in India Qamar Hasan, 1987. The work is unique in the sense that it has not only delved into historical antecedents of the contemporary attitudes of the new generation of Indian Muslims but has also brought out their adjustment mechanisms and reactions to the demands which are made upon them from a section of the majority. For the understanding of different aspects of behaviour of the minority vis-à-vis the majority, the author has liberally drawn upon the relevant literature of three branches of social sciences viz. Psychology, Sociology and Political Science. The studies of minority-majority relations elsewhere are referred to for making the reader aware that to a very large extent, minorities wherever they are found behave in the similar way.

Reviews: The perspective offered by the author in the present study augurs well for the cause of nation building in the specific context of the persisting and ever elusive communal problem in India. Prof. Iqbal Narain. The publication is so fascinating that I read more than half by the time I reached Lucknow. Prof. H. S. Asthana. The first full-length study of the mass psychology of the Muslim mind after Mujib's The Indian Muslims. Qamar Hasan has used the tools of academic research to study the Muslim factor in Indian Politics; read it because it is a same voice in the madness all around. Tapan Basu. Sunday. The book clearly brings out reactions indicative of fear of domination and urge to dominate; the book has made a definite contribution in the understanding of inter and intra-group relationships. Pramod Kumar. The author must be complimented for his bold and frank revelations about the attitudes of Muslims and Hindus towards each other, their self-appraisals and their assessment. Dr. K. Ravichandra. Review Projector, Vol. VIII, Nos. 10-12. The causes and cures of the serious problems bedeviling relations between the Muslim minority in India and the Hindu majority badly need studying within a socio-psychological framework. Qamar Hasan is on the right track for a social scientist to throw light on the problems of his people but he needs to settle on just one frame of reference and typology and then test some bolder hypotheses.
