The Crime of My Very Existence Prof. Michael Berkowitz, 2007-09-03 The Crime of My Very Existence investigates a rarely considered yet critical dimension of anti-Semitism that was instrumental in the conception and perpetration of the Holocaust the association of Jews with criminality Drawing from a rich body of documentary evidence including memoirs and little studied photographs Michael Berkowitz traces the myths and realities pertinent to the discourse on Jewish criminality from the eighteenth century through the Weimar Republic into the complex Nazi assault on the Jews and extending into postwar Europe

Postcolonial Disaster Pallavi Rastogi, 2020-04-15 Postcolonial Disaster studies literary fiction about crises of epic proportions in contemporary South Asia and Southern Africa the oceanic disaster in Sri Lanka the economic disaster in Zimbabwe the medical disaster in South Africa and Botswana and the geopolitical disaster in India and Pakistan Pallavi Rastogi argues that postcolonial fiction about catastrophe is underpinned by a Disaster Unconscious a buried but mobile agenda that forces disastrous events to narrate themselves She writes that in disaster fiction a literary Story and its real life Event are in constant dialectic tension In recent disasters Story and Event are tied together as the urgency to circulate information and rebuild in the aftermath of the disaster dictates the flow of the narrative As the Story acquires temporal distance from the Event such as the seventy three years since the partition of India in 1947 it plays more with form and theme to expand beyond a tale about an all consuming tragedy Story and Event are in a constant dance with each other and the Disaster Unconscious plays the tune to which they move Rastogi creates a narratology for postcolonial disaster fiction and brings concepts from Disaster Studies into the realm of literary analysis

Lincoln, the War President Gabor S. Boritt, 1994-05-19 Americans interested in history need to make the pilgrimage to Gettysburg writes Gabor Boritt in the Acknowledgments In this book seven historians make that journey five of them Pulitzer laureates looking for Lincoln Kenneth Stampp explores the issue of national self determination comparing the South's struggle for independence to others in history including the post Soviets in eastern Europe Arthur Schlesinger Jr offers a provocative comparison of how Lincoln and our other outstanding war president FDR went beyond the limits of the Constitution and why David Brion Davis focuses on the moment of emancipation Boritt traces Lincoln's transition from a strident war opponent as a young man to resolute war leader as president Carl Degler compares the American attempt at national unification with the unifications of Italy Germany and other nations Robert Bruce contrasts premonitions of civil war with Lincoln's reluctance to accept war as a possibility And James McPherson establishes once and for all the war president's brilliance as a national strategist These outstanding essays all but one published here for the first time offer a new understanding of a revolutionary epoch in American history and of the role of the leader who helped transform the nation forever

The Northern Home Front during the Civil War Paul A. Cimbal, Randall M. Miller, 2023-02-21 With a new preface and updated historiographical essay Based on recent scholarship and deep research in primary sources especially the letters and diaries of ordinary people The Northern Home Front during the Civil War is the first full narrative history and analysis of the northern home front in almost a quarter century. It examines the mobilization, recruitment, management, politics, costs, and experience of war from the perspective of the home front with special attention to the ways the war affected the ideas, identities, interests, and issues shaping people's lives and vice versa. The book looks closely at people's responses to war's demands, whether in supporting the Union cause or opposing it, and it measures the ways the war transformed society and economy or simply reconfirmed ideas and reinforced practices already underway. As The Northern Home Front during the Civil War reveals, issues and concerns of emancipation, conscription, civil liberties, economic policies and practices, religion, party politics, war management, popular culture, and work were all part of what Lincoln rightly termed a People's Contest, and as much as the armies in the field determined the outcome of the nation's ordeal by fire, as The Northern Home Front during the Civil War shows, understanding the experience of the women and men on the home front is essential to realizing Walt Whitman's oft-quoted call to get the real war into the books.

The Jasmine Years Johanna Maula, 2012-11 Johanna Maula was only eight years old when her family, mother, father, and four small girls moved from the snow-covered Finnish countryside to the middle of the tropical heat of Nigeria. The Biafran war was raging, and the young girl saw many historical events unfolding that impacted her deeply and set the course for her life. Dr. Maula later worked for the United Nations, the International Labour Organisation, and the African Development Bank. She travelled the length and breadth of Africa and saw tragedy and misery but also the beginnings of growth and hope. In this memoir, she presents unique insights into the life of people in the rapidly changing Africa, from the street children in Lagos to Vodou priests in Benin, from destitute women of Ethiopia to presidents, ministers, and business leaders in these countries. Her story combines a seasoned social scientist's viewpoint with pertinent and pointed observations covering more than four decades of socio-cultural and economic developments in Africa. Dr. Maula candidly recalls her work, her friends, and neighbours, starting a family, and the ups and downs of raising an infant in Ethiopia and a moody teenager in the pre-revolutionary Tunisia. Through her experiences in Africa, Dr. Maula also learned to look at her own native country with new eyes. Hilarious and tragic by turns, her story throughout bears great compassion and love for Africa and her beautiful and talented people.

5.0 out of 5 stars By Gelsomina This book was most varied and interesting. Detailed autobiographic account of life in Africa when the writer was a little girl, which I found very tender and humorous. Very well documented, the writer continues her autobiography with her many enriching experiences both in a professional capacity and on a personal level, living for different lengths of time in such diverse African countries as Benin, Ethiopia, and Tunisia. Really smooth, enjoyable reading.

Dancing in the Rain Marie Trotignon, 2010-12-14 Full of whimsical style and vivid imagery, Dancing in the Rain presents a collection of vignettes, both prose and poetry, that demonstrate how we cope with life's storms by learning to dance in the rain. Marie Trotignon delivers an emotionally stirring look at how the average, ordinary occurrences in life can sometimes make the biggest impact on our future. With her talent for weaving words into beautiful pictures Trotignon uses the metaphor of raindrops and rainbows to explore the intricate nature of humanity In the short story Avalanche a mother seeks to comfort her daughter when both are buried alive in an avalanche An illegal immigrant alone in the big city and duped of his possessions finds himself responsible for an abandoned three year old in One Small Candle In From Sissy with Love the mugging of a young soldier on Christmas furlough in Seattle has a domino effect on many lives beyond his own Lifted from the tapestry of every day living Dancing in the Rain reflects the endurance and resilience of the human spirit

The Doctor's Christmas Wish Renee Ryan,2015-11-17 Her Holiday Hero When Keely O Toole returns home to Village Green Colorado she lands in a very unfamiliar role as guardian to her cousin s seven year old daughter Keely loves little Felicity but she s in over her head And the only person she can turn to for help is former army ranger Dr Ethan Scott Her best friend s brother a man she can hardly speak to without bickering But when Keely and Ethan bond while taking care of Felicity everything changes Keely wants to give Felicity the best Christmas ever and Ethan is just the person to light up their holidays and their lives

Inside War Michael Fellman,1990-04-19 During the Civil War the state of Missouri witnessed the most widespread prolonged and destructive guerrilla fighting in American history With its horrific combination of robbery arson torture murder and swift and bloody raids on farms and settlements the conflict approached total war engulfing the whole populace and challenging any notion of civility Michael Fellman s Inside War captures the conflict from inside drawing on a wealth of first hand evidence including letters diaries military reports court martial transcripts depositions and newspaper accounts He gives us a clear picture of the ideological social and economic forces that divided the people and launched the conflict Along with depicting how both Confederate and Union officials used the guerrilla fighters and their tactics to their own advantage Fellman describes how ordinary civilian men and women struggled to survive amidst the random terror perpetuated by both sides what drove the combatants themselves to commit atrocities and vicious acts of vengeance and how the legend of Jesse James arose from this brutal episode in the American Civil War

The Last Resort Douglas Rogers,2009-09-22 Thrilling heartbreaking and at times absurdly funny The Last Resort is a remarkable true story about one family in a country under siege and a testament to the love perseverance and resilience of the human spirit Born and raised in Zimbabwe Douglas Rogers is the son of white farmers living through that country's long and tense transition from postcolonial rule. He escaped the dull future mapped out for him by his parents for one of adventure and excitement in Europe and the United States. But when Zimbabwe's president Robert Mugabe launched his violent program to reclaim white-owned land and Rogers's parents were caught in the crossfire, everything changed. Lyn and Ros, the owners of Drifters, a famous game farm and backpacker lodge in the eastern mountains that was one of the most popular budget resorts in the country, found their home and resort under siege. Their friends and neighbors expelled and their lives in danger. But instead of leaving, as their son pleads with them to do, they haul out a shotgun and decide to stay. On returning to the country of his birth, Rogers finds his once orderly and progressive home transformed into something resembling a Marx Brothers romp crossed with Heart of Darkness. Potatoes have supplanted maize in the fields, hookers have replaced college kids as guests, and soldiers, spies, and teenage diamond dealers guzzle beer at the bar. And yet, in spite of it all, Rogers's parents, with the help of friends, farmworkers, lodge guests, and residents among them black political dissidents and white refugee farmers, continue to hold on. But can they survive to the end? In the midst of a nation stuck between its stubborn past and an impatient future, Rogers soon begins to see his parents in a new light: unbowed, with passions and purpose renewed, even heroic. And in the process, he learns that the big story he had relentlessly pursued his entire adult life as a roving journalist and travel writer was actually happening in his own backyard. Evoking elements of The Tender Bar and Absurdistan, The Last Resort is an inspiring coming-of-age tale about home, love, hope, responsibility, and redemption. An edgy roller coaster adventure, it is also a deeply moving story about how to survive a corrupt Third World dictatorship with a little innovation, humor, bribery, and brothel management.

Place, Race, and Identity Formation Ed Douglas McKnight, 2017-04-07 In this work of curriculum theory Ed Douglas McKnight addresses and explores the intersections between place with specific discussion of Kincheloe's and Pinar's conceptualization of place and identity and race specifically Winthrop Jordan's historical analysis of race as an Anglo European construction that became the foundation of a white mythos To that end he employs a form of narrative construction called curriculum vitae course of life a method of locating and delineating identity formation which addresses how theories of place race and identity formation play out in a particular concrete life By working through how place racializes identity and existence the author engages in a long Southern tradition of storytelling but in a way that turns it inside out Instead of telling his own story as a means to romanticize the sins of the southern past he tells a new story of growing up within the white discourse of the Deep South in the 1960s and 70s tracking how his racial identity was created and how it has followed him through life Significant in this narrative is how the discourse of whiteness and place continues to express itself even within the subject position of a curriculum theorist teaching in a large Deep South university The book concludes with an elaboration on the challenges of engaging in the necessary anti racist complicated conversation within education to begin to work through and cope with heavy racialized inheritances
