The Transition Process

Noha El-Mikawy

The Transition Process:

The Building of Consensus in Egypt's Transition Process Noha El-Mikawy, 1999 In this rich and thought provoking study Noha el Mikawy explores the changes that have been occurring in Egypt's political system over the past thirty years three very important decades in the country's transition from authoritarian rule to democracy By focussing on consensus building as analytically central to the transition process el Mikawy has picked up an original and very fruitful vein in the theoretical debate about the politics of transition and democracy Her account of the inner workings and ideological divisions among the country's major political parties provides a wealth of detail for the 1980s and early 1990s nowhere else to be found This book is likely to make a breakthrough in the conspiracy of silence hitherto affecting the inclusion of the Egyptian experience as an empirical reference point in the theoretical literature of transition

Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him.
