The Vulnerable Observer Anthropology That Breaks Your Heart:

The Vulnerable Observer Ruth Behar, 1996 In classical anthropology subjects of study are seen as vulnerable while their observers are instructed to remain detached and objective Yet with the emergence during the last decade of a group of anthropologists with recognizable connections to the cultures in which they work the lines between participant and observer insider and outsider are no longer so easily drawn In The Vulnerable Observer the award winning anthropologist Ruth Behar offers a new theory and practice for this humanistic anthropology No longer looking over others shoulders she becomes one of the subjects of study as she reflects upon the observer as well as the observed Eloquently interweaving ethnography and memoir Ruth Behar reflects on fieldwork in Spain Cuba and the United States through her personal stories of loss as a young Cuban Jewish immigrant Beginning with a poignant essay exploring the refuge she found in her fieldwork as her grandfather died she proposes an anthropology that is lived and written in a personal voice in the hope that it will lead us toward greater depth of understanding and feeling for those about whom we write The Vulnerable Observer Ruth Behar, 2022-11-15 The 25th anniversary edition of the groundbreaking book that changed anthropology asserting that ethnographers needn t exclude themselves or their vulnerabilities from their work In a new epiloque to this classic work renowned ethnographer and storyteller Ruth Behar reflects on the groundbreaking impact The Vulnerable Observer has had on anthropology sociology and psychology and on scholarly writing A pocket companion for writers journalists documentarians and activists alike this book speaks to the power of including oneself in the story bringing deeper meaning to the relationship between writer subject and reader In a move revolutionary for its time The Vulnerable Observer proposed a new theory and practice for humanistic anthropology No longer should ethnographers write at a distance clad in their shroud of objectivity In six luminous essays Behar calls instead for a fresh approach to ethnography one that is lived and written more openly Through this very personal account readers can travel and relate to other peoples and the world around them Eloquently interweaving ethnography and memoir Behar encourages her readers to be open about their experiences as open as their subjects are with them She does so in the hope that this work will lead us toward greater depth of understanding and feeling not only in anthropology but in all efforts to document the shared vulnerability of the observed and the observer Erotic Faith Mari Kim, 2022-03-24 The thought of contemporary North American theologian and ethicist Wendy Farley is an unflinching clarion call to justice and compassion Farley invites us to discover ways of embodying the deep compassion capable of resisting pernicious distortions and traumatizing injustices that harm and dehumanize us all This volume of essays embodies her invitation to awaken as beloved community And when we are overwhelmed by the magnitude of struggle and despair Farley reminds us that the powerful longing of hope at times against all evidence refuses to give up on seeking justice and wholeness Compassionate justice radical hospitality creative liberation and deep listening emerge as more than ethical values for Farley they are expressions of erotic faith a praxis of faithfulness born of divine desire These writings explore transformative perspectives and practices that have the capacity to help us recover and author our identity as the god bearers we are Erotic faith embodies the love seeking persistence of divine faithfulness necessary to transform us from within it meets the truth of human harm vulnerability and suffering by offering a complex struggling unscripted creativity capable of remaking us and our world until the beloved community is whole Comparative Indigeneities of the Américas M. Bianet Castellanos, Lourdes Gutiérrez Nájera, Arturo J. Aldama, 2012-10-04 Comparative Indigeneities of the Amricas highlights intersecting themes such as indigenismo mestizaje migration displacement autonomy sovereignty borders spirituality and healing that have historically shaped the experiences of Native peoples across the Am ricas In doing so it promotes a broader understanding of the relationships between Native communities in the United States and Canada and those in Latin America and the Caribbean and invites a hemispheric understanding of the relationships between Native and mestiza o peoples From Bourgeois to Boojie Vershawn Ashanti Young, 2011-04-15 Examines how generations of African Americans perceive proclaim and name the combined performance of race and class across genres Communist Ghosts Magda Schmukalla, 2021-10-21 This book explores post communist thresholds as materializations of a specific crisis of modern European identity that was caused by the existence and sudden breakdown of Soviet type communism It shows how post communist thresholds emerge where relics from the communist experience continue disrupting the routines and rhythms of a modern life and confront Europeans with cultural experiences affects and material realities of the enlightened world which they usually seek to repress or ignore In exploring and writing through art projects which engage with the psychosocial fabric of such post communist thresholds this book finds ways of speaking and thinking through these transitory and paradox sites and asks what we can say about other or new worlds about new beginnings and endings as well as about decolonial and ethical ways of relating to the other when assessing the status guo of European modernity from within its liminal and crisis driven sphere Mind as Machine Margaret A. Boden, 2006 Cognitive science is among the most fascinating intellectual achievements of the modern era The quest to understand the mind is an ancient one But modern science has offered new insights and techniques that have revolutionized this enquiry Oxford University Press now presents a masterly history of the field told by one of its most eminent practitioners Psychology is the thematic heart of cognitive science which aims to understand human and animal minds But its core theoretical ideas are drawn from cybernetics and artificial intelligence and many cognitive scientists try to build functioning models of how the mind works In that sense Margaret Boden suggests its key insight is that mind is a very special machine Because the mind has many different aspects the field is highly interdisciplinary It integrates psychology not only with cybernetics AI but also with neuroscience and clinical neurology with the philosophy of mind language and logic with linguistic work on grammar semantics and communication with anthropological studies of cultures and with biological and A Life research on animal behaviour evolution and life itself Each of these disciplines in its own way asks what the mind is what it does how it works how it develops and how it is even possible Boden traces the key questions back to Descartes s revolutionary writings and to the ideas of his followers and his radical critics through the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries Her story shows how controversies in the development of experimental physiology neurophysiology psychology evolutionary biology embryology and logic are still relevant today Then she guides the reader through the complex interlinked paths along which the study of mind developed in the twentieth century Cognitive science covers all mental phenomena not just cognition knowledge but also emotion personality psychopathology social communication religion motor action and consciousness In each area Boden introduces the key ideas and researchers and discusses those philosophical critics who see cognitive science as fundamentally misguided And she sketches the waves of resistance and acceptance on the part of the media and general public showing how these have affected the development of the field No one else could tell this story as Boden can she has been a member of the cognitive science community since the late 1950s and has known many of its key figures personally Her narrative is written in a lively swift moving style enriched by the personal touch of someone who knows the story at first hand Her history looks forward as well as back besides asking how state of the art research compares with the hopes of the early pioneers she identifies the most promising current work Mind as Machine will be a rich resource for anyone working on the mind in any academic discipline who wants to know how our understanding of mental capacities has advanced over the Women Escaping Violence Elaine J. Lawless, 2013-03-07 The statistics are alarming Some say that once every years nine minutes a woman in the United States is beaten by her spouse or partner Others claim that once every four minutes a woman in the world is beaten by her spouse or partner More women go to emergency rooms in the United States for injuries sustained at the hands of their spouses and partners than for all other injuries combined Shelters for battered women are filled beyond capacity every single day of the year Despite the overwhelming evidence that violence in our homes is a daily reality most of us are not willing to acknowledge this private violence or talk about it openly Women Escaping Violence brings women s stories to the attention of the academy as well as the reading public While we may be unwilling or unable to talk about the issue of battered women many of us are ready to read what women have to say about their endangered lives Considerable scholarship is emerging in the area of domestic violence including many self help books about how to identify and escape abuse Women Escaping Violence offers the unique view of battered women s stories told in their own words as well as a feminist analysis of how these women use the power of narrative to transform their sense of self and regain a place within the larger society Lawless shares with the reader the heart wrenching experiences of battered women who have escaped violence by fleeing to shelters with little more than a few items hastily shoved into a plastic bag and often with small children in tow The book includes women s stories as they are told and retold within the shelter in the presence of other battered women and of caregivers It analyzes the uses made of these narratives by those seeking to counsel battered women as well as by the women themselves The Character of Human Institutions Michael Egan, 2014-06-30 This volume celebrates the life and work of Robin Fox and the idea of a biosocial science From his early studies of kinship primates the brain evolution the incest taboo and aggression to his later work on literature politics civilization law the Bible Shakespeare and the history of ideas Robin Fox inspired many with an evolutionary vision of humanity that goes beyond narrow disciplinary boundaries and embraces the universal history of mankind Fox s work represents an independent biosocial science stream of thinking that accepts the Darwinian mandate while avoiding reductionism by recognizing culture as a natural phenomenon The essays cover Fox s life and his contributions and address topics as diverse as the meaning and function of laughter the unforgiving discipline of writing popular anthropology extreme drinking rituals among young men training for the British army Darwin and close cousin marriage the universal essence of the epic form as a super attractor anthropologists autobiographies the conflict between science and anti science and the decline of British imperial education This engaging collection on a mainstream maverick has been edited by Michael Egan It includes essays by Sir Antony Jay Lionel Tiger Howard Bloom Michael McGuire Kate Fox Melvin Konner Alan Macfarlane Adam Kuper Dieter Steklis Alexandra Maryanski Bernard Chapais Jonathan Turner Linda Stone Charles Macdonald Anne Fox David Jenkins Frederick Turner Robert Trivers and an essay by Robin Fox himself Voices from American Prisons Kaia Stern, 2014-06-20 Voices From American Prisons Faith Education and Healing is a comprehensive and unique contribution to understanding the dynamics and nature of penal confinement In this book author Kaia Stern describes the history of punishment and prison education in the United States and proposes that specific religious and racial ideologies notions of sin evil and otherness continue to shape our relationship to crime and punishment through contemporary penal policy Inspired by people who have lived worked and studied in U S prisons Stern invites us to rethink the current punishment crisis in the United States Based on in depth interviews with people who were incarcerated as well as extensive conversations with students teachers corrections staff and prison administrators the book introduces the voices of those who have participated in the few remaining post secondary education programs that exist behind bars Drawing on individual narrative and various modern day case examples Stern focuses on dehumanization resistance and community transformation She demonstrates how prison education is essential can provide healing and yet is still not enough to interrupt mass incarceration In short this book explores the possibility of transformation from a retributive punishment system to a system of justice The book s engaging human accounts and multidisciplinary perspective will appeal to criminologists sociologists historians theologians and scholars of education alike Voices from American Prisons will also capture general readers who are interested in learning about a timely and often silenced reality of contemporary modern society Stories of Home Devika Chawla, Stacy Holman Jones, 2015-09-17 Stories of Home Place Identity Exile offers a window into the distinct ways that home is theorized and conceptualized across disciplines The essays in this volume consider how people speak and story home in their everyday lives why home is central to our notion of who we are and how making home a unit of analysis in research makes a strong conceptual contribution to the field of communication This collection engages home from diverse contexts and disparate philosophical underpinnings at the same time the essays converse with each other by centering their foci on the relationship between home place identity and exile Home how we experience it and what it says about the selves we come to occupy is an exigent question of our contemporary moment Stories of Home Place Identity Exile delivers timely and critical perspectives on these important questions The Historical Contexts and Contemporary Uses of Mass Observation Lucy D. Curzon, Benjamin Jones, 2024-10-17 The Historical Contexts and Contemporary Uses of Mass Observation embraces new approaches and themes that highlight Mass Observation's long history as an innovative research organization a social movement and an archival project Spanning the period from Mass Observation's inception to the present day essay authors discuss a wide range of topics including anthropology history popular politics cultural studies literature selfhood emotion art and visual studies Indeed what emerges across this volume is confirmation that engagement with Mass Observation whether its historical materials or those produced in the last decade is crucial to understanding the vast array of experiences that The Ethnographic I Carolyn Ellis, 2004 Carolyn Ellis the leading proponent of autoethnography make up British life weaves both methodological advice and her own personal stories into an intriguing narrative about a fictional graduate course she instructs Through Ellis s interactions with her students you are given useful strategies for conducting a study including the need for introspection the struggles of the budding ethnographic writer the practical problems in explaining results of this method to outsiders and the moral and ethical issues that get raised in this intimate form of research

Autoethnography Sherick A. Hughes, Julie L. Pennington, 2016-10-21 2020 Society of Professors of Education Outstanding Book Award winner Autoethnography Process Product and Possibility for Critical Social Research provides a short introduction to the methodological tools and concepts of autoethnography combining theoretical approaches with practical how to information Written for social science students teachers teacher educators and educational researchers the text shows readers how autoethnographers collect analyze and report data With its grounding in critical social theory and inclusion of innovative methods this practical resource will move the field of autoethnography forward Transcending Shadows Yao Lin, 2024-10-03 Based on interviews with three generations of three families this book clarifies why the Cultural Revolution in China 1966 1976 had a uniquely traumatic impact on those affected and shows the forms this trauma has taken in the lives of their second and third generations at both inter subjective and intra psychic levels As a psychoanalytically oriented qualitative study of the aftermath of the Cultural Revolution this book investigates the role played by the beliefs practices and narratives which were ideologically formative during the Cultural Revolution showing their role in the trans generational transmission of trauma and how they still prevent a collective means of dealing with this trauma today Instead of a collective remembering a collective repression prevents the symbolization of memory on a societal level and families serve as a space for this unresolved trauma In this context psychoanalysis is shown to be an effective way of interrupting and healing the transmission of trauma across the generations Within a longer historical framework this book also explores the Cultural Revolution as a defensive compulsory repetition of the traumas that China had previously experienced on a political and cultural level Bearing witness to a personal process of transforming a wound into work this first person account offers in depth understanding and guidance for psychotherapists and psychoanalysts engaged in interrupting and healing the trans generational transmission of trauma The Routledge Handbook of Human Research Ethics and Integrity in Australia Bruce M. Smyth, Michael A. Martin, Mandy Downing, 2024-10-23 The Routledge Handbook of Human Research Ethics and Integrity in Australia highlights why it is important to look at the subject of human research ethics and integrity within the Australian context and what the Australian perspective can offer to all researchers in the social sciences and humanities globally Australia has one of the world's most rigorous ethics governance frameworks This edited collection comprises 35 chapters compiled with the aim of presenting human research ethics and integrity in a way that can be readily understood and applied by undergraduate and postgraduate students early career and seasoned researchers Human Research Ethics Committee members and those who work in the administration of human research ethics Chapters that focus on research ethics with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people are likely to be of great interest to an international audience interested in Indigenous research ethics more broadly This collection will act as a prism through which ethical first principles can be seen afresh from the vista of contemporary Australian research ethics frameworks The issues raised in this collection are likely to resonate beyond the Australian context and will speak to researchers and educators in a variety of settings who find themselves grappling with thorny ethical issues ranging from the rapid evolution of data security and privacy concerns to research about cultural heritage and ethical approaches to Indigenous cultural and intellectual property Oral History Off the Record A. Sheftel, S. Zembrzycki, 2013-09-11 Because oral history interviews are personal interactions between human beings they rarely conform to a methodological ideal These reflections from oral historians provide honest and rigorous analyses of actual oral history practice that address the complexities of a human centered methodology Telling Our Lives Frida Kerner Furman, Linda Williamson Nelson, Elizabeth A. Kelly, 2005-06-09 Telling Our Lives explores how three working class women from Jewish African American and Irish American backgrounds connect across their differences through storytelling and conversation Three distinct voices intertwine in this book as the authors now college professors discuss family legacies of diaspora and dislocation analyzing how these have shaped their personal and professional lives Social class ethnicity gender sexuality and spirituality intersect and diverge in these pages as the authors reflect on how they have been enriched and transformed by the relationships forged in the process of storytelling Pastoral Bearings Mary Clark Moschella, Jane F. Maynard, Leonard Hummel, 2010-03-18 The study of lived religion is an enterprise which attempts to elucidate how ordinary men and women in all times and places draw on religious behavior media and meanings to make sense of themselves and their world Through the influence of liberation theology and postmodernism pastoral theologians like other scholars of religion have begun more closely to examine the particularity of religious practice that is reflected through the rubric of lived religion Pastoral Bearings offers up ten studies that exemplify the usefulness of the lived religion paradigm to the field of pastoral theology The volume presents detailed qualitative research focused on the everyday beliefs and practices of individuals and groups and explores the implications of lived religion for interdisciplinary conversation intercultural and gender analysis and congregational studies Reflecting upon the utility of this approach for pastoral theological research education and pastoral care the studies collected in Pastoral Bearings demonstrate the importance of the study of lived Rewriting the African Diaspora in Latin America and the Caribbean Robert L. Adams Jr., 2014-10-14 This volume religion considers the African Diaspora through the underexplored Afro Latino experience in the Caribbean and South America Utilizing both established and emerging approaches such as feminism and Atlantic studies the authors explore the production of historical and contemporary identities and cultural practices within and beyond the boundaries of the nation state Rewriting the African Diaspora in the Caribbean and Latin America illustrates how far the fields of Afro Latino and African Diaspora studies have advanced beyond the Herskovits and Frazier debates of the 1940s The book s arguments complicate Herskovits insistence on Black culture being an exclusive reflection of African survivals as well as Frazier's counter claim of African American culture being a result of slavery and colonialism This collection of thought provoking essays extends the concepts of diaspora and transnationalism forcing the reader to reassess their present limitations as interpretive tools In the process Afro Latinos are rendered visible as national actors and transnational citizens This book was originally published as a special issue of African and Black Diaspora
