T. Quiller-Couch, 2017-10-11 Excerpt from The White Wolf and Other Fireside Tales They had come he said but to the second bend of this waterway when a seaman who had climbed the mast on the chance of spying an outlet called out in surprise that there was a ship ahead of them but two miles off and running down the channel before the wind even as they. At first he found no credit for this tale and even when those on deck spied her mast and yard overtopping a gap between two bergs they could only set it down for a mirage or cheat of eyesight in the clear weather. rowed towards her and coming alongside gave a hail which was unanswered But from the frozen pile by the tiller there stuck out a man s arm ghastly to see Snorri climbed on board by the waist where her sides were low and a well reached aft from the mast to the poop There was a cabin beneath the poop and another and larger room under the deck forward between the step of the mast and the bows Into each of these he broke with axes and bars and in the one found nothing but some cooking pots and bedding but in the other that is the after cabin the door as he burst it in almost fell against a young man seated by a bed So life like was he that Snorri called aloud in the doorway but anon peering into the gloomy place perceived the body to be frozen upright and stiff and that on the bed lay another body of a lady slight and young and very fair She too was dead and frozen yet her cheeks albeit white as the pillow against which they rested had not lost their roundness Snorri took note also of her dress and of the coverlet reaching from the bed s foot to her waist that they were of silk for the most part and richly embroidered and her shift and the bed sheets about her of fine linen The man s dress was poor and coarse by comparison yet he carried a sword and was plainly of gentle nurture The sword Snorri drew from its sheath and brought away also he took a small box of jewels but little else could he find on the ship and no food of any kind His design was to leave the ship as he found it carrying away only these tokens that his story when he arrived at Brattahlid might be received with faith and to direct where the ship might be sought for But as he quitted the cabin some of his men shouted from the deck where they had discovered yet another body frozen in a drift This was an old man seated with crossed legs and leaning against the mast having an ink horn slung about his neck and almost hidden by his grey beard and on his knee a book which he held with a thumb frozen between two pages This was the book which Snorri had brought to Brattahlid and which the Bishop of Garda read aloud to him that same afternoon translating as he went the ink being fresh the writing clerkly and scarcely a page damaged by the weather It bore no title but the Bishop who afterwards caused his secretary to take a copy of the tale gave it a very long one beginning God s mercy shown in a Miracle upon certain castaways from Jutland at the Feast of the Nativity of His Blessed Son our Lord in the year MCCCLVII whereby He made dead trees to put forth in leaf and comforted desperate men with summer in the midst of the Frozen Sea with much beside But all this appears in the tale which I will head only with the name of the writer
