settings The Open University, This 8 hour free course explored the position of children who live away from their families and the significance of moving in a child s life Residential Child Care Andrew Kendrick,2008 Draws on recent research to address key issues in residential child care policy and practice in the UK offering guidance for developing best practice and improved outcomes for children and young people Revisiting Children's Rights Deirdre Fottrell,2021-07-26 The UN Convention on the Rights of the Child passed in 1989 was the first universal treaty dedicated solely to the promotion and protection of the interests of children In its first decade the Convention achieved near universal ratification and is now the most widely ratified human rights treaty ever In addition as a consequence of its influence children s human rights have been

mainstreamed and are now prioritised at all levels within the United Nations and other regional organisations This book provides the first comprehensive overview of the first decade of the Convention It also brings together leading scholars and activists who place the Convention in a wider context and revisit contemporary debates and controversies in children's rights to assess the extent to which these issues have been influenced by the Convention in its first decade

Leadership in Residential Child Care Dione Hills, Camilla Child, 2000-04-07 In one enquiry after another there has been a call for an increase in the proportion of qualified staff in residential child care services as one of a range of solutions to the difficulties that have beset the service Leadership in Residential Child Care compares and assesses courses available for professional social work training and explores the ways that training contributes to the quality of care in the sector Drawing on an evaluation of the Residential Child Care Initiative the authors examine the dilemmas concerning the provision of qualification training for residential care staff today They address issues such as the loss of qualified staff from the sector different models of professional competence that qualification seeks to achieve the role qualification and training can play in enhancing the status of what is sometimes seen as the Cinderella element in childcare provision Leadership in Residential Child Care discusses issues of considerable relevance to managers and trainers seeking to maximise the value they derive from the training provided to residential child care staff The experience of special courses developed under the Residential Child Care Initiative will be of interest to all those concerned with the development of the sector from those considering the training needs of residential care staff to teachers and tutors in universities and colleges of higher education providing social work qualification programmes

Making Law for Families Mavis Maclean, 2000-12 This book analyzes the concept of the family in the context of increasing challenges and questions created by multicultural societies

Youth in Society Jeremy Roche, 2004-01-31 Fully revised in order to incorporate policy development this book brings together a series of readings to encourage critical reflection and thought about how young people's lives and priorities are changing and becoming more diverse The book will be of value to youth work professionals and students

Families and the State Commission on Families and the Wellbeing of Children (Great Britain), NCH (Great Britain), 2005-10-31 This report from The Commission on Families and the Wellbeing of Children addresses critical issues of child poverty and inequality in the context of the relationship between the state and families It considers ways in which the state should support families and the difficult balance to be struck between its caring and control functions

Evaluation in Child and Family Services Tiziano Vecchiato, Anthony N. Maluccio, Cinzia Canali, As child and family interventions assume greater international application it will be helpful to examine the various ways in which service innovations are being evaluated As demonstrated in the seminar from which these chapters resulted only by sharing our specific professional interests our too frequent problems in measurement our despair in implementing complicated studies and our successes can we advance the evaluation of human services and their outcomes This volume considers a variety of programs and issues in the field of child and family services

While different perspectives are evident among the authors in terms of their focus and or emphasis there is common concern about the value of examining each program or service so as to maximize its impact as well as its potential for dissemination Intervention research should spur and motivate cross national efforts not only among researchers but also among social workers and other practitioners from diverse professions engaged in the delivery of human services Such collaboration would contribute to the ultimate goals of achieving greater clarity about the specifics of best practices in child and family services protocols for assessing outcomes and ways of improving service delivery How then can researchers and policymakers in diverse settings within diverse countries improve practice and service delivery on behalf of children and families What particular program findings can be generalized to improve services How can we share and implement new solutions The contributions to this volume address such questions from varying international perspectives Contributors provide answers and generate discussion points for consideration by practitioners as well as researchers The book is a must for social work practitioners in areas involving the delivery of goods as well as services Tiziano Vecchiato is scientific director of the Fondazione Emanuela Zancan Padua Italy Anthony N Maluccio is professor of social work at Boston College Graduate School of Social Work Chestnut Hill Massachusetts Cinzia Canali is research associate at the Fondazione Emanuela Zancan Padua Italy
