Tree Of Codes Jonathan Safran Foer

C. Namwali Serpell

Tree Of Codes Jonathan Safran Foer:

Tree of Codes Jonathan Safran Foer, 2010 A masterful work of storytelling a unique sculptural object created through a collaborative process between Visual Editions and author A curiosity with the die cut technique was combined with the pages physical relationship to one another and how this could somehow be developed to work with a meaningful narrative This led to Jonathan deciding to use an existing piece of text and cut a new story out of it his favourite book The Street of Crocodiles by Bruno Schulz Writing cutting and proto typing has created a new story cut from the words of an old favourite

Bookishness Jessica Pressman, 2020-12-01 Twenty first century culture is obsessed with books In a time when many voices have joined to predict the death of print books continue to resurface in new and unexpected ways From the proliferation of shelfies to Jane Austen themed leggings and from decorative pillows printed with beloved book covers to bookwork sculptures exhibited in prestigious collections books are everywhere and are not just for reading Writers have caught up with this trend many contemporary novels depict books as central characters or fetishize paper and print thematically and formally In Bookishness Jessica Pressman examines the new status of the book as object and symbol She explores the rise of bookishness as an identity and an aesthetic strategy that proliferates from store window display to experimental writing Ranging from literature to kitsch objects stop motion animation films to book design Pressman considers the multivalent meanings of books in contemporary culture Books can represent shelter from or a weapon against the dangers of the digital they can act as memorials and express a sense of loss Examining the works of writers such as Jonathan Safran Foer Jennifer Egan Mark Z Danielewski and Leanne Shapton Pressman illuminates the status of the book as a fetish object and its significance for understanding contemporary fakery Bringing together media studies book history and literary criticism Bookishness explains how books still give meaning to our lives in a digital age Seven Modes of Uncertainty C. Namwali Serpell, 2014-04-30 Literature is uncertain Literature is good for us These two ideas are often taken for granted But what is the relationship between literature's capacity to perplex and its ethical value Seven Modes of Uncertainty contends that literary uncertainty is crucial to ethics because it pushes us beyond the limits of our experience

Creative Writing and the Radical Nigel Krauth, 2016-07-18 The rise of digital publishing and the ebook has opened up an array of possibilities for the writer working with innovation in mind Creative Writing and the Radical uses an examination of how experimental writers in the past have explored the possibilities of multimodal writing to theorise the nature of writing fiction in the future It is clear that experimental writers rehearsed for technological advances long before they were invented Through an in depth study of writers and their motivations challenges and solutions the author explores the shifts creative writing teachers and students will need to make in order to adapt to a new era of fiction writing and reading Handbook of the American Novel of the Twentieth and Twenty-First Centuries Timo Müller, 2017-01-11 Increasing specialization within the discipline of English and American Studies has shifted the focus of scholarly discussion toward theoretical reflection and cultural contexts These developments have benefitted the discipline in more ways than one but they have also resulted in a certain neglect of close reading As a result students and researchers interested in such material are forced to turn to scholarship from the 1960s and 1970s much of which relies on dated methodological and ideological presuppositions The handbook aims to fill this gap by providing new readings of texts that figure prominently in the literature classroom and in scholarly debate from James s The Ambassadors to McCarthy s The Road These readings do not revert naively to a time before theory Instead they distil the insights of literary and cultural theory into concise introductions to the historical background the themes the formal strategies and the reception of influential literary texts and they do so in a jargon free language accessible to readers on all levels of qualification

Untranslatability Duncan Large,Motoko Akashi,Wanda Józwickowska,Emily Rose,2018-07-27 This volume is the first of its kind to explore the notion of untranslatability from a wide variety of interdisciplinary perspectives and its implications within the broader context of translation studies Featuring contributions from both leading authorities and emerging scholars in the field the book looks to go beyond traditional comparisons of target texts and their sources to more rigorously investigate the myriad ways in which the term untranslatability is both conceptualized and applied The first half of the volume focuses on untranslatability as a theoretical or philosophical construct both to ground and extend the term s conceptual remit while the second half is composed of case studies in which the term is applied and contextualized in a diverse set of literary text types and genres including poetry philosophical works song lyrics memoir and scripture A final chapter examines untranslatability in the real world and the challenges it brings in practical contexts Extending the conversation in this burgeoning contemporary debate this volume is key reading for graduate students and researchers in translation studies comparative literature gender studies and philosophy of language The editors are grateful to the University of East Anglia Faculty of Arts and Humanities who supported the book with a publication grant

Succeeding Postmodernism Mary K. Holland,2013-04-25 While critics collect around the question of what comes after postmodernism this book asks something different about recent American fiction what if we are seeing not the end of postmodernism but its belated success Succeeding Postmodernism examines how novels by DeLillo Wallace Danielewski Foer and others conceptualize threats to individuals and communities posed by a poststructural culture of mediation and simulation and possible ways of resisting the disaffected solipsism bred by that culture Ultimately it finds that twenty first century American fiction sets aside the postmodern problem of how language does or does not mean in order to raise the reassuringly retro question of what it can and does mean it finds that novels today offer language as solution to the problem of language Thus it suggests a new way of reading antihumanist late postmodern fiction and a framework for understanding postmodern and twenty first century fiction as participating in a long and newly enlivened tradition of humanism and realism in literature

Book Presence in a Digital Age Kiene Brillenburg Wurth,Kári Driscoll,Jessica Pressman,2018-06-28 Contrary to the apocalyptic pronouncements of paper media s imminent demise in the digital age there has been a veritable surge of creative reimaginings of books as bearers of the literary. From typographic experiments Mark Z Danielewski's House of Leaves, Steven Hall's The Raw Shark Texts to accordion books Anne Carson's Nox from cut ups Jonathan Safran Foer's Tree of Codes to collages Graham Rawle's Woman's World from erasures Mary Ruefle's A Little White Shadow to mixups Simon Morris's The Interpretations of Dreams, print literature has gone through anything but a slow inevitable death. In fact, it has re-invented itself materially. Starting from this idea of media plurality, Book Presence in a Digital Age explores the resilience of print literatures, book art and zines in the late age of print from a contemporary perspective while incorporating longer term views on media archeology and media change. Even as it focuses on the materiality of books and literary writing in the present, Book Presence also takes into consideration earlier 20th century moments of media transition, developing the concepts of presence and materiality as analytical tools to perform literary criticism in a digital age. Bringing together leading scholars, artists and publishers, Book Presence in a Digital Age offers a variety of perspectives on the past, present and future of the book as medium, the complex relationship of materiality to virtuality and of the analog to the digital.

A Theory of Adaptation Linda Hutcheon, 2012-08-21 A Theory of Adaptation explores the continuous development of creative adaptation and argues that the practice of adapting is central to the story telling imagination. Linda Hutcheon develops a theory of adaptation through a range of media from film and opera to video games, pop music and theme parks, analysing the breadth, scope and creative possibilities within each. This new edition is supplemented by a new preface from the author discussing both new adaptive forms, platforms and recent critical developments in the study of adaptation. It also features an illuminating new epilogue from Siobhan O'Flynn focusing on adaptation in the context of digital media. She considers the impact of transmedia practices and properties on the form and practice of adaptation as well as studying the extension of game narrative across media platforms, fan based adaptation from Twitter and Facebook to home movies and the adaptation of books to digital formats. A Theory of Adaptation is the ideal guide to this ever evolving field of study and is essential reading for anyone interested in adaptation in the context of literary and media studies.

The Rhetoric of the Page Laurie Maguire, 2020-11-03 This wide ranging and entertaining book explores blank space from incunabula to Google books. Blanks are a paradox: simultaneously nothing and something, gesturing to what was once there or might be there. They are also a creative opportunity for readers as well as writers: readers respond to what is not there and writers come to anticipate that response. Thus blank space develops literary and ludic applications. Each chapter focuses on one typographical form of what is not there on the page: physical gaps. Chapter One marks of incompleteness such as the c. Chapter Two and the asterisk as a stand in for things that cannot be said. Chapter Three. By looking at the early modern page as a visual unit as well as a verbal unit, this volume shows how the relationship between textual layout and textual content is as productive for writers as it is for readers. Mise en page influences readers in the same way that rhetoric influences readers. It is thus possible to speak of the rhetoric of the page.

The 360° Gaze Christian Stiegler, 2021-05-25 A comprehensive study of the pervasive role of immersion and immersive media in postmodern culture from a humanities and social sciences perspective Virtual reality augmented reality mixed reality and other modes of digitally induced immersion herald a major cultural and economic shift in society Most academic discussions of immersion and immersive media have focused on the technological aspects In The 360 Gaze Christian Stiegler takes a humanities and social science approach emphasizing the human implications of immersive media in postmodern culture Examining characteristics common to all immersive experiences he uncovers dominant metaphors such as the rabbit hole and prevailing ideologies He raises fundamental questions about opportunities and risks associated with immersion as well as the potential effects on individuals communities and societies

Fictionality and Multimodal Narratives Torsa Ghosal, Alison Gibbons, 2023-08 Fictionality and Multimodal Narratives interrogates the relationship of fictionality and the multimodal use of fact in modern narrative construction

Literature and the Public Good Rick Rylance, 2016 Rick Rylance addresses the debate over the public value of literary studies from antiquity to the present day He offers an account of the foundational issue of the public good and explores the disciplinary integrity of literary study

The Near-Death of the Author John Potts, 2022-11-01 In the modern world of networked digital media authors must navigate many challenges Most pressing the illegal downloading and streaming of copyright material on the internet deprives authors of royalties and in some cases it has discouraged creativity or terminated careers Exploring technology's impact on the status and idea of authorship in today's world The Near Death of the Author reveals the many obstacles facing contemporary authors John Potts details how the online culture of remix and creative reuse operates in a post authorship mode with little regard for individual authorship The book explores how developments in algorithms and artificial intelligence AI have yielded novels newspaper articles musical works films and paintings without the need of human authors or artists It also examines how these AI achievements have provoked questions regarding the authorship of new works such as Does the author need to be human And more alarmingly Is there even a need for human authors Providing suggestions on how contemporary authors can endure in the world of data the book ultimately concludes that network culture has provoked the near death but not the death of the author

Visual Devices in Contemporary Prose Fiction Simon Barton, 2016-01-26 This book acknowledges that the reader of a novel looks at and sees the page before they begin to read any text placed upon it Thus any disruptions to how a traditional page should look can have a large impact on the reading process The book critically engages with the visual appearance of graphically innovative contemporary prose fiction

The Printed Book in Contemporary American Culture Heike Schaefer, Alexander Starre, 2019-08-28 This essay collection explores the cultural functions the printed book performs in the digital age It examines how the use of and attitude toward the book form have changed in light of the digital transformation of American media culture Situated at the crossroads of American studies literary studies book studies and media studies these essays show that a sustained focus on the medial and material formats of literary communication significantly expands our accustomed ways of doing cultural studies Addressing the changing roles of authors publishers and readers while covering multiple bookish formats such as artists books bestselling novels experimental fiction and zines this interdisciplinary volume introduces readers to current transatlantic conversations on the history and future of the printed book Digital Narrative Spaces Daniel Punday,2021-12-30 There is a broad consensus that digital narrative is spatial but what this critical term means and how it is used varies greatly depending on the discipline from which it is approached Digital Narrative Spaces brings together essays by prominent scholars in electronic literature and other forms of digital authorship to explore the relationship between story and space across these disciplines This volume includes an introduction with Marie Laure Ryan s typology of space followed by thought provoking individual chapters which explore innovative explorations of electronic literature locative media literary tourism and the mapping of real world literary spaces The collection closes with an essay analyzing continuities and discontinuities in theory of space across the chapters This volume will provide an important framework for establishing a dialogue across disciplines and future scholarship in these fields The Cambridge Companion to Literature in a Digital Age Adam Hammond,2024-11-14 Literature has experienced two great medium shifts each with profound implications for its forms genres and cultures that from orality to writing and that from writing to printing Today we are experiencing a third shift from printed to digital forms As with the previous shifts this transformation is reconfiguring literature and literary culture The Cambridge Companion to Literature in the Digital Age is organized around the question of what is at stake for literary studies in this latest transition Rather than dividing its chapters by methodology or approach this volume proceeds by exploring the major categories of literary investigation that are coming under pressure in the digital age concepts such as the canon periodization authorship and narrative With chapters written by leading experts in all facets of literary studies this book shows why all those who read study and teach literature today ought to attend to the digital The Palgrave Handbook of Magical Realism in the Twenty-First Century Richard Perez,Victoria A. Chevalier,2020-04-30 The Palgrave Handbook of Magical Realism in the Twenty First Century examines magical realism in literatures from around the globe Featuring twenty seven essays written by leading scholars this anthology argues that literary expressions of magical realism proliferate globally in the twenty first century due to travel and migrations the shrinking of time and space and the growing encroachment of human life on nature In this global context magical realism addresses twenty first century politics aesthetics identity and social national formations where contact between and within cultures has exponentially increased altering how communities and nations imagine themselves This text assembles a group of critics throughout the world the Americas Europe Africa Asia the Middle East and Australia who employ multiple theoretical approaches to examine the different ways magical realism in literature has transitioned to a global practice thus signaling a new stage in the history and development of the genre Memory, Intermediality, and Literature Sara Tanderup Linkis,2019-04-16 If readers of Sara Tanderup Linkis Something to hold on to open the book in the expectation of entering a niche of literature and literary studies they will leave it after having encountered a new highway in literature Here the traditional theme of memory and the most recent use of digital media merge into a new understanding of the role of the book in the contemporary media landscape and of vicissitudes of memorial processes literature which also offers a broader perspective on literature in human history Spurred by Sara Tanderup Linkis sharp eye the readings of texts are lucid engaging and offers so many ideas that teachers will renew their curricula and readers will open the internet for more or rush to the library Svend Erik Larsen professor emeritus Memory Intermediality and Literature investigates how selected literary works use intermedial strategies to represent and perform cultural memory Drawing on the theoretical perspectives of cultural memory studies this engaging reader friendly monograph examines new materialism and intermediality studies analyzing works by Alexander Kluge W G Sebald Jonathan Safran Foer Anne Carson Mette Hegnh j William Joyce J J Abrams and Doug Dorst The works emerge out of different traditions and genres ranging from neo avant garde montages through photo novels and book objects to apps and children s stories In this new monograph Sara Tanderup Linkis presents an interdisciplinary and comparative approach reading the works together across genres and decades and combining the perspectives of memory studies and materialist and media oriented analysis This approach makes it possible to argue that the works not only use intermedial strategies to represent memory but also to remember literature reflecting on the changing status and function of literature as a mediator of cultural memory in the age of new media Thus the works may be read as reactions to modern media culture suggesting the ways in which literature and memory are affected by new media and technologies photography and television as well as iPads and social media
