

Text-Dependent Questions	Answers
In the first paragraph, what synonyms does the author use to help us understand the word "immigrants?" (Pg. 214)	Settlers, moving people new to a country
According to the text, what brought this huge wave of newcomers to California? What was their shared dream? (Pg. 214)	The Gold Rush in 1848 brought nearly a half million people looking for gold that would make them wealthy.
Read the caption on page 214. According to the text, what two characteristics would help the Chinese lead successful lives in a new country?	The author describes the Chinese immigrants as having skills and the ability to work hard.
Chinese immigrants "formed communities in many California cities." Using the text and photo caption on page 215, identify what these Chinese neighborhoods were called and where was the first one established?	The neighborhoods formed by the Chinese immigrants were referred to as Chinatowns and the first one was established in Sacramento in 1858.
How does the author describe these communities? (Pg. 215)	The author describes Chinatowns as filled with stores and restaurants owned by Chinese. Many people who lived there knew each other from "back home in China."
Using your own words explain why Chinatowns was important to the Chinese in America. Use evidence from the text to support your answer. (Pg. 215)	These communities allowed the Chinese immigrants to hold on to their culture, food, traditions and language. Students could infer that because so many of the people were from the same area "back home," there would be a sense of home away from home and familiarity.
What were some ways that Chinese immigrants were "working for a living?" (Pgs. 215-216)	Most of the immigrants became servants; many others were writers, miners or worked in laundries. Some found work helping build the railroads, blasting of mountains to make room for the tracks, digging the railroad tunnels and fixing the roads.
