Women's Experience of Modernity, 1875-1945 Ann L. Ardis, Leslie W. Lewis, 2003-05-22 A collection of essays on women's history and literary production at the turn of the twentieth century that centers the feminine phenomena Analyzing such cultural practices as selling and shopping political and social activism urban field work and rural labor radical discourses on feminine sexuality and literary and artistic experimentation this volume contributes to the rich vein of current feminist scholarship on the gender of modernism and challenges the assumption that modernism rose naturally or inevitably to the forefront of the cultural landscape at the turn of the twentieth century During this period women's experience was a rallying cry for feminists a unifying cause that allowed women to work together to effect social change and make claims for women's rights However it also proved to be a source of great divisiveness among women for claims about its universality quickly unraveled to reveal the classism racism and Eurocentrism of various feminist activities and organizations The essays in this volume examine both literary and non literary writings of Jane Addams Djuna Barnes Toru Dutt Radclyffe Hall H D Pauline Hopkins Emma Dunham Kelley Amy Levy Alice Meynell Bram Stoker Ida B Wells Rebecca West and others Instead of focusing exclusively or even centrally on modernism and literature these essays address a broad array of textual materials from political pamphlets to gynecology textbooks as they investigate women's responses to the rise of commodity capitalism middle class women's entrance into the labor force the welfare state's invasion of the working class home and the intensified eroticization of racial and class differences

Islamic Law on Trial Dr. Sohaira Z. M. Siddiqui, 2025-04-15 Prior to the East India Company's establishment in India in 1661 Islamic law was widely applied by the Mughal Empire But as the Company's power grew it established a court system intended to limit Islamic law Following the Great Rebellion of 1857 the decentralized Islamic legal system was replaced with a new standardized system Islamic Law on Trial interrogates the project of juridical colonization and demonstrates that alongside and despite the violent displacement of Muslim legal sovereignty Muslims were able to engage with and even champion Islamic law from inside the colonial judiciary The outcome of their work was a paradoxical legal terrain that appeared legitimate to both Muslim practitioners and English colonizers Sohaira Siddiqui challenges long standing assumptions about Islamic law under British rule the ways in which colonial power displaced preexisting traditions and how local Muslim elites navigated the new institutions imposed upon them

Men on trial Katie Barclay, 2018-11-12 Men on Trial provides the first history of masculinity and the law in early nineteenth century Ireland It combines cutting edge theories from the history of emotion performativity and gender studies to argue for gender as a creative and productive force in determining legal and social power relationships

Modernist Short Fiction by Women Claire Drewery, 2016-04-15 Taking on the neglected issue of the short story's relationship to literary Modernism Claire Drewery examines works by Katherine Mansfield Dorothy Richardson May Sinclair and Virginia Woolf Drewery argues that the short story as a genre is preoccupied with transgressing boundaries and thus offers an ideal platform from which to examine the Modernist fascination with the liminal. Embodying both liberation and restriction, liminal spaces on the one hand enable challenges to traditional cultural and personal identities while on the other hand they entail the inevitable negative consequences of occupying the position of the outsider, marginality, psychosis and death. Mansfield, Richardson, Sinclair and Woolf all exploit this paradox in their short fiction which typically explores literal and psychological borderline states that are resistant to rational analysis. Thus their short stories offered these authors an opportunity to represent the borders of unconsciousness and to articulate meaning while also conveying a sense of that which is unsayable. Through their concern with liminality, Drewery shows these writers contribute significantly to the Modernist aesthetic that interrogates identity, the construction of the self and the relationship between the individual and society. Constraint on Trial Gerrit

Voogt, 2020-05-25 Constraint on Trial examines the life and thought of Dirck Volckertsz Coornhert 1522-1990. The self-made Coornhert was a notary, secretary, artist, poet, playwright, translator, theologian, but most of all he was an intrepid controversialist, born to contradict, indefatigable in his critique of the public church and sects. His main concern in polemics and disputations was the defense of freedom of conscience and advocacy of toleration. Coornhert's individualism made him eschew any restrictions on personal religious choice. His tolerationist writings, especially Synod on the Freedom of Conscience 1582 and Trial of the Killing of Heretics 1590, were rooted in his spiritualist belief system. He found inspiration in other protagonists of religious freedom such as Sebastian Franck and Castellio, but his ideas were uniquely Coornhertian. He possessed an unrelenting drive to combat constraint and regarded himself as God's battering ram, meant to break down the prison of men's conscience. Islamic Law on Trial Sohaira Z. M. Siddiqui, 2025-06-10 Prior to the East India Company's establishment in India in 1661, Islamic law was widely applied by the Mughal Empire. But as the Company's power grew, it established a court system intended to limit Islamic law. Following the Great Rebellion of 1857, the decentralized Islamic legal system was replaced with a new, standardized system. Islamic Law on Trial interrogates the project of juridical colonization and demonstrates that, alongside and despite the violent displacement of Muslim legal sovereignty, Muslims were able to engage with and even champion Islamic law from inside the colonial judiciary. The outcome of their work was a paradoxical legal terrain that appeared legitimate to both Muslim practitioners and English colonizers. Sohaira Siddiqui challenges long-standing assumptions about Islamic law under British rule, the ways in which colonial power displaced preexisting traditions, and how local Muslim elites navigated the new institutions imposed upon them. Shakespeare, Film Studies, and the

Visual Cultures of Modernity A. Guneratne, 2016-04-30 This book is the first in-depth cultural history of cinema's polyvalent and often contradictory appropriations of Shakespearean drama and performance traditions. The author argues that these adaptations have helped shape multiple aspects of film, from cinematic style to genre and narrative construction.

Art on Trial David E. Gussak, 2013-05-28 A man kidnaps his two children, murders one, and attempts to kill the other. The prosecution seeks the death penalty while the defense employs an unusual strategy to avoid the sentence. The defendant's attorneys turn to more than 100 examples of his artwork created over many years to determine whether he was mentally ill at the time he committed the crimes Detailing an outstanding example of the use of forensic art therapy in a capital murder case David Gussak an art therapist contracted by the defense to analyze the images that were to be presented as evidence recounts his findings and his testimony in court as well as the future implications of his work for criminal proceedings Gussak describes the role of the art therapist as an expert witness in a murder case the way to use art as evidence and the conclusions and assessments that professionals can draw from a defendant's artworks He examines the effectiveness of expert testimony as communicated by the prosecution defense and court and weighs the moral ethical and legal consequences of relying on such evidence For professionals and general readers this gripping volume presents a convincing account of the ability of art to reflect a damaged and dangerous psyche A leading text on an emerging field Art on Trial demonstrates the practical applications of an innovative approach to clinical assessment and treatment

The Trial on Trial: Volume 3 R A Duff, Lindsay Farmer, Sandra Marshall, Victor Tadros, 2007-11-20 The criminal trial is under attack Traditional principles have been challenged or eroded in England and Wales the right to trial by jury has been restricted and rules concerning bad character evidence double jeopardy and the right to silence have been substantially altered to rebalance the system in favour of victims In the pursuit of security particularly from terrorism the right to a fair trial has been denied to some altogether In fact trials have for a long time been an infrequent occurrence most criminal convictions being the consequence of a guilty plea Moreover while this very public struggle over the future of the criminal trial is conducted there is also a less publicly observed controversy about the significance of trials in modern society Trials are under normative attack their value being doubted by those who seek different kinds of process conciliatory or restorative to address the needs of victims and move away from the imposition of state power through trials and punishments This book seeks to develop a normative theory of the criminal trial as a way of defending the importance of trials in our criminal justice system The trial it is suggested calls defendants to answer a charge and if they are criminally responsible to account for their conduct The trial is seen as a communicative process through which the defendant can challenge claims of wrongdoing made against him including the norms in the light of which those claims are made The book develops this communicative theory by first making a careful study of the history of trials before moving on to outline the theory which is then developed through chapters looking at the practices and principles of trials alternative regulatory models the roles of participants the relationship between investigation and trial and trials as public fora

Procedural Justice and the Fair Trial in Contemporary Chinese Criminal Justice Elisa Nesossi, Susan Trevaskes, 2018-09-04 This review examines the literature on procedural justice and the fair trial over the past two decades in the People s Republic of China Part 1 gives a wide angle view of the key political events and developments that have shaped the experience of procedural justice and the fair trial in contemporary China It provides a storyline that explains the political environment in which these concepts have developed over time Part 2 examines how scholars understand the legal structures of the criminal process in relation to China s political culture Part 3 presents scholarly views on three enduring problems relating to the fair trial a presumption of innocence interrogational torture and the role of lawyers in the criminal trial process Procedural justice is a particularly pertinent issue today in China because Xi Jinping s yifa zhiguo governing the nation in accordance with the law governance platform seeks to embed a greater appreciation for procedural justice in criminal justice decision making to correct a politico legal tradition overwhelmingly focused on substantive justice Overall the literature reviewed in this article points to the serious limitations in overcoming the politico legal barriers to justice reforms that remain intact in the system despite nearly four decades of constant reform

The Oxford Handbook of Modern Egyptian History Beth Baron, Jeffrey Culang, 2024 Until relatively recently scholars of Egyptian history understood the modern period to begin with the movement of European people and ideas to Egypt s northern shores precipitated by Napoleon s invasion in 1798 From this perspective modern Egyptian history was animated by the diverse and sometimes contradictory ways in which Egyptians responded over time to colonial power and modern forms of knowledge This handbook featuring 26 originally commissioned essays by top scholars in the field adds to a growing literature that complicates the facile colonizer colonized and modern tradition binaries undergirding this view Modern Egyptian history is a continuous process of translation and adaptation invention and reinvention Bringing together a dynamic and accomplished group of historians of Egypt the book maps the present state of modern Egyptian history highlighting the most promising avenues of research and laying new ground upon which future generations of scholars may build The contributors address both long persisting themes in the field though in new ways as well as new themes reshaping how we understand modern Egyptian history and thus Middle Eastern and global history These include environment family infrastructure intellectuals labor law literature medicine politics popular culture and slavery Within these categories they explore issues of gender race and class The questions these scholars consider reflect pressing contemporary concerns and debates including medical sovereignty and bodily autonomy the management of the environment the rights and movements of workers courts and legal struggles cultural expression production and reception and the relationship between the army state and society

Rhetoric, Sophistry, Pragmatism Steven Mailloux, 1995-05-18

The anti sceptical relativism and self conscious rhetoric of the pragmatist tradition which began with the Older Sophists of Ancient Greece and developed through an American tradition including William James and John Dewey has attracted new attention in the context of late twentieth century postmodernist thought At the same time there has been a more general renewal of interest across a wide range of humanistic and social science disciplines in rhetoric itself language use writing and speaking persuasion figurative language and the effect of texts This book written by leading scholars explores the various ways in which rhetoric sophistry and pragmatism overlap in their current theoretical and political implications and demonstrates how they contribute both to a rethinking of the human sciences within the academy and to larger debates over cultural politics

Performing Justice Elizabeth A. Wood, 2018-05-31 After seizing power in 1917 the Bolshevik regime faced the daunting task of educating and bringing culture to the vast and often illiterate mass of Soviet soldiers workers and peasants As part of this campaign civilian educators and political instructors in the military developed didactic theatrical fictions performed in workers and soldiers clubs in the years from 1919 to 1933 The subjects addressed included politics religion agronomy health sexuality and literature The trials were designed to permit staging by amateurs at low cost thus engaging the citizenry in their own remaking In reconstructing the history of the so called agitation trials and placing them in a rich social context Elizabeth A Wood makes a major contribution to rethinking the first decade of Soviet history Her book traces the arc by which a regime s campaign to educate the masses by entertaining and disciplining them culminated in a policy of brute shaming Over the course of the 1920s the nature of the trials changed and this process is one of the main themes of the later chapters of Wood s book Rather than humanizing difficult issues the trials increasingly made their subjects alcoholics boys who smoked truants into objects of shame and dismissal By the end of the decade and the early 1930s the trials had become weapons for enforcing social and political conformity Their texts were still fictional indeed fantastical but the actors and the verdicts were now all too real

Feminism and Avant-Garde Aesthetics in the Levantine Novel K. Hanna, 2016-04-08 Writing in response to war and national crisis al Samm n Khal feh Barak t and others introduced into the Arabic literary canon aesthetic forms capable of carrying Levantine women s experiences By assessing their feminism in such a way this book aims to revive a critical emphasis on aesthetics in Arab women s writing

A Sense of Shock Adam Parkes, 2011-08-19 What does modern British and Irish literature have to do with French impressionist painting And what does Henry James have to do with the legal dispute between John Ruskin and J M W Whistler What links Walter Pater with Conrad s portrait of a genocidal maniac in Heart of Darkness Or George Moore with Irish nationalism Virginia Woolf with modern distraction and Ford Madox Ford with the Great Depression Adam Parkes argues that we must answer such questions if we are to appreciate the full impact of impressionist aesthetics on modern British and Irish writers Complicating previous accounts of the influence of painting and philosophy on literary impressionism A Sense of Shock highlights the role of politics uncovering new and deeper linkages In the hands of such practitioners as Conrad Ford James Moore Pater and Woolf literary impressionism was shaped by its engagement with important social issues and political events that defined the modern age As Parkes demonstrates the formal and stylistic practices that distinguish impressionist writing were the result of dynamic and often provocative interactions between aesthetic and historical factors Parkes ultimately suggests that it was through this incendiary combination of aesthetics and history that impressionist writing forced significant change on the literary culture of its time A Sense of Shock will appeal to students and scholars of nineteenth and twentieth century literature as well as the growing readership for books that explore problems of literary history and interdisciplinarity

Medjugorje and the Supernatural Daniel Maria Klimek, 2018-03-01 In June 1981 six young Croatians in the village of Medjugorje in the former Yugoslavia reported that the Virgin Mary had appeared to them The Medjugorje visionaries say that Mary has returned every day since then bringing them important messages from heaven to convey to the world Throughout history people have reported encountering extraordinary religious experiences apparitions of the Virgin Mary visions of Jesus Christ weeping statues and icons the stigmata physical healings and miracles and experiences of the afterlife and interpreted them as supernatural in origin Scholars have often tried to reinterpret such experiences including those described by the great mystics like Francis of Assisi Catherine of Siena and Teresa of Avila into natural or psychopathological categories such as hysteria hallucination delusion epileptic seizures psychosis the workings of the unconscious mind or fraud Are such reductionist explanations valid Over the past three decades the Medjugorje visionaries have been subjected to extensive medical psychological and scientific examination even while undergoing their visionary experiences Daniel Klimek argues that the case of Medjugorje affords a rare opportunity to understand a deeper dimension of extraordinary religious phenomena Presenting and analyzing the scientific studies on the visionaries in juxtaposition with the major scholars and debates surrounding religious experience Klimek concludes that a multidisciplinary approach grants a more holistic and deeper understanding of such extraordinary religious experiences      The Great Rift Michael E. Hobart, 2018-04-16 Michael Hobart locates the great rift between science and religion not in ideological disagreement but in advances in mathematics and symbolic representation that moved past language to open new windows onto the natural world His work connects the cognitive breakthroughs of the past with intellectual debates ongoing in the twenty first century      The Publishers' Trade List Annual ,1978      The SAGE Handbook of Criminological Theory Eugene McLaughlin, Tim Newburn, 2010-07-21 An indispensable international resource The SAGE Handbook of Criminological Theory provides readers with a clear overview of criminological theory enabling them to reflect critically upon the traditional emergent and desirable theoretical positions of the discipline This handbook is essential for libraries and scholars of all levels studying the rapidly developing interdisciplinary field of criminology
