The Bermuda Triangle Cary Trantham, 2011-09-28 The Atlantians started to experience instability in the umbilical cord or worm hole that connected them to earth Human species and their vehicles boats planes etc were slipping through these unstable portals into the Universe of Atlantis On Mother Earth the area where these occurrences were happening was designated as the Bermuda Triangle The Atlantians watched in horror as the entire Earth began to suffer from the effects of the exploration and removal of fossil fuels The Earth's crust had become very unstable and underwater earthquakes were on the increase The Atlantians knew that unless the Earth humans realized and did something about the damage to Gaia from the use and exploration of fossil fuels she would be damaged beyond recovery and all would die They were very concerned as it was unsure if their parallel universe could survive without Gaia They were also unsure if the umbilical cord that connected the two universes could be severed If Gaia exploded the Atlantian civilization may also come to an end The Atlantians put their faith into a young girl from Earth She had slipped into their world through an unstable portal but was defying science as she could move freely between the two worlds

Keith E. Stanovich,1999-04-01 Integrating a decade long program of empirical research with current cognitive theory this book demonstrates that psychological research has profound implications for current debates about what it means to be rational The author brings new evidence to bear on these issues by demonstrating that patterns of individual differences largely ignored in disputes about human rationality have strong implications for explanations of the gap between normative and descriptive models of human behavior Separate chapters show how patterns of individual differences have implications for all of the major critiques of purported demonstrations of human irrationality in the heuristics and biases literature In these critiques it has been posited that experimenters have observed performance errors rather than systematically irrational responses the tasks have required computational operations that exceed human cognitive capacity experimenters have applied the wrong normative model to the task and participants have misinterpreted the tasks In a comprehensive set of studies Stanovich demonstrates that gaps between normative and descriptive models of performance on some tasks can be accounted for by positing these alternative explanations but that not all discrepancies from normative models can be so explained Individual differences in rational thought can in part be predicted by psychological dispositions that are interpreted as characteristic biases in people s intentional level psychologies Presenting the most comprehensive examination of individual differences in the heuristics and biases literature that has yet been published experiments and theoretical insights in this volume contextualize the heuristics and biases literature exemplified in the work of various investigators The Triangle of Mu Phi Epsilon ,1919 The Theory of Knowledge Leonard Trelawny Hobhouse,1896 Automotive Industries ,1924 Automotive Industries, the Automobile ,1924
