Herlihy, 2025-10-24 To augment the Royal Irish Constabulary during the Land War 1879-82 a new auxiliary police force was raised entitled the Royal Irish Constabulary Auxiliary Force RICAF. In Dec 1881 it began recruiting candidates from Ireland, England, Scotland, and Wales. Its 440 members, after a short period of training in the Curragh Military Camp in Co. Kildare, were armed and deployed to remote areas of the country occupying specially adapted steel-clad and concrete-covered timber huts with the primary mission of affording security to threatened landlords. The RICAF was disbanded in August 1883 and during its short existence suffered no casualties. This book contains an alphabetical list of the 440 men who enlisted as sub-constables in the RICAF. Each entry includes the surname, forename, registered number, birth year, native county, previous occupation, height, religion, marital status, enlistment date, by whom they were recommended, constabulary division to which they were allocated, departure date, and remarks. It also includes an in-depth analysis of the RICAF by religion, age, marital status, occupations, countries, and counties of birth, and allocations by constabulary divisions. Not indexed. Not illustrated. 1871 edition. Excerpt: the history of the royal irish constabulary chapter I position of matters previous to the formation of the constabulary early half a century is a long time to look back upon in describing the first formation of an institution nevertheless the origin, progress, and maturity of the Irish constabulary can readily be traced. It will not be necessary to enter into a minute detail of the several attempts which were made from time to time by the legislature to form a system of police calculated to meet the requirements of the state of Ireland at a period of from twenty to thirty years previous to the formation of the Irish constabulary. To give a short summary of the different Acts of Parliament which were passed with the professed object of preserving the peace, and a few of their leading provisions, will be sufficient. Indeed, one of them was universally known as the Peace Preservation Act. In 1787 an Act was passed the 27th of Geo. III. ch. 40, entitled An Act for the better Execution of the Law and the Preservation of the Peace within Counties at large. This Act empowered the Lord Lieutenant to appoint a chief constable to each one or more baronies, while the grand juries had power given to them to appoint sixteen sub-constables to each of the same districts, and it was a provision in the Act that they should be Protestants. They were entitled to a sum of three pence a mile for the conveyance of all prisoners whom they might apprehend. The World of Constable John Hennigan, Royal Irish Constabulary 1912 - 1922

Hal Hennigan, 2018-11-16 In 1912 the average Irish Constable was a generally useful member of society filling in numerous forms in the role of minor bureaucrat and pursuing petty criminals. He had little to do with firearms. By 1922 he had become an outcast to many and a friend to few. Those who thought his treatment unjust were generally unwilling to take the risk of saying so. This is the story of how an average country policeman was caught up in the swirl of political movements which led to murderous violence. I look at the social and political contexts of historical events. Caught between the hammer of IRA violence and the anvil of government obduracy, the regular constables became sacrifices to political expediency Using the police career of John Hennigan as a framework this book follows public events in chronological order while bringing to mind the little details of everyday life Royal Irish Constabulary officers.
