Brown,David Nash,Charlie Lynch,2022-12-15 Humanists have been a major force in British life since the turn of the 20th century Here leading historians of religious non belief Callum Brown David Nash and Charlie Lynch examine how humanist organisations brought ethical reform and rationalism to the nation as it faced the moral issues of the modern world This book provides a long overdue account of this dynamic group Developing through the Ethical Union 1896 the Rationalist Press Association 1899 the British Humanist Association 1963 and Humanists UK 2017 Humanists sought to reduce religious privilege but increase humanitarian compassion and human rights After pioneering legislation on blasphemy laws dignity in dying and abortion rights they went on to help design new laws on gay marriage and sex and moral education Internationally they endeavoured to end war and world hunger And with Humanist marriages and celebration of life through Humanist funerals national ritual and culture have recently been transformed Based on extensive archival and oral history research this is the definitive history of Humanists as an ethical force in modern Britain Army and Navy Journal ,1942 Screening the Fleet Jonathan Rayner,2025-02-04 In Screening the Fleet Prof Jonathan Rayner explores the representation of the modern Royal Navy on British television over a fifty year period from 1973 to 2023 Contextualising his subject with significant aspects of earlier naval representation in recruiting documentary and public information films from the 1940s to the 1960s Rayner then brings his focus forward to 1973 2023 The 1970s were a significant decade for naval representation on television and saw the broadcast of two definitive series the BBC's drama series Warship and the acclaimed documentary series Sailor These landmark series set the benchmark for naval representation in both realist and in fictional portrayals They also set precedents for audience perceptions and these have affected the production and the reception of the series on the Royal Navy that have followed Rayner's work investigates how advances in technology allow programme makers to use new techniques in the spheres of naval drama and documentary More recent series also need to balance the required conventions for any portrayal of the navy on television with the revelatory or iconoclastic approaches now expected by modern audiences In focussing on the changing portrayal of the Royal Navy on television however Rayner also surfaces how the Navy itself has evolved in the post World War II world The series analysed in Screening the Fleet also evidence the changing nature and increasing diversity of the naval community as a reflection of changing notions of Britishness Offering the first study of its type this volume highlights evolving and emerging trends in factual and fact based television programmes through their portrayal of a highly popular patriotic and persistent subject over a fifty year period It debates developments in television and documentary approaches using the representation of the Royal Navy and its changing position in perceptions of British identity Army, Navy, Air Force Journal & Register ,1942 Oxford Dictionary of National Biography 2005-2008
