

What are Rights?

What are Responsibilities?

To follow rules at home, school, and in the community.	To stand up for your rights and the rights of others.	Take care of your own bodies as best as possible.	Respecting the rights and opinions of (not always agreeing with) others.
Take care of your property and respect other people's property.	To learn as best as possible in school and at home.	Caring about others who may not be as strong as you or who may need help.	To be the best person you can be each day.

Things that might happen when someone is not responsible:

- Others may be bullied or treated unfairly, and feel unsafe.
- Others may have to do a job that is someone else's responsibility.
- There could be consequences such as being punished or harmed.
- People may not feel cared about and become unhappy.
- Kids in a classroom may find it hard to learn new things.

Everyone in the world is different and special and deserves to be respected. Everyone has rights, but in order to enjoy those rights, it is important to be responsible. In addition, when you are responsible, your family, friends, neighbors, and other community members can enjoy their rights too.

What right do you have that is most important to you?
What is the most difficult responsibility that you have to do each day?
