

WORLD DOMINATION RISK®

OBJECT OF THE GAME

To conquer the world by occupying every territory on the board, thus eliminating all your opponents.

SETUP

Unlike most games, RISK demands careful planning before you actually start to play. This Initial Army Placement sets the stage for the battles you'll fight later on.

INITIAL ARMY PLACEMENT consists of these steps:

1. Select a color and, depending on the number of players, count out the "armies" you'll need to start the game.
 - If 2 are playing, see instructions on page 11.
 - If 3 are playing, each player counts out 35 Infantry.
 - If 4 are playing, each player counts out 30 Infantry.
 - If 5 are playing, each player counts out 25 Infantry.
 - If 6 are playing, each player counts out 20 Infantry.
2. Roll one die. Whoever rolls the highest number takes one Infantry piece from his or her pile and places it onto any territory on the board, thus claiming that territory.
3. Starting to the left of the first player, everyone in turn places one army onto any unoccupied territory. Continue until all 42 territories have been claimed.
4. After all 42 territories are claimed, each player in turn places one additional army onto any territory he or she already occupies. Continue in this way until everyone has run out of armies. There is no limit to the number of armies you may place onto a single territory.

To complete game SETUP:

5. Shuffle the pack of RISK cards (remove the Mission cards) and place it, face down, by the side of the board. This pack forms the draw pile.
6. Whoever placed the first army takes the first turn.
