

RISES

The background of the cover is a vibrant, abstract composition. It features a dark green base color, overlaid with numerous expressive brushstrokes in bright red, yellow, and light blue. Scattered throughout the entire scene are numerous small, black silhouettes of birds in flight, some appearing as simple shapes and others as more complex, winged forms. The overall effect is one of dynamic movement and intense energy.

Sharing in the Son's Inheritance Esau McCaulley, 2019-09-05 This book explores the link between Paul's belief that Jesus is Israel's Messiah and his interpretation of the Abrahamic Land Promise in Galatians. Countering claims that Paul replaces the Promised Land with the gift of the Spirit or salvation, Esau McCaulley argues that Paul expands this inheritance to include the whole earth, believing that as the seed of Abraham and David, Jesus is entitled to the entire world as his inheritance and kingdom. McCaulley argues that scholars have neglected Paul's expanded interpretation of the inheritance of the earth, rarely appreciate the role that messianism plays in Galatians, and fail to acknowledge that Second Temple authors often portrayed royal and messianic figures as God's means of fulfilling the promises made to Abraham and Israel via the establishment of kingdoms. Through a comparison of texts from the Pseudepigrapha, apocrypha, and the Dead Sea Scrolls with Galatians 3:1-4, 7:5-21, McCaulley argues that Paul's interpretation of Jesus's death is a manifestation of Second Temple messianism because it ends the covenant curses outlined in Deuteronomy and begins the restoration of the inheritance to Abraham's offspring through the establishment of Jesus's worldwide kingdom. He concludes that Paul's interpretation of the Abrahamic inheritance is inseparable from his belief that Jesus is Israel's Messiah.
