Searching for My Shangri La John Staniland,2024-01-15

Searching for My Shangri La is the author s second of book on the region after Midlife Meanderings in SE Asia It is about continuing an independent and unstructured journey through this fascinating part of the world on a shoe string budget Largely using public transport the author travelled from southern Thailand to Malaysia to explore the islands of Langkawi and Penang A boat then took him across the Straits of Malacca to Medan the capital of Indonesia which is to the north of the large island state of Sumatra After an exhilarating and often uncomfortable journey southwards he found himself opposite Singapore and needed to take a ferry across to this city state to continue his journey by air to Hong Kong After a thorough exploration of this former British Colonial outpost a fast ferry took him on to Macau A couple of days are then spent in this exhilarating former Portuguese colony preparing to explore southwest China and a comprehensive voyage of discovery of the Yunnan Province to the edge of the Himalayas Returning to Thailand meant undertaking a bizarre journey down the Mekong flanked by Burma and Laos Once reacquainted with northern Thailand there were a few days before it was time to head to Bangkok for the flight back to the UK

Lost in Translation Nicole Mones,2007-12-18 A novel of searing intelligence and startling originality Lost in Translation heralds the debut of a unique new voice on the literary landscape Nicole Mones creates an unforgettable story of love and desire of family ties and human conflict and of one woman s struggle to lose herself in a foreign land only to discover her home her heart herself At dawn in Beijing Alice Mannegan pedals a bicycle through the deserted streets An American by birth a translator by profession she spends her nights in Beijing s smoke filled bars and the Chinese men she so desires never misunderstand her intentions All around her rushes the air of China the scent of history and change of a world where she has come to escape her father's love and her own pain It is a world in which each night as she slips from her hotel she hopes to lose herself forever For Alice it began with a phone call from an American archaeologist seeking a translator And it ended in an intoxicating journey of the heart one that would plunge her into a nation's past and into some of the most rarely glimpsed regions of China Hired by an archaeologist searching for the bones of Peking Man Alice joins an expedition that penetrates a vast uncharted land and brings Professor Lin Shiyang into her life As they draw closer to unearthing the secret of Peking Man as the group's every move is followed their every whisper recorded Alice and Lin find shelter in each other slowly putting to rest the ghosts of their pasts What happens between them becomes one of the most breathtakingly erotic love stories in recent fiction Indeed Lost in Translation is a novel about love between a nation and its past between a man and a memory between a father and a daughter Its powerful impact confirms the extraordinary gifts of a master storyteller Nicole Mones

Being and Neonness, Translation and content revised, augmented, and updated for this edition by Luis de Miranda Luis De Miranda, 2019-04-16 A cultural and philosophical history of neon from Paris in the twentieth century to the perpetually switched on present day For most of us the word neon conjures images of lights colors nightlife and streets It evokes the poetry of city nights For Luis de Miranda neon is a subject of philosophical curiosity Being and Neonness is a cultural and philosophical history of neon from early twentieth century Paris to the electric perpetually switched on present day Manhattan It is an inspired journey through a century of night deciphering the halos of the past and the reflections of the present to shed light on the future Invented in Paris in 1912 neon first appeared on a modest but arresting sign outside a small barbershop the sign lit up number 14 Boulevard Montmartre attracting so many passersby that the barber's revenues soon doubled A century later neon is no longer just a sign it is a mythic object a metonymy of contemporary identity and a metaphor for the present signifying the ubiquity of commerce and the tautology of hypermodernity But perhaps the noble gas of neon whispers something more something deeper In ten short poetic yet precise chapters de Miranda explores the neon lights of the twentieth century He considers among other historical curiosities the neon compulsions of the Italian Futurists the Soviet program of neonization the Nazi's deployment of neon for propaganda purposes Baudelaire's halo and Benjamin's aura neon as a gas and crystallized chaos neon and power neon and capitalism all of this backlit by an original reading of Sartre's Being and Nothingness This English edition has been thoroughly revised and adapted from the French edition L'ère du néon
