Interactive Systems. Design, Specification, and Verification T. C. Nicholas Graham, Philippe Palanque, 2008-07-01 The modern world has made available a wealth of new possibilities for interacting with computers through advanced Web applications while on the go with handheld smart telephones or using electronic tabletops or wall sized displays Developers of modern interactive systems face great problems how to design applications which will work well with newly available technologies and how to efficiently and correctly implement such designs Design Specification and Verification of Interactive Systems 2008 was the 15th of a series of annual workshops devoted to helping designers and implementers of interactive systems unleash the power of modern interaction devices and techniques DSV IS 2008 was held at Queen s University in Kingston Canada during July 16 18 2008 This book collects the best papers submitted to the workshop There were 17 full papers 10 late breaking and experience report papers and two demonstrations Keynote presentations were provided by Judy Brown of Carleton University and Randy Ellis of Queen s University The first day of the workshop addressed the problems of user interface evaluation and specification with particular emphasis on the use of task models to provide hi level approaches for capturing the intended functionality of a user interface Day two continued this theme examining techniques for modeling user interfaces particularly for mobile and ubiquitous applications Presenters also discussed advanced implem tation techniques for interactive systems Finally day three considered how to arc tect interactive systems and returned to the themes of evaluation and specification Toyota Corolla Repair Manual Toyota Jidōsha Kabushiki Kaisha, 1971

Integrated Air Quality Management Nguyen Thi Kim Oanh, 2012-07-05 The steady growth in the number of vehicles on the road heavy reliance on coal use of dirty fuels for residential combustion and extensive open burning are some of the major factors leading to the progressive deterioration of air quality in developing countries in Asia And despite efforts to establish and implement air quality measurement systems the development of infrastructure environmental technology and management practices continues to lag behind the rate of emission increase Based on ten years of coordinated research Integrated Air Quality Management Asian Case Studies discusses technical and policy tools for the integrated air quality management of developing countries in Asia The book begins with an overview of major issues of air quality management practices in developing Asia and potential approaches to reduce pollution including opportunities for integration of air quality improvement and climate migration strategies It covers the methodology and results of fine particulate matter monitoring using traditional filter based and satellite monitoring techniques It examines the applications of a 3D dispersion modeling tool for urban and regional air quality management focusing on surface ozone fine particulate matter and acid deposition The final chapters discuss innovative control technologies for gaseous air pollutants and illustrate the integrated air quality management in developing Asia through case studies for target source categories including agricultural residue field burning vehicle emissions brick kilns and industrial VOC emission Illustrated with case studies this book presents an integrated air quality management methodology that employs technical and policy tools to achieve air quality goals. It includes technical information and policy recommendations based on the outcomes of several multi-year air quality research programs coordinated by the Asian Institute of Technology. The text combines fundamental information and advanced knowledge useful to large audiences dealing with subjects of integrated air quality management.

Behavioral Archaeology Michael B. Schiffer, 2016-04-08 Behavioral archaeology offers a way of examining the past by highlighting human engagement with the material culture of the time. Behavioral Archaeology: Principles and Practice offers a broad overview of the methods and theories used in this approach to archaeology. Opening with an overview of the history and key concepts, the book goes on to systematically cover both principles and practice, the philosophy of science and the scientific method, artifacts and human behavior, archaeological inference, formation processes of the archaeological record, technological change, behavioral change, and ritual and religion. Detailed case studies show the relevance of behavioral method and theory to the wider field of archaeological studies. The book will be invaluable to students of archaeology and anthropology.

Inside the Mind of Toyota Satoshi Hino, 2024-11-01 Winner of a Shingo Research and Professional Publication Award, Toyota's sustained growth attracts the attention of economists and industrialists around the world eager to learn the secrets of Toyota's lasting success. In Inside the Mind of Toyota: Management Principles for Enduring Growth, Satoshi Hino examines the source of Toyota's strength: the fundamental thinking and management structures that lie beneath the creation of its famed Toyota Production System. From the perspective of a professional with 30 years' experience in the auto industry, Hino presents a fresh and detailed analysis of Toyota's essential management system from its very beginnings into the 21st century. The ultimate goal is not simply to mimic Toyota's formula but to learn from it and, in doing so, surpass it. From the Translator's Foreword: Unlike most Toyota watchers, Hino urges us to set our sights not on replicating Toyota's success but on surpassing it. This point is crucial because it moves our attention away from slavish imitation of what is visible on the surface and challenges us to tap into deeper and more powerful mechanisms of excellence. This is not a
