2000 provides an encompassing survey of artistic responses to the changes in the British cultural climate in the early years of the 21st century. It traces topical reactions to new forms of racism and religious fundamentalism to legal as well as illegal immigration and to the threat of global terror yet it also highlights new forms of intercultural communication and convivial exchange. Framed by contributions from novelists Patrick Neate and Rameez Balasubramanyam, Multi Ethnic Britain 2000 showcases how artistic representations in literature, film, music and the visual arts reflect and respond to social and political discourses and how they contribute to our understanding of the current trans cultural situation in Britain. The contributions in this volume cover a wide range of writers such as Graham Swift, Ian McEwan, Zadie Smith, Jackie Kay, Nadeem Aslam, Gautam Malkani, Nirpal Dhaliwal and Monica Ali, films ranging from Gurinder Chadha's Bend It Like Beckham and Bride and Prejudice to Michael Winterbottom's In This World and Alfonso Cuarón's Children of Men, paintings and photography by innovative black and Asian British Artists and dubstep music.

Uncovering Memory Tanja Sakota, 2023-03

My interest in site specific research is not random. My mother escaped through the sewers of Breslau, Germany in 1945, today known as Wrocław, Poland. My father was born in a country that no longer exists. Their final destination was Johannesburg, South Africa. This is where I enter the narrative. I was born during apartheid and my interest in memory and identity is a result of my historical and political context. Each one of us comes with a history, a complex web of DNA and a library of information that shapes who we are and how we view the world. How can we use our own complexities not only to engage with one another but to build it for story content? As an artistic researcher, filmmaker and educator, Tanja Sakota has often thought how to bring this subjective experience into pedagogical practice. Using paired themes of memory and forgetting, segregation and migration, perpetrators and victims, Sakota travels along a timeline of memory as she takes us on a journey through South Africa, Germany, Poland and Bosnia Herzegovina. Using a camera and short film techniques, she hosts several workshops focused on interacting and engaging with remembering through different memory sites. The author sits at the core but the book is an interdisciplinary work shaped around films made by different participants using the camera to access and unveil personal interpretations of space and place. Questions that underpin the uncovering of memories are: How does one use a camera to unmask invisible memories hidden within sites? How does one remember events that one hasn't necessarily experienced? How does one use film to interrogate the past from the future present? As the journey evolves, workshop participants and readers alike enter into a conversation around practice based research autoethnography and film Uncovering Memory is not a handbook offering a prescriptive method Instead it is a pedagogical text that offers an interactive approach for students and peers to consider adapt or react to in their own teaching and learning practices The narrative encourages readers to self reflect as they explore their own memory using the camera and short film format as an engaging tool for research and knowledge production
