Jack Goldstein Troy Brauntuch Robert Longo and Gretchen Bender raised pressing questions about what it means to perceive the world historically in a society saturated by images Bigman argues that their references to past cataclysms to the violence wrought by authoritarianism and totalitarianism represent not only a coded form of political commentary about the 1980s but also a piercing reflection on the nature of collective memory Throughout Bigman situates their work within a larger cultural context including parallel trends in music fashion cinema and literature Pictures and the Past probes the shifting relationships between art popular culture memory and politics in the 1970s and 80s examining how the specter of fascism loomed for artists then and the ways it still looms for us today
