

Uses of Social Media

We are living nowadays in the social media period. Everyone uses Facebook; Instagram; YouTube; Tweeter; etc to communicate with people and shares things with his friends. There are lots of positive and negative uses of social media in our daily life. The positive uses can lead people to productive use of time, peace of mind and happiness, healthy conversations in which people like and enjoy by sharing personal and professional activities with a wide variety of people, groups, and communities.

The negative uses of social media start when we don't have an alternative to spending time. When people are bored with work when students are bored with the study when they feel low or even highly confident they go on social media. Sometime to show the confidence by sharing their latest achievements with friends. Sometimes to evoke empathy by sharing something sentimental with the world. Everyone uses it differently. And many of us are using social media as per our priorities and knowledge to achieve our means.

Social Media is a time pass platform for most people, especially the younger population. The content on social media is so much engaging that people even forget about the time and their sense of purpose and goals. Today, social media networking websites and apps create captivating content to make people excited and conversational, but this happens to such an extent that people find themselves being addicted to it.

Productive uses of social media:

If users want to gain from the advantages of social media websites and apps in their daily life then they first need to understand clearly about the productive uses of social media.

When people congregate and interact on a social platform, the productive uses of social media can be seen when they share and exchange content that has common values and goals with each other. It means people build strong

Social Media Essay Conclusion:

Social Media and Your Brain C.G. Prado, 2016-11-21 While society has widely condemned the effects on preteens and teens natural social maturation of digitally enabled communication such as texting and messaging and of social media apps such as Facebook Instagram and SnapChat these forms of communication are adversely affecting everyone including adults This book examines how social media and modern communication methods are isolating users socially jeopardizing their intellectual habits and as a result decreasing their chances of achieving social and professional success The ubiquitous use of the Internet and social media is changing our society in some ways for the worse Use of social media the Internet and other purely digital and less personal communication methods are distorting the intellectual and social maturation of teens and preteens in particular those among us who were born into and raised with Internet technology People's ability to read facial expressions interpret subtle differences in spoken intonation and perceive body language is in significant decline due to the use of social media and the Internet largely replacing direct face to face contact with other human beings This book documents how changes in our daily behavior caused by the proliferation of social media are reshaping individuals personalities and causing an evolution of the character of our society as a whole Readers will understand how these important changes came about and how more connectivity all too often leads to more ignorance and less comprehension and will consider solutions that could counter the negative effects of being too connected too often
