Languages matter UNESCO,2025-02-15      Handbook of Research on Innovative Approaches to Early Childhood Development and School Readiness Betts, Anastasia Lynn,Thai, Khanh-Phuong,2022-02-11 School readiness is as much about schools recognizing the existing capabilities and knowledge each child has when they enter school as it is about supporting children and families in their preparation for entering formal learning environments Effective approaches that address learning variability must take these differences into account recognizing and leveraging opportunities inherent in the child s ecosystem of resources The Handbook of Research on Innovative Approaches to Early Childhood Development and School Readiness assembles the most current research and thought leadership on the ways in which innovative education stakeholders are working together to impact the most critical years in a child s life the years leading up to and including kindergarten Covering topics such as change agency experience quality and social emotional development this book is a crucial resource for educational researchers child development professionals school administrators pre K teachers pre service teachers program managers policymakers non profit service organizations early childhood EdTech developers curriculum developers and academicians      The Ideology of Competition in School Music Sean Robert Powell,2023 The Ideology of Competition in School Music explores competition as a structuring force in school music and provides critiques of that system from multiple philosophical and theoretical perspectives Competition is seen by many music teachers students and supporters as natural and inevitable a taken for granted aspect of music education or an irresistible force rather than a choice This book uncovers this ideological nature of competition and examines its effect on student learning teacher agency and equity within music education It considers ways in which music educators might reconsider the role of competition in their teaching practice and offers alternative frameworks for organizing school music In this book author Sean Robert Powell views competition as a microcosm of the wider neoliberal capitalist society in which subjects are interpellated in an antagonistic competitive field as market logic dictates a system of accountability reduction and audit culture Music teachers students and education administrators consciously and unconsciously reinforce replicate and sustain the competitive structure even if they do so while expressing a cynical disavowal Powell considers competition broadly including for example formal competitions between schools in which ensembles are given numerical scores and ranked festivals in which groups are given ratings based on pre given criteria state regional and national honor ensembles hierarchical arrangements within school music programs or simply the pursuit of social prestige reputation and ever higher performance standards Although the book provides examples from the competitive landscape of school music in the United States and especially Texas considered a hyper example of competitive culture Powell s analyses and discussions are relevant to readers in any context around the world Although the degree to which competitive achievement as an explicitly stated aim of instruction varies from program to program and location to location the realism of neoliberal capitalism and its effect on all aspects of education is a global phenomenon

Associations between Reading and Mathematics: Genetic, Brain Imaging, Cognitive and Educational Perspectives Sarit Ashkenazi, Orly Rubinsten, Bert De Smedt, 2017-10-05 Converging evidence demonstrates a strong link between reading and mathematics multiple cognitive processes are shared between reading and mathematics including the representation and retrieval of symbolic information attention working memory and cognitive control Additionally multiple brain networks are involved in both math and reading and last common genetic factors might influence both reading and math Hence it comes as no surprise that there are meaningful associations between aspects of math and reading abilities Moreover comorbidity rates between math learning disabilities MD and reading disabilities RD are high up to 66% and prevalence rate of the comorbid condition is reported to be more common than the prevalence rate of isolated math learning disabilities Accordingly the goal of the research topic is to explore the underline mechanisms of this overlap between reading and math The research topic aims to include the following topics Genetics it has been found that both RD and MD are based on genetic factors and run in families Moreover math problem solving shares significant genetic overlap with general cognitive ability and reading decoding whereas math fluency shares significant genetic overlap with reading fluency and general cognitive ability Hence this topic will explore the shared and unique genetic risk factors to RD and MD In addition to shared and unique genetic influence on reading and math Neural perspective converging evidence from both structural and multiple functional imaging studies involving a wide range of numerical tasks points to the intraparietal sulcus IPS as a core region that involve in quantity manipulation However several additional brain areas such as frontoparietal and temporoparietal areas were found to be involved in numerical tasks Individuals with MD show deficits in a distributed set of brain regions that include the IPS fusiform gyrus in posterior brain regions and pre frontal cortex regions Similarly converging evidence indicate that the left hemisphere regions centered in the fusiform gyrus temporoparietal cortex and pre frontal cortex regions are strongly involve in typical reading and present lower activity connectivity or abnormal structure in RD Thus there is a meaningful neural overlap between reading and math Hence the authors can submit empirical studies on the role of several of brain regions that are involved in math and reading commonality and diversity both in the typical and atypical development Cognitive factors that play role in mathematics and reading and comorbidity between RD and MD There is a long lasting debate whether MD and RD originate from unique cognitive mechanisms or not Multiple cognitive processes are shared between reading and mathematics Therefore impairments in any one of domain general skills could conceivably play an important role in both pure and comorbid conditions Moreover it has been suggested that phonological processing has a significant role in some aspects of numerical processing such as retrieval of arithmetical facts Education it will be interesting to look at the effect of interventions that aim to improve reading such as phonological awareness and there transfer effect on improving mathematical processing Alternatively it will be good to test whether math interventions will improve reading      USAF Formal Schools United States.
