for content in learning. That's why the new MySocLab exercises focus on learning outcomes with immediate feedback to engage your students, assess their learning, and help them succeed.

The new MySocLab delivers precise results, including students' personal progress, ongoing assessments, and personalized learning and content that is tailored to each student's individual needs and learning style.

Engage

The new MySocLab provides interactive resources for students.

For example, the Social Systems activities, based on the "Theory of Change" activity, focus on the fact that students are not only a part of their own community, but also a part of the global community.

Secondary education also helps current and future students.

"Sociology in Focus" Feature Boxes (found in each chapter) are the chapters' current events and social issues. They are designed to help students see the connection between the world around them and the world they live in.

The Feature Boxes are designed to help students see the connection between the world around them and the world they live in. They are designed to help students see the connection between the world around them and the world they live in.

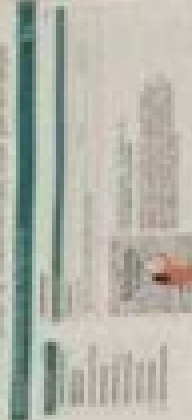

Assess

Written by John Malinowski, the MySocLab assessment features are of the highest quality.

Assessments are designed to help students understand the connection between the world around them and the world they live in. They are designed to help students see the connection between the world around them and the world they live in.

Succeed

A personalized study plan for each student, based on their learning style, helps them understand the connection between the world around them and the world they live in. They are designed to help students see the connection between the world around them and the world they live in.
