The Routledge Handbook of Critical Finance Studies Christian Borch, Robert Wosnitzer, 2020-09-15 There has been an increasing interest in financial markets across sociology history anthropology cultural studies and related disciplines over the past decades with particular intensity since the 2007 2008 crisis which prompted new analyses of the workings of financial markets and how scandals of Wall Street might have huge societal ramifications The sociologically inclined landscape of finance studies is characterized by different more or less well established homogeneous camps with more micro empirical social studies of finance approaches on the one end of the spectrum and more theoretical often neo Marxist approaches on the other Yet alternative approaches are also gaining traction including work that emphasizes the cultural homologies and interconnections with finance as well as work that more broadly is both empirically rigorous and theoretically ambitious. Importantly across these various approaches to finance a growing body of literature is taking shape which engages finance in a critical manner. The term critical finance studies nonetheless remains largely unfocused and undefined. Against this backdrop the key rationales of The Routledge Handbook of Critical Finance Studies are firstly to provide a coherent notion of this emergent field and secondly to demonstrate its analytical usefulness across a wide range of central aspects of contemporary finance. As such the volume will offer a comprehensive guide to students and academics on the field of Finance and Critical Finance Studies. Heterodox Economics Accounting and related Management disciplines. Chapter 14 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license.

The City on Screen: Modern Strangers of Cinematic Istanbul Sertaç Timur Demir, 2024-01-02. The City on Screen: Modern Strangers of Cinematic Istanbul attempts to analyze how Istanbul is captured through the projector in other words the ontological relationship between city and film and how it is elaborated within the context of Istanbul and the sense of strangerhood. This book shifts the axis of Istanbul typically known as a touristic city to its underlying details through the strangers in the modern city. Five different films set in this region are analyzed in the text that help to reveal and clarify the socio-urban life of modern Istanbul. The characters and stories in these films tell how Istanbul has socially and architecturally become a city of strangers. The films analyzed include A Touch of Spice 2004, Men on the Bridge 2009, A Run for Money 1999, Distant 2002 and 10 to 11 2009. The theoretical framework of this book is based on the works of Georg Simmel, Zygmunt Bauman and Richard Sennett. These three thinkers have all attempted to look for answers to the sociological question of strangerhood in urban living. This book accomplishes this connection by discussing the similarities and differences between each of their theories regarding the city, cinema and strangerhood.
