

Venipuncture

Blood collection procedure guide

Gather all equipment, wash hands, and put on sterile gloves.

Ask the patient to make a fist and select the venipuncture site in the antecubital fossa.

Disinfect the area with a 70% alcohol swab, working from the center outwards.

Apply a tourniquet about 3 to 4 inches above the site.

Anchor the selected vein with thumb and index finger.

Enter the vein swiftly and ensure blood is flowing.

After blood has been collected, release the tourniquet before withdrawing the needle.

Remove and immediately invert the tube 8 to 10 times to mix the sample with the tube additives.

Discard the used needle in the sharps container.

Remove gloves and wash hands with soap and water.

Label the tube for transport to the lab, indicating:

- Patient's full name
- Patient ID
- Birth date
- Date of sample.

Phlebotomy Training Manual and Guide to Practical Phlebotomy Don C. Dodson, American Academy of Health Sciences Press, 1994 The Hitchhiker's Guide to Improving Efficiency in the Clinical Laboratory Frederick L. Kiechle, Rhonda Ingram Main, 2002

The Journey Lisa Wylie, 2019-04-17 Phlebotomist specialist Lisa Wylie has been in the healthcare field for over two decades and has amassed a wealth of experience. Her milestones as a laboratory expert include but are not limited to owning a mobile phlebotomy company and patient service center and getting licensed to operate a CLIA WAIVED lab. With the comfort and convenience of her clients at the core of her mind, she brings her top notch laboratory experience to the homes of her clients. To Lisa, phlebotomy is a very important part of healthcare and a deep rooted desire to render to the laboratory its due credit was the start of her writing career. Basking in her passion for kids, her books are designed to educate them about blood and the laboratory. Lisa loves to help others acquire new knowledge, thus she offers phlebotomy classes as one of the first start of her private business. While she has no hobby, in particular quality time with her family is a must have.
