With ever-growing technological advancements and genetic altering, seedbanks have become redundant and unnecessary due to its poor diversity of plants and the better alternatives that have come about such as Gene Banks, Biotechnology, National Conservation Parks and Genetically Modified (GM) crops.

Gene Banks are used for science which allows for there to be new inventions and many improved developments in the biotechnological field. Gene Banks hold access to crucial crops such as maize, which is used in the daily lives of most of the world's population. They also house important genetic material of plants that grow successfully in drier climates, making them a crucial resource to the farming industry. They also increase the commercial trade of important crops such as coffee, palm oil and cocoa which help the economy. Unfortunately they do not have a wild relatives of crops however they still preserve an exceedingly large portion of seeds and do not require a large amount of money to maintain, making them more efficient, reliable and necessary than seed banks.

According to National Geographic, a world-renowned scientific organization, Biotechnology has been used by agriculturists to improve plants for many years. The results are that crops are now able to withstand herbicide damage as well as develop disease resistance abilities, an example of this would be the papaya fruit. Gene Editing through biotechnology is a cheaper, faster and more advanced method than growing original plants from seeds that would come from a seed bank. The crops that result from this method are also more valuable as they are bigger, sweeter, and more desirable for the consumer. Although some of these genes are brought from the seeds of the seed bank, making the seed bank a relatively adequate source, it is not a necessity. It also does not affect the better and more efficient outcome of the use of biotechnology rather than mundane seed-planting. Therefore, biotechnology is more efficient and necessary than seed banks because the results are much more desirable.

National Parks are a better alternative to seed banks because they are able to conserve certain threatened and important plants that the seed banks are unable to store. A large percentage of threatened and endangered species are incompatible with the methods of the seed banks, because they cannot be safely stored. According to a collective of specialized scientific doctors and

Life, Learning, and Community David C. Brubaker, Joel H. Ostroff, 2023-07-03 This book represents the 18th of AAHE's series on service learning in the disciplines and focuses on service learning strategies and models in biology. Although there are obvious applications for service learning in such fields as nursing and teacher education, incorporating it into natural science courses has not always seemed practical to science instructors. This book not only provides strong arguments for using service learning in biology courses but also gives real life examples of how it has been successfully used in biology curricula. X-kit Fet G11 Life Sciences Clitheroe, F, 2010 Science Tests and Reviews Buros Center, 1975 Science Tests and Reviews consisting of science sections of the first seven MMYs and Tests in Print II includes 217 original test reviews written by 81 specialists 18 excerpted test reviews 270 references on the construction use and validity of specific tests a bibliography on in print science tests references for specific tests cumulative name indexes for specific tests with references a publishers directory title index name index and a scanning index The 97 tests covered fall into the following categories 23 general 14 biology 35 chemistry 3 geology 6 miscellaneous and 16 physics Complete Book of Colleges Princeton Review (Firm), 2009-08-04 Target the schools that best match your interests and goals The Complete Book of Colleges profiles all of the four year colleges in the U S more than 1 600 and is the key to a successful college search Complete Book of Colleges is packed with all of the information that prospective applicants need to know including the details on Academics Admissions requirements Application procedures Tuition and fees Transferring options Housing Financial Aid Athletics and much much more Fully updated for 2010 the Complete Book of Colleges contains all of the latest information about each school Its unique Admissions Wizard questionnaire is designed to help you find schools that meet your individual needs With competition for college admission at an all time high count on The Princeton Review to provide you with the most thorough and accurate guidance on the market Complete Book of Colleges, 2005 Edition Princeton Review (Firm), 2004-07-20 Up to date information on 1 780 colleges and universities The Complete Book of Colleges 2021 The Princeton Review, 2020-07 The mega guide to 1 349 colleges and universities by the staff of the Princeton Review including detailed information on admissions financial aid cost and more Cover Competition Science Vision, 2003-03 Competition Science Vision monthly magazine is published by Pratiyogita Darpan Group in India and is one of the best Science monthly magazines available for medical entrance examination students in India Well qualified professionals of Physics Chemistry Zoology and Botany make contributions to this magazine and craft it with focus on providing complete and to the point study material for aspiring candidates The magazine covers General Knowledge Science and Technology news Interviews of toppers of examinations study material of Physics Chemistry Zoology and Botany with model papers reasoning test questions facts quiz contest general awareness and mental ability test in every monthly issue Resources in Education, 1997 The Complete Book of Colleges, 2020 Edition Princeton Review, 2019-07-02 No one knows colleges better than The Princeton
