children to the schools leading the government adopt ever more coercive attendance regulations While parents became subject to ever more punitive regulations the government did little to regulate discipline diet fire safety or sanitation at the schools By the period s end the government was presiding over a nation wide series of firetraps that had no clear educational goals and were economically dependent on the unpaid labour of underfed and often sickly children The Pacific Rural Press and California Farmer ,1887 Normal Instructor and Teachers World ,1923 English Mechanic and World of Science ,1887
