The Lower to Middle Palaeolithic Transition in Northwestern Europe Ann Van Baelen, 2017-10-17 A well preserved early Middle Palaeolithic site set against a wider northwestern European context The shift from Lower to Middle Palaeolithic in northwestern Europe dated to around 300 000 250 000 years ago remains poorly understood and underexplored compared to more recent archaeological transitions During this period stone tool technologies underwent significant changes but the limited number of known sites and the general low spatio temporal resolution of the archaeological record in many cases has impeded detailed behavioural inferences Brickyard quarrying activities at Kesselt Op de Schans Limburg Belgium led to the discovery and excavation of a well preserved early Middle Palaeolithic level buried beneath a 10 m thick loess palaeosol sequence The present volume offers a comprehensive report on the site dated to around 280 000 years ago set against a wider northwestern European context An in depth study of the lithic assemblage including an extensive refitting analysis provides detailed information on the technological behaviour of prehistoric hominins in the Meuse basin during this crucial time period Contributors Jozef J Hus Royal Meteorological Institute of Belgium Frank Lehmkuhl RWTH Aachen University Erik P M Meijs ArcheoGeoLab Philipp Schulte RWTH Aachen University Ann Van Baelen KU

Paleoanthropology of the Balkans and Anatolia Katerina Harvati, Mirjana Roksandic, 2017-01-18. This edited volume systematically reviews the evidence for early human presence in one of the most relevant geographic regions of Europe: the Balkans and Anatolia, an area that has been crucial in shaping the course of human evolution in Europe but whose paleoanthropological record is poorly known. The primary aim of this book is to showcase new paleoanthropological, human paleontological, and paleolithic research conducted in the region. The volume is organized into three sections. The first one deals with the human fossil record from Greece, the Central Balkans, Croatia, Romania, Bulgaria, and Turkey. The second section presents the paleolithic record of the same countries. In the third part, the authors provide a synthesis of current paleoenvironmental evidence for the Balkans. Chapters summarize and systematize the available human fossil evidence, examine their context, and place them within the framework of our understanding of human evolution in Europe and beyond, as well as present new analyses of existing human fossils. This book will be of interest to professionals, upper undergraduate and graduate students in paleoanthropology, human paleontology, and paleolithic archaeology, and in a variety of related fields including human variation and adaptation, paleontology, and biogeography. It will also be appropriate as a reference book for advanced undergraduate and graduate courses on human evolution and European paleoanthropology.

The Oxford Handbook of Human Symbolic Evolution Nathalie Gontier, Andy Lock, Chris Sinha, 2024-01-17. The biological and neurological capacity to symbolize and the products of behavioral, cognitive, sociocultural, linguistic, and technological uses of symbols: symbolism are fundamental to every aspect of human life. The Oxford Handbook of Human Symbolic Evolution explores the origins of our characteristically human abilities: our ability to speak, create images, play music, and read and write. The book investigates how symbolization evolved in human evolution and how symbolism is expressed across the various areas of human life. The field is intrinsically interdisciplinary, considering findings from fossil studies, scientific research from primatology, developmental psychology, and of course linguistics. Written by world-leading experts, thirty-eight topical chapters are grouped into six thematic parts that respectively focus on epistemological, psychological, anthropological, ethological, linguistic, and social/technological aspects of human symbolic evolution. The handbook presents an in-depth but comprehensive and interdisciplinary overview of the state-of-the-art in the science of human symbolic evolution. This work will be of interest to academics and students active in all fields contributing to the study of human evolution.

The History of Experience Wolfgang Leidhold,2022-10-14 In a wide arc from the Paleolithic to the present day this book explores the changing structure of human experience and its impact on the dynamics of cultures civilizations and political ideas The main thesis is a paradigm shift the structure of human experience is not a universal constant but changes over time Looking at the entire range of human history there are a total of nine transformations beginning with conscious perception and imagination in the Paleolithic and ending for the time being in modern times with the discovery of the unconscious In between this book explores six more transformations that took place in different regions and at different times which include a sense of order self reflection the eye of reason spiritual experience as well as the experience of creativity and of consciousness As such The History of Experience presents both a cross cultural and comparative theory of experience and cultural dynamics and an exploration of rich materials from East and West This book is of great use to upper level undergraduates postgraduates and scholars interested in the relationship between history human experience culture and political order How the Brain Got Language Michael A. Arbib, 2012-04-11 Unlike any other species humans can learn and use language This book explains how the brain evolved to make language possible through what Michael Arbib calls the Mirror System Hypothesis Because of mirror neurons monkeys chimps and humans can learn by imitation but only complex imitation which humans exhibit is powerful enough to support the breakthrough to language This theory provides a path from the openness of manual gesture which we share with nonhuman primates through the complex imitation of manual skills pantomime protosign communication based on conventionalized manual gestures and finally to protospeech The theory explains why we humans are as capable of learning sign languages as we are of learning to speak This fascinating book shows how cultural evolution took over from biological evolution for the transition from protolanguage to fully fledged languages The author explains how the brain mechanisms that made the original emergence of languages possible perhaps 100 000 years ago are still operative today in the way children acquire language in the way that new sign languages have emerged in recent decades and in the historical processes of language change on a time scale from decades to centuries Though the subject is complex this book is highly readable providing all the necessary background in primatology neuroscience and linguistics to make the book accessible to a general audience The Oxford Handbook of Ancient Nubia Geoff Emberling, Bruce Williams, 2021-01-15 The cultures of Nubia built the earliest cities states and empires of inner Africa but they remain relatively poorly known outside their modern descendants and the community of archaeologists historians and art historians researching them The earliest archaeological work in Nubia was motivated by the region s role as neighbor trade partner and enemy of ancient Egypt Increasingly however ancient Nile based Nubian cultures are recognized in their own right as the earliest complex societies in inner Africa As agro pastoral cultures Nubian settlement economy political organization and religious ideologies were often organized differently from those of the urban bureaucratic and predominantly agricultural states of Egypt and the ancient Near East Nubian societies are thus of great interest in comparative study and are also recognized for their broader impact on the histories of the eastern Mediterranean and the Near East The Oxford Handbook of Ancient Nubia brings together chapters by an international group of scholars on a wide variety of topics that relate to the history and archaeology of the region After important introductory chapters on the history of research in Nubia and on its climate and physical environment the largest part of the volume focuses on the sequence of cultures that lead almost to the present day Several cross cutting themes are woven through these chapters including essays on desert cultures and on Nubians in Egypt Eleven final chapters synthesize subjects across all historical phases including
