Sacred Scents in Early Christianity and Islam Mary Thurlkill, 2016-07-26 Medieval scholars and cultural historians have recently turned their attention to the question of smells and what olfactory sensations reveal about society in general and holiness in particular Sacred Scents in Early Christianity and Islam contributes to that conversation explaining how early Christians and Muslims linked the sweet smell of sanctity with ideals of the body and sexuality created boundaries and sacred space and imagined their emerging communal identity Most importantly scent itself transgressive and difficult to control signaled transition and transformation between categories of meaning Christian and Islamic authors distinguished their own fragrant ethical and theological ideals against the stench of oppositional heresy and moral depravity Orthodox Christians ridiculed their stinking Arian neighbors and Muslims denounced the reeking corruption of Umayyad and Abbasid decadence Through the mouths of saints and prophets patriarchal authors labeled perfumed women as existential threats to vulnerable men and consigned them to enclosed private space for their protection as well as society's At the same time theologians praised both men and women who purified and transformed their bodies into aromatic offerings to God Both Christian and Muslim pilgrims venerated sainted men and women with perfumed offerings at tombstones indeed Christians and Muslims often worshipped together honoring common heroes such as Abraham Moses and Jonah Sacred Scents begins by surveying aromatic quotidian functions in Roman and pre-Islamic cultural milieus within homes temples poetry kitchens and medicines Existing scholarship tends to frame scent as something available only to the wealthy or elite however perfumes spices and incense wafted through the lives of most early Christians and Muslims It ends by examining both traditions' views of Paradise identified as the archetypal Garden and source of all perfumes and sweet smells Both Christian and Islamic texts explain Adam and Eve's profound grief at losing access to these heavenly aromas and celebrate God's mercy in allowing earthly remembrances. Sacred scent thus prompts humanity's grief for what was lost and the yearning for paradisiacal transformation still to come. Chemical Signals in Vertebrates 9 Anna Marchlewska-Koj, John J. Lepri, Dietland Müller-Schwarze, 2012-12-06 It is generally accepted that the recent progress in molecular and cellular biology would not have been possible without an understanding of the mechanisms and signaling pathways of communication inside the cell and between various cells of the animal organism. In fact, a similar progress occurred in the field of chemical communication between individual organisms of vertebrate species and this volume is aimed at presenting the current state of the art on this subject. The reader can find here both original results obtained in the laboratory or field studies and comprehensive reviews summarizing many years of research. The presentations of over 60 scientists have been grouped according to their approach into nine parts covering such fields as ecological and evolutionary aspects of chemical communication structure and neuronal mechanisms of chemosensory systems, chemical structure of pheromones and binding proteins, kin individual and sexual recognition, predator-prey relationships, purpose and consequences of marking behavior, scent signals and reproductive processes. Expanding on former volumes of this series, entirely new chapters have been added on prenatal chemical communication describing specific effects of the intrauterine environment. In many cases, a truly multidisciplinary approach was required, such as with the population analysis of polymorphic variants of the mouse's major urinary proteins that function in carrying pheromones. Michael Broadbent's Vintage Wine Michael Broadbent, John Michael Broadbent, 2002 The ultimate report on the world's vintage wines is offered by the man the Wine Spectator calls the world's most experienced taster. About Globalisation Bart de Schutter, Johan Pas, 2004 Sexuality and Consumption Mario Keller, Johann Karl Kirchknopf, Oliver Kühschelm, Karin Moser, Stefan Ossmann, 2022-08-01 In western societies today it goes almost without saying that sex and consumption are closely related. On the one hand, there is a plethora of commercial goods and services that shape sexual desires and practices. On the other, there are scarcely any products or services that do not lend themselves to sexually charged advertising and mass media communication. This volume focuses on forms of hybridization of these equally suggestive notions. Le Domaine de la Romanée-Conti Gert Crum, Michael Broadbent, 2006-10-06 Le Domaine De La Romanée Conti centers around the most mythical Burgundy wines. This sumptuous and classy publication outlines the history as well as the reputation and grandeur of this wine and pays tribute to the Domaine itself. Self-Recognition in Fish Masanori Kohda, Shumpei Sogawa, 2025-07-16 This book describes the process of making the major breakthrough in the study of animal self-awareness using fish. The discovery led by the author's team, proving the mirror self-recognition ability of fish, is vividly documented as they share the process of making testing and verifying hypotheses and developing further hypotheses. The clear experimental results demonstrate the remarkable self-awareness in animals, overturning the conventional view and providing a key to understanding the origin of human self-awareness.

awareness Starting from the current understanding of fish brains individual recognition by its face the following chapters introduce the series of the authors research projects designed to understand mirror self recognition MSR in animals The sequence of the research into fish s MSR is documented including how it started the failures and successes and the struggles Additional tests carried out in response to various criticisms of the work have led to a re examination of the research methods used prior to the author s work The book then addresses the question of exactly when and how some fish recognize themselves in a mirror exploring the self awareness and the mind in other word Eureka moment in fish This book points out and overturns the contradictions in conventional wisdom based on anthropocentrism and hypotheses about the evolution of self awareness proposing a new hypothesis that the self awareness of humans and fish will be homologous The book takes readers on an engaging exploration of the scientific experiments and the remarkable discovery of animal intelligence Cover illustration Cleaner fish seeing its own face in a mirror Photo by Dr Taiga Kobayashi
