Ncaa Accelerating Academic Success Program:

Administration of Intercollegiate Athletics Robert Zullo, Erianne Weight, 2024-02-27 Some of the most experienced professionals in athletics administration share their expertise in what it takes to navigate an increasingly complex sports landscape and successfully manage a collegiate athletics department Mentoring at Minority Serving Institutions (MSIs)

Jeton McClinton, David S. B. Mitchell, Mark A. Melton, Gerunda B. Hughes, Tyrell Carr, 2018-05-01 The primary thrust of the proposed volume is to provide information for higher education minority serving institutions MSIs and other institutions and individuals interested in providing and or improving mentoring programs and services to a variety of target groups The editors are interested in how mentorship can produce beneficial outcomes for the mentor that may be similar to or different from outcomes in other educational contexts Thus the purpose of this volume is to showcase through case studies and other forms of empirical research how successful mentoring programs and relationships at MSIs have been designed and implemented Additionally we will examine the various definitions and slight variations of the meaning of the construct of mentoring within the MSI context It is our intent to share aspects of mentoring programs and relationships as well as their outcomes that have heretofore been underrepresented and underreported in the research literature The Black Athlete

Revolt Shaun M. Anderson, 2023-02-08 A timely and significant examination of how Black athletes have used their influence to create meaningful change and reform for Black Americans In the age of social media athletes have a powerful influence like never before Many Black athletes have used that power in positive ways galvanizing their platforms to create impactful educational opportunities donate to Black social causes and raise political awareness on important issues In The Black Athlete Revolt The Sport Justice Movement in the Age of BlackLivesMatter Shaun M Anderson examines the Black athlete's rise in advocating for social justice and how today's athletes have moved beyond protesting to create substantial change for Black Americans Anderson reflects on the history and evolution of Black athlete activism breaking down its importance during the civil rights movement the commodification of athletes during the 1990s and how twenty first century athletes have utilized their wealth and influence to create lasting societal change in the age of BlackLivesMatter With fascinating portraits of notable individuals in the history of Black activism as well as insights from athletes and allies who discuss the future of athlete activism The Black Athlete Revolt reveals the ever evolving and crucial role of Black athletes beyond the world of sports Diverse Issues in Higher Education, 2008 Resources in Education, 1998 Macrocognition: The Science and Engineering of Sociotechnical Work Systems Paul Ward, Robert R. Hoffman, Gareth E. Conway, Jan Maarten Schraagen, David Peebles, Robert J. B. Hutton, Erich J. Petushek, 2018-02-28 The increasing complexity of work systems and changes in the nature of workplace technology over the past century have resulted in an exponential shift in the nature of work activities from physical labor to cognitive work Modern work systems have many characteristics that make them cognitively complex They can be highly interactive comprised of multiple agents and artifacts information may be limited and distributed across space and time task goals are frequently ill defined conflicting dynamic and emergent planning may only be possible at general levels of abstraction or require adaptive solutions some degree of proficiency or expertise is required the stakes are often high and uncertainty time constraints and stress are seldom absent To complicate matters further cognition in complex work settings is typically constrained by broader professional organizational and institutional practice and policy These features of cognitive work present significant challenges to scientific methodology and theory and subsequent design of reliable interventions Historically philosophers and scientists have attempted to understand the mental activities experienced during cognitive work at multiple levels of analysis using divergent methods Some have examined cognition at an associative contextual functional or holistic level relying on naturalistic methods to understand the higher mental processes as they work in harmony during goal directed behavior Others have embraced experimental methods and favored internal over external validity often reducing cognition to a psychology of fundamental acts such as short term memory access with millisecond shifts in attention More recently Macrocognition has evolved as a complementary paradigm Macrocognitive researchers have studied the cognitive functions and processes associated with skilled adaptive collaborative and resilient cognitive work in the context of the aforementioned complexities of psychotechnical and sociotechnical work systems Typically this research has been carried out using cognitive task analytic techniques that draw on both naturalistic and quasi experimental methods The primary goals of research in Macrocognition are to better understand cognitive adaptations to complexity to increase our theoretical understanding of the organism environment relations by studying the mapping between cognitive work and real world demands and to promote use inspired research capable of improving system performance
