Football Studies is a landmark work of reference going further than any other book in considering the historical and contemporary significance of football around the world. Written by a team of leading sport scholars, the book covers a broad range of disciplines from history, sociology, politics, and business to philosophy, law, and media studies. The central section of the book examines key themes and issues in football studies, such as the World Cup and international competition, governance, and ownership, fandom, and celebrity. The concluding section offers in-depth surveys of the culture and organisation of football in each of the regional confederations from UEFA to CONCACAF. Women's Club Football in Brazil and Colombia Mark Biram, 2024-01-15. The first women's football book on Latin America centring the perspectives of players brings rare interview material that cuts through the clichés to uncover the lived reality of women footballers. It includes the first large-scale survey of South American women footballers' views into dialogue with institutional and media perspectives. The early chapters consider the backdrop Latin American women footballers operate in, a media and institutional panorama that privileges a heteronormative athletic femininity whilst ensuring women's football is never portrayed as anything other than an inferior version of the hegemonic men's game. Following this, drawing on nine months of ethnographic fieldwork in which 33 semi-structured interviews were carried out with players and institutional figures, this pioneering book foregrounds the lived reality of women's football in three strategic locations. Firstly, three months were spent in the Amazon region of Brazil where Esporte Clube Iranduba provides a fascinating alternative model for the growth of women's football. This is contrasted with Santos FC where women's football tends to be constantly overshadowed by the presence of banal patriarchy, and finally with another fleeting glimpse of how another model is possible at Atlético Huila of Colombia, the surprise winner of the women's Copa Libertadores in 2018.

Football Traumatology Piero Volpi, 2006-11-24. Football is probably the most widespread sport in the world; youngsters, adults, women, amateurs, beginners, professionals, all make up a legion of practitioners. Lesions associated with football are on the increase, and their typology has also changed over the years. Football, like many other sports, has undergone major changes: the increase in the intensity and speed of the game, the modern training methodologies, the technical and tactical innovations are all factors contributing to increased risks of traumatic injury. The footballers, the trainers, the sport's medical staff are asking for greater information and knowledge on the traumatic lesions associated with this sport. The primary role of those who are concerned with the health of footballers is to enforce preventive measures to reduce, wherever possible, the risks of trauma.
