Women and Property Renee Hirschon, 2023-07-21 First published in 1984 Women and Property studies the idea of wealth and property in relation to women in diverse countries It attempts a definition of the term property itself and goes on to look at the relationships and rights associated with these various kinds of property The authors assess the effects of wider economic forces and State intervention indicating the changing contexts in which these systems are set today In some cases life cycle markers such as marriage divorce and widowhood are critical and in many cases it is the organisation of the household residential patterns and kinship rights which are seen to structure the relationships of women men and property Ideological constructs regarding female sexuality and also those in which women and children may be conceptualised as objects are considered in detail Surprisingly little attention has been paid to the significance of property as a critical factor affecting the position of women in society and the original papers presented here

Contradicting the views commonly held by westerners, many Muslim countries in fact engage in a wide spectrum of reform with the status of women as a central dimension. This anthology counters the myth that Islam and feminism are always or necessarily in opposition. A multidisciplinary group of scholars examine ideology, practice and reform efforts in the areas of marriage, divorce, abortion, violence against women, inheritance and female circumcision across the Islamic world, illuminating how religious and cultural prescriptions interact with legal norms affecting change in sometimes surprising ways. against Women of African Descent Anita Kalunta-Crumpton, 2019-10-11. Africa as a continent which holds strong to its patriarchal cultural principles and practices is known for its blatant display of violent abuse of women, including state-sanctioned violence and its lax approach to national legislative policies and international treaties against violence against women. Using data from Africa, the Americas, Australia and Europe, this edited collection showcases a variety of experiences and perspectives in the international comparative study of violence against women of African ancestry. This approach provides the context for examining the problem of violence against women, including its policy and practice responses, if any, as it impacts women of African origin in different parts of the world. This book is of value to those interested in African studies, criminology, gender studies, sociology and many more. Encyclopedia of Women in Today's World Mary Zeiss

Women and Equality in Iran Leila Alikarami, 2019-05-30 Iran's continued retention of discriminatory laws stands in stark contrast to the advances Iranian women have made in other spheres since the Revolution in 1979 Leila Alikarami here aims to determine the extent to which the actions of women's rights activists have led to a significant change in their legal status She argues that while Iranian women have not yet obtained legal equality the gender bias of the Iranian legal system has been successfully challenged and has lost its legitimacy More pertinently the social context has become more prepared to accommodate legal rights for women Highlighting the key challenges that proponents of gender equality face in the Muslim context Alikarami attempts to ascertain the causes of Iran's failure to ratify the CEDAW and questions whether and to what extent interpretations of Islamic principles prevent Iran from doing so Applying feminist legal theory to contemporary Iran Alikarami's approach re-evaluates the underlying principles that have shaped the struggle for equal rights between the sexes
