anyone with an interest in those debates and in Africa and its peoples While the focus is determinedly historical anthropology geography literary criticism political science and sociology are all employed in this ground breaking study of Africa s past

A History of Overseas Chinese in Africa to 1911 Li Anshan,2017-10-26 A History of Overseas Chinese in Africa to 1911 explores early Chinese knowledge of and contacts with Africa through Chinese literature on Africa and current archeological evidence suggesting Sino African trade existed as early as the seventh century Li provides readers with an uncomplicated history of Chinese in Africa examining their story from multiple perspectives using approaches and sources found in economic history social history international relations and migration in world history While Li maintains the first group of Chinese were prisoners brought by the Dutch from Southeast Asia in the seventeenth century the vast majority of early Chinese in Africa were free immigrants and contract labors that established key communities and organizations It is these early Chinese which laid foundations for and provide important context in interpreting the recent flow of Chinese migrants and capital into various parts of Africa The book should be of value to African and world historians sociologists anthropologists and students of African and Asian studies

Witchcraft, Violence, and Democracy in South Africa Adam Ashforth,2005-01-15 Large numbers of people in Soweto other parts of South Africa live in fear of witchcraft presenting complex unique problems for the government Adam Ashforth explores the challenge of occult violence the spiritual insecurity that it engenders to democratic rule in South Africa

African Spirituality, Politics, and Knowledge Systems Toyin Falola,2022-03-10 Focusing on the three leading religious traditions in Africa African Traditional Religion Islam and Christianity this book shows how belief in the supremacy of sacred words compels actions and influences practices in contemporary Africa Sacred words are taken to mean holy texts as in divination the Quran and the Bible Toyin Falola evaluates how religious leaders engage with sacred words both orals and texts engendering practices that reveal the expression of religious beliefs the impact of those beliefs and the knowledge contained in them Attention is given to the key ideas in the words chosen by religious leaders and how they form a continuous knowledge system impacting the politics of managing society and people

Why Witches Are Still Flying in Africa? Mfundo Badela,2015-08-25 The main point is to highlight witchcraft belief murders as the silent crime against humanity and it is part and parcel of African traditional religion and the Abrahamic religions As long as the abovementioned myths still survive so will be the witchcraft myth because it obtains its legitimacy from the abovementioned Today the world is held at ransom by unproven and false ancient ideas Humanity has forsaken reason and science for the frivolous claims of the so called holy text and African ancestral spirits As a consequence innocent beings are being slaughtered by witch hunters and the so called terrorists and still we are defending the indefensible and deny the obvious The media in South Africa have joined this diabolic movement by advertising witchcraft antidote and miracles in problem solving The state is unable to solve this because they negate the root cause which is religion All beliefs should be put to the museum of history After all they are all nonexistent magic

Tituba,

Reluctant Witch of Salem Elaine G. Breslaw, 1997-08 Tituba a young house servant from the West Indies allegedly influenced and encouraged occult activities among teenage girls in 17th century Massachusetts which led to the infamous witch hunts of Salem This book offers an imaginative reconstruction of what might have been Tituba's past TIMES LITERARY SUPPLEMENT A valuable probe of how myths can feed hysteria THE WASHINGTON POST BOOK WORLD 15 photos

Africa's Social and Religious Quest Randee Ijatuyi-Morphé, 2014-01-30 This well crafted book probes the key dimensions of Africa's existential predicament It constitutes an intellectual response to a gnawing African situation the starting point for grasping Africa's social and religious quest Beyond split explanations of external versus internal factors e.g. colonization slavery vs leadership cultural values this study accounts more comprehensively for emergent issues shaping this situation The situation reflects a gamut of problems in traditional African religion and material culture which hitherto defines African communality politics and destinies vis-à-vis the cosmos and nature Thus African religion and communities each with its own attendant values do not operate by critical engagement with larger issues of society and civilization especially those shaped by the advent of post modernity Rather they operate via adaptation The communal drive for natural and social harmony inevitably produces a preservationist view of culture leaving things as they are This study takes an integrative approach to religion society and civilization eschews dichotomies and broadly defines and re-signifies life and wholeness as a true end of Africans quest today Songs and Tales from the Dark Continent Natalie Curtis Burlin, 1920 Priests, Witches and

Power Maia Green, 2003-03-06 In the aftermath of colonial mission Christianity has come to have widespread acceptance in Southern Tanzania In this book Maia Green explores contemporary Catholic practice in a rural community of Southern Tanzania Setting the adoption of Christianity and the suppression of witchcraft in a historical context she suggests that power relations established during the colonial period continue to hold between both popular Christianity and orthodoxy and local populations and indigenous clergy Paradoxically while local practices around the constitution of kinship and personhood remain defiantly free of Christian elements they inform a popular Christianity experienced as a system of substances and practices This book offers a challenge to idealist and interpretative accounts of African participation in twentieth century religious forms and argues for a politically grounded analysis of historical processes It will appeal widely to scholars and students of anthropology sociology and African Studies particularly those interested in religion and kinship The Baha'i Faith in Africa Anthony Lee, 2011-10-28 One million Baha'is live in Africa This is the first academic volume to explore the history of this movement on the continent The book discusses the diverse and contractivory American Iranian British and African contributions to this new religious movement A Short History of African Philosophy B. Hallen, 2002 In this accessible book Barry Hallen discusses the major ideas figures and schools of thought in African philosophy While drawing out critical issues in the formation of African philosophy Hallen focuses on the recent scholarship current issues and relevant debates that have made African philosophy an important key to understanding the rich and complex cultural heritage of Africa Hallen builds upon Africa's connections with Western philosophical traditions and explores African contributions to cultural universalism, cultural relativism, phenomenology, hermeneutics, and Marxism. Hallen also examines African challenges to Western conceptions of philosophy by taking on questions such as whether philosophy can exist in cultures that are significantly based in oral traditions and what may or may not constitute philosophical texts. Among the figures whose work is discussed are Ptahhotep, Egypt 3rd millennium BCE; Zariyaqob, Abyssinia 17th century; Anton Wilhelm Amo, Ghana 18th century; Paulin Hountondji, V.Y. Mudimbe, Oyeronke Oyewumi, Kwame Anthony Appiah, and Kwasi Wiredu. This clearly written, highly readable, and concise work will be essential for students and scholars of African philosophy as well as readers with a wide range of interests in African studies.

Women and Islamic Revival in a West African Town Adeline

Masquelier, 2009-10-02 In the small town of Dogondoutchi, Niger, Malam Awal, a charismatic Sufi preacher, was recruited by local Muslim leaders to denounce the practices of reformist Muslims. Malam Awal's message has been viewed as a mixed blessing by Muslim women who have seen new definitions of Islam and Muslim practice impact their place and role in society. This study follows the career of Malam Awal and documents the engagement of women in the religious debates that are refashioning their everyday lives. Adeline Masquelier reveals how these women have had to define Islam on their own terms, especially as a practice that governs education, participation in prayer, domestic activities, wedding customs, and who wears the veil, and how Masquelier's richly detailed narrative presents new understandings of what it means to be a Muslim woman in Africa today.

African Religion Defined Anthony Ephirim-Donkor, 2016-11-15 This edition updates the scholarship on ancestor worship with the addition of three new chapters. Beginning with Akan theology and ending with sacrifices, the study examines Akan conception of God, the abosom, gods and goddesses, relative to creation, centrality of the ancestors' stool as the ultimate religious symbol housing the soul of the Akan, and organized annual propitiatory festivities carried out among the Akan in honor of the ancestors, Nananom Nsamanfo, and abosom. The book therefore serves as an invaluable resource for those interested in the phenomenon of African religion because it provides real insight into ancestor worship in ways that are meaningful, practical, systematic, and as a way of life by an Akan Traditional ruler, dikro, and a professor of Africana studies.

Racial Stereotyping and Child Development Diana T. Slaughter-Defoe, 2012 In contemporary societies, children's racial identity is co-constructed in response to racial stereotyping with extended family, peers, and teachers, and potent media sources. The studies in this volume take cognizance of earlier research into skin colour and racial stereotyping but advance its contemporary implications.

Religion and Development in Africa Ezra Chitando, Masiwa Ragies Gunda, Lovemore Togarasei, 2020-06-09 What is development? Who defines that one community/country is developed while another community/country is underdeveloped? What is the relationship between religion and development? Does religion contribute to development or underdevelopment in Africa? These and related questions elicit quite charged reactions in African studies, development studies, political science, and related fields.

Africa's own history including the memory of marginalisation slavery and exploitation by global powers ensures that virtually every discussion on development is characterised by a lot of emotions and conflicting views In this volume scholars from various African countries and many different religions and denominations contribute to this debate Safeguarding Children and Witchcraft Labelling in Social Work Prospera Tadam, Awura Adjoa, 2025-02-28 This unique resource is perfect for all professionals who wish to understand witchcraft branding as a contemporary form of child abuse Witchcraft accusations against children are occurring ever more frequently in the UK yet continue to be underestimated by social workers and other professionals This book serves as an invaluable resource detailing the frequent witchcraft accusations and child abuse within minority communities in the UK This second edition emphasises the persistence of witchcraft labelling and highlights new ways of theorising which have emerged such as contextual safeguarding Reflective questions practice dilemmas and relevant links to contemporary policy are provided throughout the book with commentary and reference to updated legislation and professional standards in social work Written in an accessible style it gives a unique and honest insider's perspective of this form of cruelty and abuse suffered by children with contemporary research and serious case reviews featured in each chapter New content for this edition includes Islamic perspectives culturally sensitive contextual safeguarding trauma informed approaches and BLM decolonising anti racist practice Overall this is a must read for social workers and other professionals working with children
