Understanding the Higher Education Market in Africa Emmanuel Mogaji, Felix Maringe, Robert Ebo Hinson, 2020-03-06 This book offers theoretical and practical insights into the marketing of higher education in Africa. It explores the key players, challenges and policies affecting higher education across the continent, their marketing strategies and the students' selection process. While acknowledging the vast size of the continent, this book aims to provide an understanding of the dynamics of higher education in Africa. This book recognises the private and government involvement in higher education provision and students and staff as stakeholders in the marketisation process. Strategic efforts are directed by universities to attract prospective students. This book further addresses issues such as the responses of higher education sectors to the notion of markets and marketing, consumerism and competition in higher education in Africa, conceptions of the commodification of higher education in Africa and the dominance of Western epistemologies and their influence in transforming higher education sectors. Students as consumers in increasingly marketised higher education sectors in Africa are also discussed. Though primarily for marketing students and academic researchers, the book's feature of blended theoretical and practical knowledge means that it will also be of interest to marketing practitioners and university managers.

The Routledge Handbook of Animal Ethics Bob Fischer, 2019-12-06

There isn't one conversation about animal ethics. Instead, there are several important ones that are scattered across many disciplines. This volume both surveys the field of animal ethics and draws professional philosophers, graduate students, and undergraduates more deeply into the discussions that are happening outside of philosophy departments. To that end, the volume contains more nonphilosophers than philosophers, explicitly inviting scholars from other fields such as animal science, ecology, economics, psychology, law, environmental science, and applied biology among others to bring their own disciplinary resources to bear on matters that affect animals. The Routledge Handbook of Animal Ethics is composed of 44 chapters, all appearing in print here for the first time and organized into the following six sections: I. Thinking About Animals; II. Animal Agriculture and Hunting; III. Animal Research and Genetic Engineering; IV. Companion Animals; V. Wild Animals; Conservation, Management, and Ethics; VI. Animal Activism. The chapters are brief, and they have been written in a way that is accessible to serious undergraduate students regardless of their field of study. The volume covers everything from animal cognition to the state of current fisheries, from genetic modification to intersectional animal activism. It is a resource designed for anyone interested in the moral issues that emerge from human interactions with animals.

A Century of South African Theatre Loren Kruger, 2019-11-28

Theatre is not part of our vocabulary. Sipho Sepamla's provocation in 1981, the year of famous anti-apartheid play Woza Albert, prompts the response: yes, indeed, it is. A Century of South African Theatre demonstrates the impact of theatre and other performances, pageants, concerts, sketches, workshops, and performance art over the last hundred years. Its coverage includes African responses to pro-British pageants celebrating white Union in 1910, such as the Emancipation Centenary of the abolition of British colonial slavery in 1934, organized by Griffiths Motsieloa and HIE Dhlomo, through anti-apartheid testimonial theatre by Athol Fugard, Maishe Maponya, Gcina Mhlophe, and many others, right up to the present dramatization of state capture, inequality, and state violence in today's unevenly democratic society where government has promised much but delivered little. Building on Loren Kruger's personal observations of forty years, as well as her published research, A Century of South African Theatre provides theoretical coordinates from institution to public sphere to syncretism in performance in order to highlight South Africa's changing engagement with the world from the days of Empire through the apartheid era to the multi-lateral and multi-lingual networks of the 21st century. The final chapters use the Constitution's injunction to improve wellbeing as a prompt to examine the dramaturgy of new problems, especially AIDS and domestic violence as well as the better known performances in and around the Truth and Reconciliation Commission Kruger critically evaluates internationally known theatre makers including the signature collaborations between animator designer William Kentridge and Handspring Puppet Company and highlights the local and transnational impact of major post apartheid companies such as Magnet Theatre
