The Zoo Where You Re Fed To God:

The Zoo where You're Fed to God Michael Ventura, 1994 A study of communication with animals A middle aged doctor divorced from his wife and estranged from his son finds solace in talking to animals in a zoo wondering all the time whether he is not crazy When he meets a woman who sings to them he realizes he is not crazy and even more important he is not alone

The Zoo where You're Fed to God Terry Hertzler, 1995 Where the Wild Books Are Jim Dwyer, 2010-04-01 As interest in environmental issues grows many writers of fiction have embraced themes that explore the connections between humans and the natural world Ecologically themed fiction ranges from profound philosophical meditations to action packed entertainments Where the Wild Books Are offers an overview of nearly 2 000 works of nature oriented fiction The author includes a discussion of the precursors and history of the genre and of its expansion since the 1970s He also considers its forms and themes as well as the subgenres into which it has evolved such as speculative fiction ecodefense animal stories mysteries ecofeminist novels cautionary tales and others A brief summary and critical commentary of each title is included Dwyer s scope is broad and covers fiction by Native American writers as well as ecofiction from writers around the world Far more than a mere listing of books Where the Wild Books Are is a lively introduction to a vast universe of engaging provocative writing It can be used to develop book collections or curricula It also serves as an introduction to one of the most fertile areas of contemporary fiction presenting books that will offer enjoyable reading and new insights into the vexing environmental questions of our time

The Cinema of Norman Mailer Justin Bozung, 2017-09-07 The Cinema of Norman Mailer Film is Like Death not only examines the enfant terrible writer s thoughts on cinema but also features interviews with Norman Mailer himself The Cinema of Norman Mailer also explores Mailer s cinema through previously published and newly commissioned essays written by an array of film and literary scholars enthusiasts and those with a personal philosophical connection to Mailer This volume discusses the National Book Award and Pulitzer Prize winning author and filmmaker s six films created during the years of 1947 and 1987 and contends to show how Mailer s films can be best read as cinematic delineations that visually represent many of the writer s metaphysical and ontological concerns and ideas that appear in his texts from the 1950s until his passing in 2007 By re examining Mailer s cinema through these new perspectives one may be awarded not just a deeper understanding of Mailer s desire to make films but also find a new alternative vision of Mailer himself Norman Mailer was not just a writer but more he was one of the most influential Postmodern artists of the twentieth century with deep roots in the cinema He allowed the cinema to not only influence his aesthetic approach but sanctioned it as his easiest crafted analogy for exploring sociological imagination in his writing Mailer once suggested Film is legitimately more interesting than books and with that in mind readers of Norman Mailer might begin to rethink his oeuvre through the viewfinder of the film medium as he was equally as passionate about working within cinema as he was about literature itself
