The Just Transition John Morrison,2024-10-25 Managing the climate transition will be one of the biggest challenges ever faced by business and government While the technical and financial elements of climate transition are vast the social challenges are even greater If local populations and workers feel the transitions are not just they will resist and that social opposition now represents one of the greatest barriers to reaching Net Zero by 2050 While the phrase Just Transition was in the preamble to the 2015 Paris Climate Agreement it is only now that business finance and governments are starting to discuss what this might mean in practice Thousands of companies are now starting to develop transition plans alongside those of governments This book shows how all managers can best integrate social elements into these plans consult with the people most affected by the transition out of the high carbon economy and ensure that what looks good on paper works in practice It takes a systems thinking approach focusing on the interconnections and interdependence of environmental social and governance issues The challenge is immense and the changes will need to be profound Each chapter in the book will look at the main domains in which management and policy challenges will be faced From massively increasing the extraction of rare earth metals most of which sit below or adjacent to indigenous land to building the infrastructure needed to generate and distribute green energy possibly over Not in My Back Yard objections the task of business and government in ensuring that these changes are fair and perceived as fair is immense This book provides the roadmap for how to get there Managing the social impacts of the climate transition will be one of the biggest challenges ever faced by business and government Systems Thinkers Magnus Ramage, Karen Shipp, 2020-02-19 This book presents a biographical history of the field of systems thinking by examining the life and work of thirty of its major thinkers It discusses each thinker's key contributions the way this contribution was expressed in practice and the relationship between their life and ideas This discussion is supported by an extract from the thinker's own writing to give a flavour of their work and to give readers a sense of which thinkers are most relevant to their own interests Burnout or Breakout John Messer, 2021-01-27 How can church leaders be effective without sacrificing their marriage their family or their health in the process How can good leaders get stuck churches unstuck without becoming another casualty Burnout or Breakout provides answers to both The burnout epidemic among church leaders combined with cultural volatility uncertainty and complexity catalyze with unhealthy church processes to get churches stuck All these forces combine to stifle good leaders until it seems that no reasonable leadership effort can succeed This book brings new insights to churches and church leaders frustrated with making tireless efforts to move the church yet constantly falling short of their goals and objectives It helps church leaders avoid quick fix solutions that actually keep churches stuck by applying systemic long term solutions This book brings hope to stifled leaders on the verge of burnout Building on biblical and experiential evidence the author presents burnout as a systemic problem Seeing from a systems perspective enables leaders to discover how their church really works and provides tools and strategies to help them realign their church system for health and effectiveness Based on a comprehensive introduction to systems thinking leaders are encouraged to see their congregations as complex systems of interrelated and interdependent elements Effective leadership from a systems perspective aligns the church to achieve intended outcomes Based on the account of Jethro and Moses in Exodus 18 leaders are equipped to identify and diagnose church systems designed for burnout and provides strategies to overcome the stifling forces within the church Leaders are further equipped to apply systemic thinking to common church system problems such as declining attendance mission confusion and volunteer shortages Brings hope that stifled leaders and stuck churches can break out of their limiting conditions by investing time and effort to learn and practice seeing from a new systems perspective The Interior Architecture Theory Reader Gregory Marinic, 2018-01-17 The Interior Architecture Theory Reader presents a global compilation that collectively and specifically defines interior architecture. Diverse views and comparative resources for interior architecture students, educators, scholars, and practitioners are needed to develop a proper canon for this young discipline. As a theoretical survey of interior architecture, the book examines theory, history, and production to embrace a full range of interior identities in architecture, interior design, digital fabrication, and spatial installation. Authored by leading educators, theorists, and practitioners, fifty chapters refine and expand the discourse surrounding interior architecture.

The Top 50 Sustainability Books Wayne Visser, 2017-09-08. This unique title draws together in one volume some of the best thinking to date on the pressing social and environmental challenges we face as a society. These are the Top 50 Sustainability Books as voted for by the University of Cambridge Programme for Sustainability Leadership's alumni network of over 3,000 senior leaders from around the world. In addition to profiles of all 50 titles, many of the authors share their most recent reflections on the state of the world and the ongoing attempts by business, government, and civil society to create a more sustainable future. Many of these authors have become household names in the environmental, social, and economic justice movements, from Rachel Carson, Ralph Nader, and E. F. Schumacher to Vandana Shiva, Muhammad Yunus, and Al Gore. Others, such as Aldo Leopold, Thomas Berry, and Manfred Max-Neef, are relatively undiscovered gems whose work should be much more widely known. By featuring these and other seminal thinkers, The Top 50 Sustainability Books distills a remarkable collective intelligence, one that provides devastating evidence of the problems we face as a global society yet also inspiring examples of innovative solutions. It explores our deepest fears and our highest hopes for the future. It is a must-read for anyone who wants to tap into the wisdom of our age.

How Change Happens Duncan Green, 2016. Drawing on the global experience of Oxfam, one of the world's largest social justice NGOs, this book tests ideas on How Change Happens and sets out the latest thinking on how citizens and others can drive progressive change.

Iterate John Sharp, Colleen Macklin, 2024-04-09. How to confront, embrace, and learn from the unavoidable failures of creative practice with case studies that range from winemaking to animation. Failure is an inevitable part of any creative practice. As game designers, John Sharp and Colleen Macklin have grappled with crises of creativity, false starts, and bad outcomes. Their tool for coping with the many varieties of failure, iteration, the cyclical process of conceptualizing, prototyping, testing, and evaluating. Sharp and Macklin have found that failure, often hidden, covered up a source of embarrassment, is the secret ingredient of iterative creative process. In Iterate, they explain how to fail better. After laying out the four components of creative practice: intention, outcome, process, and evaluation, Sharp and Macklin describe iterative methods from a wide variety of fields. They show, for example, how Radiolab cohosts Jad Abumrad and Robert Krulwich experiment with radio as a storytelling medium; how professional skateboarder Amelia Brunka develops skateboarding tricks through trial and error; and how artistic polymath Miranda July explores human frailty through a variety of media and techniques. Whimsical illustrations tell parallel stories of iteration as hard-working cartoon figures bake cupcakes, experiment with levitating office chairs, and think outside the box in toothbrush design let s add propellers All in their various ways use iteration to transform failure into creative outcomes With Iterate Sharp and Macklin offer useful lessons for anyone interested in the creative process Case Studies Allison Tauziet winemaker Matthew Maloney animator Jad Abumrad and Robert Krulwich Radiolab cohosts Wylie Dufresne chef Nathalie Pozzi architect and Eric Zimmerman game designer Andy Milne jazz musician Amelia Br dka skateboarder Baratunde Thurston comedian Cas Holman toy designer Miranda July writer and filmmaker
