The Xenophobes Guide To The Aussies:

Xenophobe's Guide to the Aussies Ken Hunt, Mike Taylor, 2008-12 Appearances are deceptive Never make the error of underestimating the Aussies They love to portray a casual disregard for everything around them but no one accidentally achieves a lifestyle as relaxed as theirs Logic down under Aussies will twist any statistics to their own ends One statistic doing the rounds was that 40% of drivers in accidents had been drinking Since this left 60% of drivers who hadn't had a drop but who still had accidents it must obviously be safer to drink and drive Let's talk strine The Aussies are not subtle and neither is their language They will say what they mean The problem is that the words they use don't always mean what they say For example bluey someone who has red hair you're orright you are absolutely super its a bit warm it is probably 120F in the water bag water bags are always hung in the shade that'd be right I don't believe it either Out in the outback Nature is the biggest single influence on the Aussie attitude And a very harsh and unforgiving influence it is Reality totally uncontrollable is never far outside the suburban limits

The Xenophobe's Guide to the Aussies Ken Hunt, 1993 This is one of a series of guides designed to tell the truth about other nations using sweeping generalizations and observations as a base detailing what to expect and how to cope with it The guides try to explain why things are done the way they are and they try to allay the feelings of trepidation with which the xenophobe approaches new territory This particular book looks at Australians
