This volume provides an excellent overview of the field of discourse processes capturing both its breadth and its depth. World renowned researchers present the latest theoretical developments and thought provoking empirical data. In doing so they cover a broad range of communicative activities including text comprehension, conversational communication, argumentation, television or media viewing and more. A central theme across all chapters concerns the notion that coherence determines the interpretation of the communication. The various chapters illustrate the many forms that coherence can take and explore its role in different communicative settings.

I Saw an Angel in the Stone and I Carved to Set it Free Doug

Whitener, 2019-08-01 The imagery of a sculptor chipping away to free an angel from the stone suggests the idea that children have miraculous human qualities that can be released if a sculptor takes the time to free the child. In this book Doug Whitener asserts that parents and teachers are the lead sculptors who can help free children to live meaningful and responsible lives. Mr Whitener draws upon forty five years of experience as a parent and as an educator to outline key child guidance ideas. The reader is treated to over forty stories that illustrate principles from real life events in homes and schools. The near death experiences Mr Whitener has had with cancer have caused him to celebrate every moment he has had as an educator of children. In each chapter the reader is invited to pause and reflect about his or her opportunities to appreciate childhood and to help children. Strengthen their Wings. Key child development concepts in the book include the following: unconditional love, critical learning activities, empathy development and relationship building, responsibilities, empowerment and child uniqueness, family mission statement. Key child discipline concepts in the book include the following: understanding yourself as an adult, positive modeling and support systems, defining discipline as a teaching learning process focused upon the development of inner discipline, determining expectations, teaching expectations and building competencies, understanding the purpose of misbehavior, meaningful logical consequences, restorative justice, the intensive care child. This book is a must read for parents, teachers, guidance counselors, school psychologists, family therapists and school principals. This amazing resource not only supports parents and teachers with numerous fantastic strategies to effectively provide discipline and love to students, it is written through Doug's remarkable life experiences. You will learn how to successfully incorporate respectful, solution oriented approaches to challenges faced in the classroom and home. You will discover the power of fundamental principles of child discipline through frequent real world examples ready for immediate application. You will finish the book feeling like you have just gained valuable advice from a parent and educator who knows exactly how it feels to be the Dad, Mom and/or teacher in today's world. Rick Harris, Director, Northern Nevada Tahoe Leadership Academy, Former Deputy Superintendent of Washoe County School District. Every page of this book expresses the author's optimism, belief in and appreciation for the good all children possess and the importance of discipline as a teaching learning process. I encourage parents, teachers, guidance counselors, school psychologists, family therapists and school counselors to invest the
