Liberating Schools David Boaz,1991-06-01 For the past decade Americans have been intensely concerned with the quality of American education which is hardly surprising given the importance of education to society and the growing evidence of problems in American education Nowhere are those problems more severe than in our inner cities where learning has all but ceased in many schools It was concern about inner city children that led the Cato Institute to convene a conference Education and the Inner City in Washington in October 1989 Most of the chapters in this volume were originally presented at that conference As concern about the quality of American education begins to lead Mericans toward major structural reforms the Cato Institute is pleased to present these essays We believe they make a major contribution to the national debate on education reform

EdPsych Modules Cheryl Cisero Durwin, Marla Reese-Weber, 2016-12-01 Now with SAGE Publications Cheryl Cisero Durwin and Marla Reese Weber's EdPsych Modules uses an innovative implementation of case studies and a modular format to address the challenge of effectively connecting theory and research to practice. Each module is a succinct stand-alone topic that represents every subject found in traditional chapter texts and can be used in any order for maximum flexibility in organizing your course. Each of the book's eight units of modules begins with a set of four case studies: early childhood, elementary, middle school, and secondary, and ends with Assess and Reflect and Evaluate questions and activities to encourage comprehension and application of the research and theories presented. The case approach and the extensive pedagogy that support it allows students to constantly see the applications of the theories and research that they are studying in the text.

THE MISFITS GO TO IRAN Peg Coffey, 2025-02-24 Moving to Iran will be the experience of a lifetime. It was the truest thing my father ever said. Even before I left our home in California, I learned change involves both loss and gain. Hamburgers can make the pain of a shot go away, and everyone must sacrifice for the good of others. Sometimes the world was a different place. In 1955, World War Two was over, Europe was rebuilding from the destruction of the war, and the First World countries were experiencing an economic boom. Iran, the United States, and England were friends, and the Shah of Iran allowed the US Navy to use areas in his country for military planes. My father's job was to take pictures of Russia's missile silos being built after World War Two. My brother and I were sometimes called little rascals in California, but to be completely real, our whole family leaned sideways. That is why I characterized my family as misfits. This book is a child's view of her family living as aliens in another country. Many childhood memories are often fuzzy, but Iran was different enough for me to pay attention and remember.
